

PHOTOGRAPHS DISPLAYED AT LIBRARY

The December exhibit at the Back Mountain Memorial Library's Art Display Wall is a collection of photography by Carole Kennelly of Trucksville. Kennelly became interested in photography in her early 20s when she lived in England. After purchasing her first SLR camera, she then took an evening class to learn basic camera techniques. Some of these photographs of areas throughout Europe are featured in her exhibit; as well as pictures from her family trip to Acadia National Park in Maine and Seneca Lake. Her favorite photograph depicts a view looking through trees out to the bay.
