From Over the Sea.

Not even standing under the shadow of the wonders of the old monarchies can for a moment cloud the bright sunlight of home recollection, or wean for a transient interval the affection of a wanderer for his native land. He will even take the chances of incarceration for executing poetry, to express the ex-uberant feeling which wells up within his breast, as his mind reverts to the dingy vat of his dear land, even gazing on the enthone-ment of beer in its most gilded surroundings. We are in receipt of this sentiment written under the colored picture of the great Tun, Das grosse fass:

Dr. Henry Berkowitz, an eminent Jewish lecturer of Philadelphia, has been at Forest Park very recently in the interest of a Chautauqua Literary to be established at that place under the supervision of the Jews. It will be non-sectarian. There have been several offers of locations for the society but none have been so favorably considered as this, and if some details in regard to the land lace, et. ux. to Charles S. Ryman, can be satisfactorily arranged no dated Aug. 8, lots 103 and 109 on Ann doubt it will be located at that place. street, con. $550, ent'd Aug. 17. The estate of Jacob Ottenhei offered to donate fifty acres of land to build an auditorium, tabernacle, annex, bicycle course and boats. Dr Berkowitz has been giving a series of lectures in the line of work and last Sunday gave a detailed statement of the entire course, which it takes two years to complete. The study involves Jewish history and Biblical quotations. The doctor says in this his duty. enlightened age he does not think it proper for people to take the Bible as it was written, but to dissect it and discover if possible the hidden truths and meanings. Some sayings in the Bible are not proper for children to use and it is better to give them those things which would benefit them in their lives teaching them the true doctrines of Christ.

He afterwards solicited member-hip and received over one hundred names from guests at the house alone, and also a very handsome contribution in money. Should this project materialize it will probably be the means of building the long loped for valley railroad.
