Young Shad Liberated in the Delaware.

The United States Fish Commissioners have liberated 900,000 young shad in the Delaware river near Milford. The abundance of this excellent fish during this season has demonstrated the wisdom of protecting them, for not in many years have so many fine shad been taken from the river here. There were many of them salted down or smoked for summer use.

AN OLD PROJECT REVIVED.

In connection with the Delaware Valley R. R. would be a Short Cut to Philadelphia.

The talk of building a steam railroad from Stroudsburg to the Wind Gap has been revived and meetings held to further the scheme. Col. John Jameson, of Bloomsburg, Pa., A. F. Baker, of Norristown, Pa., both railroad contractors, are promoting it. A committee was appointed, and the following was written and signed by the committee before adjourning:

"At a meeting of the board of trade and citizens of this town, assembled in the Burnett House, for the purpose of taking steps towards the building of a railroad from Stroudsburg to Wind Gap, the following proposition was made by Messrs. Jameson and Baker, viz: That for every dollar that the citizens of the county would subscribe to the enterprise, the said contractors agree to bring two dollars. The amount necessary for the people of Stroudsburg and vicinity to raise was fixed at $40,000 and the following committee was appointed for the purpose of visiting the business men and property holders and soliciting subscriptions for the stock. The committee are of the earnest opinion that the railroad would be of untold benefit to this borough and through the portions of the county in which it will run. This is the best proposition we have had and we should do all in our power to accept the proposition of the contractors and push the railroad to completion.

R. B. KELLER, Pres., V. C. PETERS, Secy., JOHN T. PALMER, DR. A. LEBAIL, WM. GULICK.

COL. JAMESON INTERVIEWED.

A Times representative interviewed Promoter Jameson in the Burnett House later in the evening. Asked for an estimate as to cost of completing construction the contractor thought about $12,000 per mile would be about the figure. He did not know at the present time if the old Page route would be used or not, but thought that the route as recently surveyed by Engineer A. F. Carrick, would be the most feasible, as it touched all the industries in that portion of the county. The Page route is nine and five-tenths miles long and the Carrick survey a mile or so longer.

Col. Jameson is one of the best known railroad men in the country, having built the Catawissa road from Milton to Williamsport, a distance of thirty-three miles; the northwest branch of the Catawissa to Wilkes-Barre, forty-five miles long; Bloomsburg & Sullivan R. R., thirty miles; Kalma branch of the P. & R., eight miles; Northern Penn for the P. & R., from Bradyville to New Hope, a distance of seventeen miles; Harrisburg & Potomac, seven miles; Williams Valley R. R., from Lykens to Brookside, twelve miles, and of which he is president.

Mr. Baker has been associated with him in several roads and has an enviable reputation as a constructionist.—Stroudsburg Times.

Health Board Meeting.

The Board of Health met June 16th and the two new members, E. Warner and Al. Terwilliger, having properly qualified took their seats. On motion E. Warner was elected president, J. H. Van Etten continued as secretary and Arthur McCarty as health officer. The regular meetings of the board were fixed on the last Friday evening of each month. The health officer was directed to make a tour of the borough at least once in every month to ascertain and maintain, and report same to the board.

Woman Killed at Port Jervis.

Mrs. Catharina Gilmartin residing on Jersey Avenue, Port Jervis was instantly killed on Monday last by being struck by a locomotive on the Monticello railroad at the Jersey avenue crossing. She was walking along and conversing with another woman, and evidently had no warning or information of the approaching train, and stepped on the track directly in front of the engine. The other woman saw what she thought to be a shadow and drew back the train barely missing her.

THE CHAUTAUQUA CIRCLE.

A Closing Entertainment of Much Interest and a Fine Programme Rendered.

The closing exercises of the Milford C. L. S. were held Friday evening June 12 at the home of Mrs. Frank Crissman. A large company of invited guests was present to enjoy the literary and musical entertainment which was of a high order and evinced talents of which any village might justly feel proud.

The program rendered was: Roll call by the Secretary Miss Lillie Mott, each member responding with a choice quotation. A piano duet by the Misses Mott was well rendered and a fitting prelude to the numbers which followed. Mr. Bonsall was next heard in a vocal solo "Last night" and for an encore gave "La Ramoux." He has an excellent voice which though not of great compass is clear, distinct and cultivated. His singing was one of the pleasant features of the evening.

