Players prepare to present 'Sinbad'

The "Take The Stage Players" will begin their second season of community plays at 6 p.m. on Friday, May 18 and Sunday, May 20 with the presentation of a creative and funny tale of the seven voyages of "Sinbad the Sailor." The "open-air" performance will be held at the Back Mountain Memorial Library in Dallas with lawn seating and proceeds benefiting the library. Tickets are available the night of the show and are $3 for children 10 years of age and under and $5 for adults. The story of Sinbad's adventures is narrated by four "poor travelers," Arlequin (the trickster) played by Karl Kleist; Punchin (a big-nosed boaster) played by David Sebolka; Columbine (the clever troupe leader) played by Caitlyn Metz; and Rosetta (a prissy lady) played by Allyson Sebolka.

During the 2011 summer season, the "Take the Stage Players" donated over $1,000 from the four shows held between May and August to the Back Mountain Memorial Library. More than 30 children ages 5 to 18 participated in the shows. Anyone interested in participating in the shows for July and August can contact Christina Metz at 690-5439.
