Tipper Cup tournament officials report that only the women's singles remain to be played in the tennis tourney at the Dallas Re Center. Drew Ragan is the champion of the men's singles competition, with Keith Holt the runner up. Marge Janosik and Joyce Vloedman won the title in the women's doubles, while Gail Barket and Judith Daley took second.

Statewide honors have been awarded to Beth Ann Gober, 11, for the artwork she entered in the Poppy Poster Contest conducted by the American Legion Auxiliary last spring.

The Little Red Hen was a visitor in Dallas last week when Linda Brady and Michelle Thomas brought the nursery rhyme character to life through the wizardry of construction paper, cardboard, and Scotch tape - lots of Scotch tape. The girls, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. James Thomas and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Brady, hit upon the idea of staging a play at the Back Mountain Memorial Library Tuesday morning.

50 YEARS AGO

A 20-year-old Dallas boy pulled a middle aged man out of the ocean at Atlantic City last Wednesday. Lifeguards took over the job of resuscitation.

Jimmie Wentzel, graduate of West Side Central Catholic High School and about to enter the sophomore class at King's College, is on night duty at the Morton Hotel, at the desk. During the day, he swims as well as sleeps. Seeing a man beyond his depth and floundering helplessly, Jimmie dived in for him and brought him to shore.

His father is chief plant scheduler at Linear Inc. The family lives on Davenport Street.

Robert Voelker will be installed tomorrow night as postmaster of the Shavertown Post Office, an appointment which was confirmed July 2.

A mail carrier on Route 37, Luzerne, for the past thirteen years, he will deliver mail today for the last time.

John Wormeck, 13, got home from Boy Scout Jamboree in Colorado Tuesday night, with just time left to pack for a two weeks trip to Camp Tuscarora near Binghamton, where his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Wormeck of Meadowcrest, left him at 10 a.m., already surrounded by Boy Scouts who wanted to see some of the loot he had brought home from the International encampment.

Folks who knew John, were able to spot him briefly on World-Wide 60 Saturday night on T.V. John was going through the obstacle race when the shutter snapped.

A close-up of President Eisenhower Sunday morning was one of the high spots of the encampment for John, with the rodeo and a good look at Trigger's colt running a close second.

Norman Smith says that the picture of the Huntsville Methodist Church festooned with bees, which recently appeared in the Wilkes-Barre Record, does not tell the whole of the story. The illustration shows the bees swarming over the top of a stained glass window but does not hint at the bees which are working away inside the clapboards or the two queen bees buried beneath the surface.

The two small colonies note in June have merged into one huge colony, with thousands of bees collecting late summer honey.

John Headman, veteran bee keeper at Huntsville, looked over the situation early in June when the activity was first noted, and gave it as his opinion that building a comb would not harm the woodwork, as the bees had already laid a foundation of protective wax. The only way to remove the bees at this point is to exterminate them, right in the middle of their busy season, a measure which no bee lover could contemplate.

The consensus of bee-fanciers is that when the bees become dormant with the onset of cold weather, the entire colony can be moved.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Group thankful for publicity

Dear Editor:

On behalf of the Lake-Lehman Foundation (LLF), thank you for The Dallas Post's excellent coverage of the foundation's third annual golf tournament on July 16. A special thanks to Charlotte Bartizek whose photos captured the essence of the event.

This annual golf tournament is the LLF's main fundraiser of the year. All proceeds benefit the students of the Lake-Lehman School District.

As a result of last year's tour-namment, the foundation purchased equipment for the Lake-Lehman High School Wellness Center and assisted with the purchase of a motorized cart which is used by the entire school district.

The Lake-Lehman Foundation could not do all that it does without the support of our community. Thank you for helping us in our efforts on behalf of the Lake-Lehman School District.
