west and south are more heavily burdened with mortgages then those of the east and northeast. States along the North Atlantic, he says, are quite heavily incumbered with farm mortgages, and New Jersey carries a debt of greater in proportion to farms value than any state in the Union. Th frequent claim that the farmers are almost universally indebted and suffering, he de-clares to be without any foundation, a be-littlement of agriculture and an insult to every intelligent and practical farmer. The farmers are not mendicants, to be treated to annuities, but the representatives of the oldest, most honerable, most essential occupation of the human race, upon which all other vocations depend for subsistence and prosperity.

"Legislation," he mays, "can neither plow nor plant. The intelligent, practical and successful farmer needs no aid from the government. The ignorant, impractical and indolent farmers deserve none. It is not the business of the government to legislate in behalf of any class of citizens because they are managed in the contraction. because they are engaged in any specific callings, no matter how essential the call-ing may be, to the needs and comforts of civilization. Lawmakers cannot erase natural laws, nor restrict or efface the op-eration of economic laws. It is a benefi-cient arrangement of the order of things and the conditions of human life that legislators are not permitted to repeal or d or revise the laws of production

BEAT THE DREXELS.

A Clever Ruscal Worked a Check Forgery on Philadelphia Bankers.

TRENTON, Nov. 25.—It has just been learned that through a series of forgeries Drexel & Co. of Philadelphia have been swindled out of $600, and another brokes of that city lost $400. The scheme was worked in this way:

A letter purporting to have come from William Balderson, a reputable farmer of Fallington, was sent to the First National bank of Trenton, inclosing three notes to Balderson's order and asking to have them discounted and placed to his credit. This was done by the board of directors has Wednesday, and word to that effect was sent to Balderson. He came to the bank on Saturday and disclaimed any knowledge of the notes. Meantime, on Friday, a stranger had gone to Drexel's with a check for $600, apparently signed by Balderson. The brokers telephoned the First National and asked if he was good for the amount

An affirmative roply was received.

Next day the check came to the First National through the usual neclium, and,
Balderson being there at the time, probalacism being there at the time, per nounced it a forgery. The other check for $400 had been negotiated with a Philadel-phia broker and afterward passed to the Manufacturers' bank of that city, coming to the First National with Balderson's sig-naure. The two checks, aggregating $1, 000, were within $30 of the amount of the three notes originally asked for discount.

As the First National has not cashed either, the loss will fall on the Drexels and the other Philadelphia broker, who first Perkins is but one of the victims of Holmes' baleful 'evil eye," Coroner Sam-uel Ashbridge, who held the Inquest on Pitesel's body when it was found in the Callowhill street house three years ago and who was one of the witnesses in the trial of Holmes, was the 'combine' Republic-an candidate for shoriff. Up to this clostion the "combine" had carried everythic before it save a few small ward fights. The "combine" nominations in other campaigns practically meant election.

But Samuel Ashbridge was defeated by an overwhelming majority, Alexander Crow, who never saw H. H. WHAT COOKING MEANS, Cooking means the stewing and boiling, and the steaming and baking thrice daily, week following week, decade following decade. Cooking means the economy of your grandmothers, the patience of Job, the persistence of the Pilgrim fathers and the martyrdom of Joan of Arc.

The cook must evolve triumphs that depend upon temper and tradition, that are the outcome of salt, pepper, sugar and herbs.

Cooking is penance. It depends upon knowing how much and how soon and how long and how often, it begets resignation and desperation and perspiration. To be a cook requires the wisdom of the regative and passed on into his office.

A few minutes later the sharp crack of a revolver was heard in the room, and the ceeper, badly frightened by such an unmodern chemist, and the humility pensation is a clean title to a crown and superintendent Richardson, who, with two other keepers, made his way into the warden's office. He was lying on his back upon the floor, and the blood was flowing from a big hole in his right temple, made by a bullet.
