Bee workshop planned

North Branch Land Trust is offering its members and their guests the opportunity to see and learn about honeybees on its Howland Preserve located five miles west of Tunkhannock.

Kevin Baker, professional beekeeper, will present an Introduction to Bees Workshop at The Howland Preserve at 1 p.m. on Saturday, July 13.

He will present a discussion about the business of beekeeping, the decline of honeybees and why they are so important to our ecosystem.

Baker will explain and demonstrate all the equipment necessary for keeping honeybees and then lead a walk to the actual apary to see the bees at work.

With favorable conditions, harvesting some honey might be possible.

As a full-time beekeeper, Baker maintains more than 30 hives in three northeastern Pennsylvania counties.

He also specializes in removing bees from buildings.

The event is free to NBLT members and $10 for guests. Registration is required and directions will be given upon registration.

Register by emailing romanasky@nblt.org or by calling 696-5545.