Mrs. Frank Crissman then rendered "The Pipes of Locknow". This pathetic poem is founded on the surrounding of a British fort in India by Sepoys and at a moment when the beleaguered soldiers expect the fort to be stormed and they put to death, they hear the glad sound of the pibroch which announced that relief was at hand. Mrs. Crissman gave the audience a genuine surprise for though her talents as a reader are recognized and established, in this little poem, she brought out new lights and shadows of feeling by her mastery rendition, and beautiful conception of the exact spirit of the poet.

A quartette composed of Mrs. Williamson, Mrs. Bonsall, Miss Bennett and Frank Cross sang with good effect, and responded to the encore.

Rev. W. R. Neff amused the company by a brief summary of the work of the society as having watched the development of the nation, and closed his remarks with an effective bit of satire on his own profession.

Miss Gallagher gave a vocal solo "Land of Song" which produced such a happy effect that she further delighted her hearers with a little song "Don't be cross". The Misses Mott then favored the assembly with Mazurka on the violin and piano. After which Mrs. Crissman read a carefully prepared essay on Margaret Fuller. It would be unjust to attempt any summary of this able paper. It was written from an admirer's stand point of a woman of whom it was said many years ago by an eminent philosopher and intellect worshipper that "Acute on documents may belong to the great system of human progress which with every ascending footstep as it diminishes the necessity for animal force, may be destined gradually to spiritualize us by refining away our grosser attributes of body."

Margaret Fuller was the embodiment of intellect without the spiritualizing influence usually attributable to women. She had no religion, but was a transcendentalist of the Schelling type, and belonged to that coterie of philosophers, which seeks from a purely intellectual ground to have a true knowledge of all things human and divine so far as the mind is capable of knowing.

Mr. Bonsall again delighted the company with a vocal solo with the president, Rev. Thos. Nichols made the closing address. He was in a happy vein as he portrayed the work of the society during the winter and pointed to the dizzy heights to which they had scaled and to the profound depths of philosophy and metaphysics which they had penetrated in their researches for knowledge. It seems they have been wrestling with a book on Scripture and from the comments of the learned speaker it might be supposed that Mr. Scripture had by some miracle escaped the lynx-eyed Mr. Bok, or he would to-day be editing the metaphysical column of the Ladies' Home Journal.

Regrets were expressed that Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Johnson, who were the originators and prime movers in organizing the society here, and who were considered as its most efficient and zealous members were absent.

Refreshments were provided at the close and an hour spent in social intercourse. The members are to be congratulated on the excellence of the entertainment, and all came away with the feeling that the evening had been one of pleasure and profit.

Rev. W. R. Neff of the M. E. Church will go to Forest Lake, August 18th to hold services at the Club House, and Rev. W. G. Myles of Dinneman's Ferry will fill an appointment at that place Aug. 9th. It is the rule of the Association to have services every Sabbath during the summer, and an excellent rule it is for all such Associations to adopt.

Mrs. Alice Gallup, well known to Milford people and a sister of Mrs. O. P. Howell, of Port Jervis, will give an edifying entertainment at the Presbyterian Chapel in that place this (Friday) evening. Besides, there will be several vocal and instrumental selections rendered by prominent musicians. The tickets are 25 cents and the proceeds for the benefit of the Women's League.

Miss Cornelia T. Palmage, daughter of the late Rev. Geym Palmage, of Somerville, N. J., arrived in town yesterday on Train One and is the guest of Rev. Dr. and Mrs. S. W. Mills. She is accompanied by Mrs. Sanborn, of Somerville, daughter of Mr. Peter Dewitt. Mrs. Sanborn is visiting Mrs. F. R. Broadhead. These ladies expect to visit Milford before their return.—Gazette.

Prof. Maxwell Sommerville and wife will sail July 2nd on the steamer Columbia of the Hamburg-American line for a tour to the "Land of the Mid-night Sun". The itinerary will include Norway, the North Cape and Spitzbergen. The trip will occupy about two months. The Press will keep the Professor informed as to Pike county folks during his absence.

AT THE M. E. CHURCH.

Children's Day Exercises Held Last Sunday.

The children's day exercises held Sunday evening in the M. E. Church were very pretty and impressive. The members of the Sunday school led by Mr. Neff and Supt. DeWitt marched up the aisle and occupied the front seats.

The programme prepared by the Board of Education for the occasion was as follows:

Singing by the School. Prayer, Rev. W. R. Neff. Responsive Scripture Reading by School led by Mr. Wm. Angle. Singing by Congregation.

"The Crusades" introductory address by Daisy DeWitt. "The Crusades were Holy wars against Jerusalem, our crusade to-day is to take this world for Christ."

