MONTAGUE.

(Special Correspondence to the PRESS.)
MONTAGUE, Oct. 25.—The PIKE COUNTY PRESS has passed its first year of existence which must be very gratifying to the editor because it was predicted no Republic paper could live in Pike county three months, but may be Hixon don't live but his paper does and keeps improving.

The social held at the M. E. Church last Wednesday evening netted $63.32.

Henry Hunt, Esq., addressed a good sized audience in favor of sound money at Durrow's Hall last Thursday evening.

Some of our residents attended the Republican meeting at Port Jervis on Thursday evening.

Things are kept moving now. Here is the program for this week as far as known. Tuesday evening Oct. 27, Republican meeting at Brick House, Messrs Lybolt and Bennett, of Port Jervis will speak. Thursday evening Oct. 29th a ball at the Hainesville House. Friday evening Oct. 30 oyster supper and dance at Durrow's Hall, Tappanstown, under the management of Thos. Durton, Jr. Saturday evening Oct. 31, Democratic meeting at Hainesville to be addressed by Hon. Lewis Martin and Robert Johnson, of Newton.

Tuesday Nov. 3, Election, Wednesday Nov. 4th, start up Salt river of defeated party.

Mrs. Julia Kerr has sold sixty thousand mangoes this fall.

Mrs. Jane Cleveland (nee Vandy) a former resident of Montague, but now of Binghamton is visiting at Cedar Grove.

Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Van Eiten and family of Dover, N. J., visited Montague friends last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Everett, of East Orange, N. J., visited the families of Robert and George Armstrong last week.

Miss Sallie Kerr will return to her home at Newton to-morrow.

George and Van attended the Barber rally at Milford last Monday.

LAYTON.

(Special Correspondence to the PRESS.)
Mrs. Lester Van Eiten whose illness has been noted several times in the PRESS died last Wednesday morning, Oct. 21. Aged 21 years and one week. The burial services were conducted at the home of Mrs. Coss (Mrs. Van Eiten's mother) on Saturday at 10 o'clock a. m. Interment in the cemetery at Haysville.

A birthday celebration was held at the home of Mr. Rebecca Hornbeck near Tuttle's Corner on Saturday Oct. 24. Mrs. Hornbeck is quite active at 86 years of age. The numerous family, as well as many neighbors joined in the reunion, and partook of a grand dinner. All enjoyed themselves.

This is the most interesting campaign in my experience. Just think of a politician marking New Jersey $3000 for Major McKinley.

The house in which I live has been known as the Bedell homestead, and was occupied by Isaac Bedell upwards of 70 years ago. Mr. Chester Bedell was born here in 1825. He moved with his parents to Michigan when nine years old. The family soon moved again to Ohio, and he has since lived in that State, now about 50 years. Mr. Bedell having come East with a carload of fat stock concluded to visit the old place, and I had the pleasure of entertaining him in the same house in which he was born. He is very conservative in politics, and though having known and lived by Major McKinley for many years, and esteeming him as a neighbor, he fully believes that he will not carry his native State. Mr. Bedell says that the silver sentiment in Ohio has grown wonderfully, and is becoming a very tidal wave.

The store at Walpack Centre, belonging to Messrs Roe and Fuller was burglarized last week. Dry goods and notions were inspected and such as suited the fastidious taste of Mr. Burglar were taken along. Country stores, Postoffices, and chicken roosts are usually looted after by these gentlemen about this time of year. Every one should put a fresh load of books in the old gun, a fresh cap on, and when the suspicious event takes place shoot low.

The annual private ball at the Hainesville House—takes place on Oct. 29. Mr. and Mrs. Krevette known abilities as caterers, and the other attractions offered, make these entertainments a great success. No doubt this one will be the greatest of the series.

An effort is being made to raise a sufficient fund to paint the new barn that Brother Deming built at the passage. Why not include the churches at Hainesville and Layton. They both really need a good coat of outside white.

The loose stones in the roads should be thrown out once a month. The law says so, it is a good law, why not enforce it. Our roads that might be made a pleasure to ride over, are made a torture by the presence of these small stones. Let those who are interested, pull up a few overseers and make it plain to them that the law is not optional, but obligatory.

