PAGE 10

LITTLE LEAGUE ALL-STAR ROUNDUP

BMT Stars shine in post-season play

Michael Anderson picked up a win, striking out five over the final four innings hits and three RBI but BMT to lead BMT American past National went down, 9-8, to Kingston/Forty Fort, 14-7, Exeter. in the winners' bracket Trey Leo had a double and semi-final.

fense, going 3-4 with a singles and RBI for BMT home run and two RBI. Ma- National. Matt Dillon also son Gattuso, Ethan Zawat- had a double for BMT Naski and Michael Luksic all tional. homered as well while Michael Doggett knocked in three runs. Michael Bozentka homered to lead the Kingston/FF offense.

BMT American 10 BMT National 0

a victory for BMT American final. in the opening game of the District 31 11-Year-Old All- BMT 15-hit attack by going Star Tournament as Amer- 4-4 with two home runs, inican defeated BMT Nation- cluding a grand slam and al. 10-0.

son and Michael Luksic all while Derek Answini and homered to lead the BMT Darren Kerdesky added two American offense.

BMT National.

Exeter 9

BMT National 8

Steven Newell had two two RBI while Nick Kachur Anderson led the BMT of- and Kris Smiga each had

BMT American 13 West Pittston 1

Ethan Zawatski, Michael Luksic and Dalton Simpson combined to hold West Pittston to four singles and lead BMT American to a 13-1 vic-Ethan Zawatski picked up tory in the winners bracket Zawatski also led the six RBI. Luksic added three Zawatski, Michael Ander- hits along with a home run hits each.

Nick Kacher and Kyle Michael Doggett tripled Hromisin both had hits for while Zane Nardone, Simpson and Mason Gattuso all added hits to close out the BMT offense.

THE DALLAS POST

Continued from Page 1

ship, said the children's auction gives youngsters a chance to act like grownups during the iconic Back Mountain event.

"It gives children the opportunity to bid because they see their parents doing it," she said. "I know my son follows by example. He's away right now, so I'm his surrogate bidder."

Jackie Dwinchick, of Moosic, got into a heated bidding war for a pink bike with training wheels as the temperature rose on the hot and hazy morning.

Dwinchick, whose father-inlaw Joe is one of the many longtime auction volunteers, lasted until the price of the bike rose to $50, when she graciously bowed out of the duel. Her niece, 4-year-old Emma Singleton, didn't seem to mind. "It was too much," she said.

"But a typical bike like that would be about $75 in stores."

Dwinchick went to the aucdeals and enjoying the atmo- ing the event. sphere and thinks the chila chance to experience the dolls." event on a different level.

Even at the young age of 4, Singleton knew what she wanted.

"Emma's looking for climb-Dwinchick.

Seven-year-old Kira Pomrinke, of Dallas, walked around with her grandmother, Glenda, tion every night looking for scoping out the good buys dur-"I'll bid on anything," said dren's auction gives youngsters Kira. "I like stuffed animals and Though Kira was doing the bidding, grandmother and her pocketbook were on hand to offer guidance and greenbacks. "I'd tell her, 'Don't want it ing toys and Carebears," said too much," said Glenda, an auction veteran.

Auction runners Alex Perry, left, of Dallas, and Ethan Kolojejchick, of Trucksville, both of Boy Scout Troop 281, look over video games to be auctioned off at the Back Mountain Memorial Library Children's Auction.

BILL TARUTIS PHOTOS/FOR THE DALLAS POST

Sunday, July 15, 2012

Ann Marie Carey, right, of Shavertown, and Molly Matosky, of Monroe Township, watch 4-year-old Jaxon Carey, of Shavertown, check out $38 worth of Star Wars merchandise they bought at the Back Mountain Memorial Library Children's Auction.

BILL TARUTIS/FOR THE DALLAS POST

Brian Selenski, right, talks about his daughter Paige, a member of the U.S. field hockey team and a 2008 graduate of Dallas High School, with his son Greg at their home in Shavertown.

YMPI(

Continued from Page 1

the games, and even when she parent her. Her mom and dad are wasn't feeling well she would huge contributors to her sucwatch the games from the car."

Brian believes that kind of hockey star so motivated.

"I think part of her playing is during a game."

tinued to excel throughout her when it was announced." career at Dallas. Stauffer, who played field hockey at a New Jer- she's big sister to 18-year-old sey high school that produced Greg and younger sibling to 25-Olympians, said Selenski was a year-old Brad. Her father said no "quiet leader" whose passion one else in the family has forayed and dedication for the sport into sports as extensively as his were always apparent.

"The girl knew what she was things that were God-given to said Brian Selenski. her in terms of skill and desire to be successful. She was always ex- interesting ride watching his sistremely passionate about com- ter rise through the field hockey peting. Hockey was her thing."

Robyn Jones, a Dallas High former field hockey coach, plans around it for a while." to attend the 2012 Olympic watch Selenski perform.

the game on July 31, when the daughter's last. United States team faces Argenwar."

