Powder Puff football game puts cheerleaders on field, players on sideline

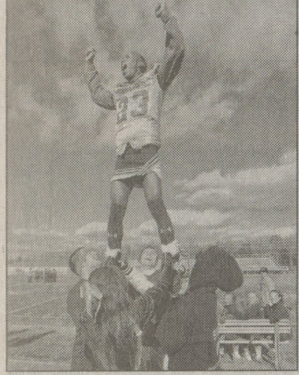

It was a complete role reversal at a Powder Puff football game held Nov. 3 at the Dallas High School football stadium. Mountaineer cheerleaders took to the field to raise money for Candy's Place in Forty fort while members of the football team cheered them on from the sideline.

Local man visits LL World Series

Charles Hoyt, of Huntsville, visited the Little League Museum in Williamsport on Aug. 16, the first day of the 2013 Little League World Series.

Hoyt and his wife, Dorothy, met with Adam Thompson, curator of the museum, and donated a baseball patch and a photo of the team Hoyt pitched for in 1950. That team was sponsored by Golden Quality Ice Cream Co. and the patch was from the St. Theresa's Little League in south Wilkes-Barre.

Thompson told the Hoyts he is planning an exhibit of patches and pictures in the future.

The Hoyts were given a special pass for reserved seating behind home plate at all Little League games that day.