THREE ARMIES OF CRUSADES. 1st Division. Primary class. MOTTO: "We are the army of the future." 2nd Division. Temperance class. Capt. Brown. Roy Sterling, Wallace Detrick, Claude Cuddeback.

TEMPERANCE LESSONS. "The Boy That Fell," four little girls. "The Boy That Stood," four little girls. TEMPERANCE MOTION SONG. 2nd Division. Anti-Saloon Cadets. Capt. W. Detrick. 3rd Division. Good Conduct Band. Capt. Sadie Wacker.

Song by the School. Report of "The Good Citizenship Brigade," Harry Armstrong. Report of "Loyal American League," Anna May Watson. Singing by the School. Report of "Conquering Legion," May Yonney. Report of "Student Recruits," Lewis Gregory. Singing by Congregation.

Mr. Neff then gave a very interesting object lesson, exhibiting two small high silk hats, which did service in place of collection plates, thus reviving an old Methodist custom. The black hat was offered to anyone contributing five dollars, but the white one typical to many of our political campaigns was not to be purchased, having come a long distance for this special occasion.

Before investigating the contents of the black hat two five dollar bills were found. This was an unlocked for contingency, but Mr. Neff in order to keep his promise, offered to find, if possible, another similar hat. The little hat winners were Lancelotto Wilson, grandson of Mr. L. Armstrong, and Ruth Armstrong, little daughter of Mr. Thos. Armstrong.

The exercises were closed with singing and the congregation dismissed with the benediction by the pastor.

—The Borough is improving the streets by cleaning out the grass and grading.

—The graduating class of the East Stroudsburg Normal numbers over 100.

—Hon. Henry Honck defeated his opponent for the Congressional nomination by a majority of 1,285.

—The Jordan House is receiving a fresh coat of paint, and the grounds are being improved and beautified.

—The Forest Lake Association Club House is now open and already has a number of guests.

—S. S. Knykendall, of Kingston, N. Y., bought $500,000 of water bonds of that city at a premium of one hundredth of one per cent.

—On account of the storm Children's Day exercises in the Presbyterian Church were postponed until next Sunday June 21st.

—County Treasurer Westbrook will offer a number of tracts of land for sale to-day (Friday) at 2 o'clock, at the Court House.

—We give the latest news up to the hour of going to press, of the St. Louis Convention. The platform will be found on another page.

—The Ladies' Aid Society of the Presbyterian Church met Thursday afternoon to arrange for their annual fair and festival to be held in August.

—Congressman Hart, of this district, was one of the number who voted against the River and Harbor bill in Congress being passed over the President's veto.

—The gravel bank at Cuddeback's is rapidly disappearing, and when the new road is opened, it will be a great improvement not only to the house but the road itself.

—Diphtheria is again on the increase at Allentown. At present ten houses are quarantined with the disease and, including other diseases, sixteen houses are under quarantine.

—Frank Barbell, of Kunkletown, has an apple tree which he budded last August, and now is bearing five fine apples. (We have a grafted tree in 1895 which now has over twenty-five fine apples on it. [Ed. Press.])

Ripans Tabules: one gives relief.

—The Press will begin next week the publication of a series of articles on sound currency. They will be made of interest to the reader and will contain a full, careful and exhaustive discussion of this all absorbing question.

—There is every indication that the grasshopper pest will be widespread this season. Reports from all parts of Pennsylvania and the counties in New York bordering on the Delaware state that these destroyers of vegetation are appearing in vast numbers.

—A German in a Pennsylvania village having married a second wife innocently soon after the funeral of the first, the young men of the town signified their disapproval by a tin horn serenade during the progress of the wedding feast. The groom expostulated in the following style: "I say, boys you ought to be ashamed of yourselves to be making all this noise when there was a funeral here so soon!"

—The Stroudsburg and Bushkill Telephone Company have been stringing wires and putting in phones this week for subscribers. There will be one in the Passaic office, at the Commissioners office, at Geo. Daumann's store and at Dr. H. E. Emerson's Drug store and at the Hotel Fauchere. A wire has also been run over to the Brick House in Montague, N. J., and one is to be run up to Grey towers.

—Some time ago the Press suggested that people might easily beautify their homes by planting roses. A practical illustration of this truth may be seen on the grounds of Messrs. E. Warner and Ed. Cahill on Broad street where several magnificent specimens are in full bloom, adorning the premises and gratifying the eyes of all who pass. Plant roses and flowers, they cultivate a taste for the beautiful, and make us all better by developing our finer natures.
