Students to attend conference

Danielle Spencer and Megan Fleming, both sophomores at Dallas High School, will attend the National Youth Leadership Conference in Philadelphia in July.

Both girls are members of the Junior Honor Society. In eighth-grade, they were teammates for Mathcounts competition where Spencer placed seventh in the individual competition and the team placed sixth overall.

They recently volunteered in the clean up of Toby's Creek organized by United Water.

Both girls have played soccer for the Back Mountain Youth Soccer Association for several years and both have been members of the Dallas High School volleyball team for the past two years.

Individually, Spencer has donated her hair to Locks of Love, held positions in Student Council and the steering committee at Dallas. She is a member of the LifeSmarts Club where she participated in station competition on February 24 and is on the track team where she medaled in districts during her freshman year.

She has also been selected by the school faculty to act as ambassador for the Dallas

Megan Fleming, left, and Danielle Spencer, both sophomores at Dallas High School, will attend the National Youth Leadership Conference in Philadelphia in July. They sell lollipops at Dallas athletic events to raise funds to attend the conference.

High School to the Hugh O'Brian Youth Leadership Conference in May.

Fleming is a member of Science Olympiad where she placed first in eighth-grade in the anatomy competition and 12th in disease detectives while her team placed fifth overall and participated in the state level competition.

She has also attended the National Youth Leadership State Conference which focuses on workshops and improves leadership skills. She is a member of the International Club and mini-thons.

Both girls attend Dallas sporting events to sell lollipops, candy and water in hopes of raising money for the leadership conference tuition.
