YOUNG readers

The Back Mountain Memorial Library participated in Pennsylvania's One Book, Every Young Child program by presenting a special One Book program on May 12 in the Children's Room of the library.

Volunteer Jean Grube read the PA One book, entitled "Whose Shoes? A Shoe for Every Job" by Stephen R. Swinburne, to the children and led them in songs, fingerplays and puppet fun.

Grube is an adjunct faculty member of Misericordia University in the Fine Arts Department where she teaches voice. She is also the director of the youth choirs at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Lehman.

Each child in attendance received a paperback copy of the book, stickers, a bookmark and a parent's guide to reading fun.

Enjoying his new book is 4-year old Nathan Patla, of Harveys Lake, at the Back Mountain Memorial Library's One Book -Every Young Child Program.

Youths invited to reading program

Children (all ages), tweens and teens are invited to celebrate and join the 2011 Summer Reading Program, "One World, Many Stories," at the Back Mountain Memorial Library beginning Flag Day, Tuesday, June 14.

Each child or teen will receive a logbook to record the titles of books read over the summer and they will earn prizes along the way.

In addition, there will be many special programs throughout the summer and a fun around the world contest each week. Special program lists will be available in the Children's Room on the day of registration.

Everyone who completes the program by reading eight books will receive a certificate and a grand prize and be invited to a final party with rewards, fun, food and entertainment.

Registration begins June 14. For more information, call the library at 675-1182 visit backmountainlibrary.org.
