

FRANCESKA KASPER LAWSON CONCERT

A Great Musical Treat in Store for Mount Joy

The second number of the Red Cross Star Course will be given in the Mount Joy Hall, March 16, 1918 by Franceska Kasper Lawson of Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Lawson's splendid success throughout the South and East leads her to seek recognition in other localities. She has appeared before musical organizations of great prominence and educational institutions on several occasions and has been frequently re-engaged elsewhere. Mrs. Lawson has always been most cordially received and highly complimented on her ability.

It will be seen that a great treat is in store for the people of Mount Joy, who are fortunate enough to have secured seats for this concert. It is a rare thing for a person of Mrs. Lawson's fame and ability to appear before an audience in a town the size of Mount Joy.

Fell in Boarding a Car

In attempting to board a moving Lancaster and Elizabethtown trolley car in Penn. Square on Saturday afternoon, Henry Baker, of Landisville, tripped and fell, sustaining a laceration of the forehead. The car was stopped and he boarded it, being bound to get home.

Lieut. Alvin Shonk, who is stationed at Camp Pike, Little Rock, Arkansas, is now in the Hospital there. There is nothing serious the matter and in a few days expects to be about his duties again. He likes his work and says he is treated fine.