What fine fall weather we are enjoying. A bracing air, and brilliant sunshine outdoors, hickwhorls and trimmings within. What more do mortals want here below?

The choir at Layton is rapidly progressing in the higher branches of sacred music, and the delicious melody is drawing full congregations. It is a very attractive and pleasant feature of the regular Sunday services, and the marked ability of the organist is fully recognized and appreciated.

Rev. C. W. Deming was an enthusiastic tree planter and put out two fine maple trees at the passage while on this pasture he became much attached to them and it is said affectionately named them. We suggest that they be carefully wrapped with straw and protected against the winter blasts. Perhaps when they get large enough to tap it will turn out as brother Deming fondly hoped, that they will flow pure buttermilk.

Interest in our Sunday school should not be allowed to flag because the weather is getting a little cool. The attendance last Sabbath was rather light, and but one teacher on duty. We hope this good work will be carried forward with more vigor in the near future. There was never more of missionary work in this neighborhood than now.

GREELEY.

(Special Correspondence to the PRESS.)
GREELEY, Oct. 26.—The weather is fine now we hope it will remain just so for some time as it will help to shorten the long winter months we have to endure.

Hunters are very numerous around here for the past two weeks. Sixteen are putting up at Shohola Falls and more coming. Two deer have been killed in this vicinity this fall.

The sick are all improving. Miss Gustin of Minor's mill is visiting her uncle, W. V. Burcher.

Edwain Koehka and Mark Banfoe have gone in partnership in the purchase of a fancy buckskin horse. Look out girls for he is a dandy. His former owner, Richard Deitz did not take water from any one when on the road with him.

Mrs. C. M. Burcher and Miss Gustin are experts at driving a team, they took a trip to Blooming Grove this week. W. V. Burcher took a trip to Wayne county this week on business.

Maggie Landusky returned to her home last week from Blooming Grove where she had been doing house work for Mrs. Khume.

Mrs. Milton Kinable of Lackawaxen an aged lady was buried at that place on Tuesday of this week. We extend our heart felt sympathy to the bereaved husband who is left to mourn her loss. He too is getting very old and feeble.

Reports are that Case Greening our mail carrier had two very valuable deer dogs poisoned this week. It is a great loss at this time of the year.

Mrs. Ira Rosenance and daughter, Ella came home on Monday from Hornellsville. We hope the former is much improved.

QUICKTOWN.

(Special Correspondence to the PRESS.)
QUICKTOWN, Oct. 28.—Let every voter go to the polls and vote intelligently, and let the true majority rule, as it should. And if your side gets beat don't kick but grin and bear it.

Egg laying hens up this way have gone on a strike till after "free silver" is defeated.

School is closed to attend the teacher's institute.

J. M. Aldrich raised a pumpkin this year that tipped the scales at 54 lbs. Did any of our Jersey neighbors beat that? It was among farm products at the M. E. Church on Autumnal Day.

The menials have also found a foot hold up this way.

Miss Lizzie Miller of Newark, N. J., is visiting her brother, John Miller.

Tom Quick has been on the sick list of late. A wood cutting frolic was held there last week.

Henry Aldrich has looked very happy lately. It's a 10 lb. boy.

Mr. Bliesulo is building a new cow house.

Mike's Bird.

One of those odorous animals which have recently been lavishly perfuming our atmosphere, inflicting a great loss on the sellers of ammonia, and giving a corresponding benefit to the manufacturers of sulphur and smelling salts, betook himself a few nights ago, in his search for general information, and to gratify an offensive curiosity to one of the hotels in town. There he disappeared until his presence became pronounced, and Mike was summoned.

He came, viewed the festive creature and shouted, arrah be jobsers he's no skoonk, he's a badger sure and a faine one too look at his bootiful white and black spots. Wait till ol' get me cag and all capture the bird. O! think that fellow has escaped from the Bloomin Grove Park an oill just entice him in and get the reward sure. He got the cage and with a stick proceeded to shoo the crayther in it. The badger took offense at the familiarity Mike was showing and retaliated. The son of Erin was aghast, it was worse than a Democratic meeting in Kentucky where gentlemen evince displeasure at the remarks by a free use of unsalable bean products. Mike's comments as he occasionally caught his breath were steacoko and muscogularised. He dropped the cage, and killed the badger—but no one has been able to stand within speaking distance of him yet to find out just how much confidence he has in his knowledge of the animal kingdom.

