Sue Hand's artwork displayed at bank

The Forty Fort branch of the Citizens Bank is hosting an exhibit of work by Sue Hand, Dallas, titled "Along the Avenue: Our Valley Neighborhoods."

The exhibit includes easily recognized areas of Pittston, West Pittston, Forty Fort and Wyoming, including several scenes from "high places." Two were created while standing on the roof of the old Pittston Hospital and one is from a view of the old Harry E. Breaker site and the Valley beyond from an airplane.

Sue Hand is a nationally-recognized artist who has been drawing and painting her entire lifetime. She is best known for her works of the coast of Maine and Cape May as well as Northeastern Pennsylvania.

This exhibit will be on display in the lobby of the Citizens Bank, corner of Wyoming Avenue and Welles Street, Forty Fort, through the end of February.

This original watercolor painting of Darte Hall on the campus of Wyoming Seminary is one of many paintings of Sue Hand on exhibit in the lobby of the Citizens Bank, corner of Wyoming Avenue and Welles Street, Forty Fort, through the end of February.