Jones believes it's the support World Cup.' that Selenski received throughout the years that contributes to the rest of the family are enjoy-

"Paige's success as a student en talent and third, her innate Olympics?"

intelligence," said Jones. "And very importantly, her family upbringing. Judy was very invested in her daughter, academically and athletically, and Dad has done a wonderful job since Judy got sick she would still go to see passed away of continuing to cess. Brian Selenski said response support is what keeps the field from the community has been overwhelming.

"When she was first named to for my wife," he said. "I think it the team, the phone never stopgets her adrenaline up, especial- ped ringing," he said. "Even Roly when she gets into a slump byn Jones and the principal at Dallas said the phones at the Selenski pressed on and con- school were ringing off the hook

Selenski is the middle child daughter.

"The boys played Little doing," said Stauffer. "She had a League and soccer, and Greg is lot of drive, and there were many now recreationally into golf,"

> Greg Selenski said it's been an ranks.

"It's been an experience," he School guidance counselor and said. "Our vacations revolved

But as the young woman pre-Games in London this month to pares to take on international teams in London, Brian Selenski "I'm especially excited about is sure the games won't be his

"I don't think this is going to tina," she said. "It's going to be a be the end," he said. "I think she's going to stay on for the

Until then, Brian Selenski and the field hockey player's success. ing Paige's Olympic success.

"Sometimes I think it's a athlete can be attributed to, first dream," he said. "I mean, what and foremost, her tenacious are the chances that your son or work ethic, second, her God-giv- daughter is going to play at the

Dr. Leonard Medura notes 40th anniversary

The staff of Watkins & Medura Family and Cosmetic Dental Center recently celebrated the 40th year of Dr. Leonard Medura Sr.'s private practice at a luncheon at Leggio's Ristorante in Dallas.

Medura said the actual date of his foray into private dentistry was July 5, 1972 - shortly after the flood caused by Hurricane Agnes caused the evacuation of the Wyoming Valley.

"It was a crazy era in which we started," said Medura, who practiced dentistry in the U.S. Navy for three years before joining Dr. Scott Watkins. "A lot of dentists lost their practices, and we got busy from the get-go. People that were displaced and needed a dentist, we were there for them."

The practice got its start in Shavertown and eventually people that keep him coming to den, which he treasures. work each day.

"I'm not working full-time hours, but I don't think I could just retire," he said.

Staff member Mary Majewski has worked for Medura since 1980 and enjoys seeing the gen- a card from his staff at a erations of families coming back luncheon celebrating his 40 to the office and the atmosphere of the company.

BILL TARUTIS PHOTOS/FOR THE DALLAS POST

Members of the Watkins & Medura Family and Cosmetic Dental Center gather for a photo at Leggio's Restaurant in Dallas as they celebrate Dr. Leonard Medura Sr.'s 40 years in dentistry. From left, are Kathy Ardoline, Heather Ricko, Mary Majewski, Vickie Noyalis, Donna Martin, Jennifer Clarke, Dr. William Watkins, Dr. Leonard Medura Sr., Dr. Scott Watkins, Tracey White, Dr. Leonard Medura Jr., Kathy Capitan, Jody Pearson, Laurie Malesky, and Lynda Newirth. The luncheon was sponsored by Schein Dental Company.

"We're like a family," she said. Majewski said the staff gifted moved to Dallas. Medura, 69, Medura with the ability to buy said it's not the teeth, but the more plants for his home gar-

> RIGHT PHOTO: Dr. Leonard Medura laughs while reading years in dentistry at Leggio's Restaurant in Dallas.

BRIEF DelGaudio named to dean's list Maria DelGaudio, of Dal- las, has been named to the dean's list at Elizabethtown College for the spring 2012 semester. She is a sopho- more. To earn this recognition, students must earn a semes- ter grade point average of 3.60 or better in 14 or more credit hours, of which at least 12 credits are letter-graded course work.	 PUZZLE ANSWERS Conserved – Answers Colution time: 27 mins. CAPES POWOBJ AGAVE ORA POE POSER TASTERS TRIBAL ORES SHE FAT STARE OURS COCOA DENIRO ALLEGE LANDS SAL MONEY WEBSLY AMAN BASEST MASTERY AHEAD AHA RAN TORSO SAL AGE SENSE 	Go Figure!						Puzzles, Page 2 Super Crossword Answers PutAINIE
		5	.	1	+	8	13	A N T A L I D E A L L Y O L A P A R N O T H I N G I N L I F E O L Y M P I A
		+		+		.		FIDO SCROLL SELES HEART OBTAIN INURE ALFA EASTER ABREAST
		9	÷	3	+	4	7	A O I R A T E D A K A R A T O N R I G O F D A R C Y UMLAUT
		÷		+		+		A Y A I L S CHA H I H JONIC DI BS PIERIL LAMAS TED ALLSI EN WHOLEFAMILY MAESTROKARATE
		7	+	6		3	10	WAUST PERUSE CRANE BRENT ADONIS SALE
		2		10		5		LOFT EN JERRYSEINFELD ICU STU ARIADNE CEASE OKS HEX ANGST YEMEN
					15			5