He is not apparently at present looking for any reward either here or in the hereafter, but he shons be jobers an thata the by has been steal in the Frenchman's garlic.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Under this head we will insert communications on current and political topics, without being responsible for the sentiments expressed, and invite such discussion as may appear of a general interest to the people.—EDITOR PRESS.

Think Before You Vote.

MR. EDITOR.—As a Republican and heavy tax payer we would like to state a few things. Now it has been told that the Republican candidate for commissioner promised to do all in his power to build a bridge across the Lackawaxen if the people would support him. We have been told that said bridge would cost nearly $10,000. Now should we vote for a candidate who is so willing to load several thousand dollars on the county to get an office. If you are not willing to vote for a candidate that would be influenced in a corrupt way vote for Mr. Bortree who will pledge himself to nothing except such interest as are for the public welfare. Mr. Bortree is a clean man who does not stoop to low dirty work to get an office and if elected he would serve the county with clean hands.

We believe any man that will seek office by the use of beer or hoolie is not fit for the office. Every man should seek office in a respectable way such as a clean man should not be ashamed of in after years if known to the public.

Thank you Mr. Editor for your exposure of some of their dirty ways. We hope you will stand by your colors until some of these low methods can be stopped and Pike county politics raised to a higher moral plane. Throw in your thunderbolts and the respectable people will stand by you.

Now fellow citizens let us rise above a glass of beer or a good supper and vote for a man of principle, one who will be careful of the county funds and be the means of lessening taxes by careful expenditures. We have no interest in Mr. Bortree's election save knowing that he is a careful conscientious man and would be a careful officer.

We believe every man who spends several hundred dollars to gain an office will try to pilfer the public at every chance to get it back.

Fellow citizens please think it over and see if we are right and if so please vote for Mr. Bortree and not only vote for him but work for him, get your neighbor also to vote for him. Let us elect a man that we know will not lower the standard of county commissioner and public morals.

HEAVY TAX PAYER.

GREELEY, Oct. 27, 1906.
EDITOR PRESS.—I observe in your paper the card of Hon. John A. Kipp announcing him a candidate for County Treasurer under the head of People's party. Some may ask is he entitled to the suffrages of the people? He was twice elected to the Legislature, and that is the only office he has direct from the people. During his first session he drew and succeeded in passing a law giving the right to citizens to catch cels in all the state waters. This was vetoed by Governor Pattison. I am informed Mr. Editor that after the veto you was requested to get a copy of the bill and send it to Albany, that you done so, and that it is the same act under which the people of that State are to-day taking those fish by means of weirs. Mr. Kipp certainly performed his full share in obtaining the passage of that law. It is also procured the repeal of the act giving collectors $1 for each return on sealed lands. The returns were often more than the total taxes and the collectors were not anxious to collect them.

In the session of 1895 his course was marked by close and careful attention to the interests of his constituents, and he made a clean and honorable record. He was largely instrumental in passing the law in the House giving to Pike and Susquehanna the $10,000 annually paid by the Erie to the State, and which has been so paid since 1842. There were 145 votes recorded in favor of and 5 against the bill. It passed the Senate and went to the Governor but he vetoed it on the ground that it would establish a precedent for other counties. This was a weak excuse for there is no other "bonus" set in the State similar to this. Had the bill become a law the people of this county would today be greatly relieved of taxation. The people might have done well to have elected Mr. Kipp again this year and given him another opportunity to work for the people. He has shown himself the people's friend and it is only proper that they should now give him their support for Treasurer.

Bryan's "Bimetallism."

Mr. Bryan still calls himself a "bimetallist," though he has never even attempted to answer the question: "In the history of this country has there ever been a time when gold and silver circulated upon equal terms as full legal tender money, with the mints open to the free and unlimited coinage of both?"

There never was such a time. Free and unlimited coinage of $1.50. I have never, in any country, at any time, given a bimetallic currency. Mr. Bryan is a silver monometallist in fact, whatever he may think himself to be in theory.

