

CIVIC BRIEFS

Residents cautioned about solicitation

The Kingston Township Board of Supervisors and Kingston Township Police Department remind township residents to be careful of door to door solicitation. Solicitation is allowed in Kingston Township with a township permit obtained at the Kingston Township Municipal Building. Anyone approached should request to view the permit. All solicitants should have the permit with them and, by ordinance, make it available for inspection. Residents with concerns should contact the Kingston Township Police Department at 696-1175.

Residents can have insurance lowered

The Kingston Township Board of Supervisors reminds residents to contact their local fire company to determine if they live in an area where fire hydrants have been located, resulting in the lowering of the ISO (Insurance Services Office) ratings. The Shavertown Volunteer Fire Company can be reached at 675-1302. The Trucksville Fire Company can be reached at 696-1871. Insurance companies use the ISO rating to help determine costs. Residents living in an area where the rating has changed should notify their insurance carrier to see if the ISO change will have an effect on insurance costs.