If a merchant marks up his prices and people refuse to buy, he still has his goods. If a workingman undertakes to mark up his wages and employers decline to pay, where is he? What intelligent wage earner can vote for the higher price of cheaper money and trust to look to increase his wages proportionately?

A Venerable Bishop Writes.
NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The Right Rev. Henry Benjamin Walpole, bishop of Minnesota, whom the Indians of the north-west years ago named Straight Tongue and who is now 74 years old, was married for the second time in St. Bartholomew's church. The bride was Mrs. Evangeline Simpson, a widow, who is still comparatively young. She was a friend of the bishop's first wife. Her husband, who died a few years ago, was Michael Simpson, an aged millwright, cotton manufacturer of Massachusetts, much of whose wealth she inherited. She is now about 55 years old. Her relatives live in Saxonyville, Mass. Bishop Walpole officiated at the wedding. The affair was a very quiet one. Even the Rev. Dr. Greer's assistants did not know that one bishop was to solemnize the marriage of another in Dr. Greer's church.

SOME PERTINENT ENQUIRIES.

A Few Plain Facts for Farmers, Mechanics and Laboring Men.

MR. EDITOR.—Mr. Bryan says that most of the farmers have mortgages on their farms and that the free coinage of silver as set forth in the Chicago Platform if carried into effect will cause so much of that money to be put into circulation that the farmer will be able to pay off his mortgages.

Now take it for granted (until Nov. 3rd,) that the Chicago Platform is carried into effect.

I have a mortgage upon your farm payable in gold or in money at its legal value to-day, I see money is about to depreciate, and consequently when you get ready to pay off the mortgage I get depreciated currency. What am I going to do? As soon as I could I would demand payment of that mortgage and would do so at once, as would all other mortgagees and if payment could not be made I would foreclose before money became cheaper. Why? Because, for instance to-day the mortgage if worth say, $1,000 in six months or a year would be worth $500, and I would not just any more than I could stand this so upon the mortgage becoming due I would demand payment and would not renew except I was paid in money, upon the expiration of the mortgage of an equal value as when given, this is plain.

If I have in my bin to-day 1,000 bushels of potatoes worth $1,000, and I see that in three months or six months that they will be worth 50 cents a bushel or in all $500. I would sell immediately like any other sensible farmer because I could not afford to lose $475, and does this not stand the same as to the man who deals in money and lends on the mortgage?

If free coinage of silver is thrust upon market silver will go up and gold will come down, the price of goods will go up and consequently wages will go up.

The price of silver, if so much is thrown upon the market and it is inflated, will not cause the price to rise any more than if the market was flooded with potatoes would raise the price of them.

How would gold come down? Instead we would be flooded with a silver currency and England would immediately take all our gold at its present rate, and as all of our national debts are payable in gold we would need two or three silver dollars to pay one of the old debts.

I suppose the price of goods go up and I take 25 bushels of potatoes to market and get $2.00 a bushel, on my way home I must buy a barrel of flour and pay $10 for it instead of $5 as when potatoes were worth $1 a bushel, where is the gain?

If the farmer is to get double the price for his produce must not the grocer, the merchant and all others who sell get the same proportion for their goods to offset this?

Will wages go up? It has been a plain fact that wages never rise as fast as any other commodity. No man will raise the price of his employes for fun, and not unless he is compelled to.

Now if the price of produce goes up, say the farmer's potatoes go up to $2 a bushel the storekeeper sells them at an advanced price, the laboring man must necessarily buy he must live, now the question is will his wages be advanced sufficiently to allow him to buy as freely as before, if not how can he eat as much, how can he do as much work if he can not have enough to eat. Will the farmer raise his hired man's wages from $15 a month to $30 if he gets double the price for his produce? Will the farmer pay twice the amount of taxes then as he does now if it takes two dollars to make one of the present worth? Will the Government officials work for half pay?

Take the railroads, their bonded indebtedness is payable in gold, their fares are paid in silver at 50 cents, their freight in 30 cent dollars, the State compels them to carry passengers at 3 cents per mile. Will more people travel? Will more freight pass?

When how is this bonded indebtedness to be paid? The fact is plain. It must be paid, and until another source is open from which money can be obtained.
