THE TEACHERS' WORLD.

All teachers and friends of education are cordially invited to contribute whatever may be helpful or suggestive to others in this line of work. Communications will be gladly received by the editor of this department.

HOW TEACHERS WASTE TIME.

- "Picking" at pupils.
- Repeating questions.
- Giving unnecessary directions.
- Ignorance in organizing classes.
- Repeating answer after pupils.
- Speaking too loud and too often.
- "Getting ready to do something."
- Falling to systematize knowledge.
- Explaining what pupils already know.
- Speaking when pupils are not giving attention.
- Coming to school without a definite plan of work.
- Giving orders and immediately changing them.
- Giving muddy explanations to conceal ignorance.
- Asking questions that can be answered by yes or no.
- Using the voice where the eyes would be more effective.
- Allowing pointless criticism, questions and discussions.
- Asking pointless, wandering questions and going off on "tangents" in recitation.

HOW THE PATRON MAY HELP THE SCHOOL.

Rev. Richd. Montgomery writes a very practical article on this subject, in Prof. Schroy's, Ashbourne, Pa., paper. He says in part:

Not Necessary to Visit the School.

The one way I would name in which the patron may help the school, is to know the school. That means visit the school. But many parents are busy men and women and it is difficult for them to find time in their duties to spend much time at the school. While, however, this is an important way it is not the only way in which we may know the school. By keeping in sympathy with our children, we can easily learn the progress they are making, the requirements asked of them other than their lessons, their thoughts, concerning their teacher, their classmates, their school. To know the school we need to look at it as the child looks at it. The child lives in his own world and looks at everything in his own independent way. Perhaps he does not look at his school and teacher in the right way, quite likely not, but only when you know how the child regards his school can you correct what is wrong in his conception. Even without visiting the school we can judge the course of study by the results.

SPEAK KINDLY OF THE TEACHER.

Let us speak kindly of the school and the teacher to our children. This may seem a small thing but it is no small thing in the making of men and women. The hasty criticism is mostly unjust, and even if only unnecessary it injures the teacher's influence. A little care on our part will do much to inspire our children with respect for their teachers—this is certainly due these faithful men and women.

TOPICAL GEOGRAPHY.

Below are given some exercises selected from those prepared by a class of fifth-year pupils, as a review exercise on cities and states. Each child was asked to bring a general description of a city and a state in the form of a riddle.

These were read in turn, and individuals answered the questions. They were examined also as a language exercise. This form of lesson can be used at intervals, and can be made applicable in reviewing under any topic:

- I am a very beautiful State, and I live near a gulf. I produce fine bananas and other fruits. Fish abound in my stream and lakes and along their banks alligators are numerous. Now please tell what my name is.
- I am situated on a lake, I am the largest city in the State. I am celebrated for my rapid growth in population, and have immense trade in grain, provisions and lumber. I excel every other city in the world in pork-packing and beef. Now tell me what my name is.
- I am a very large city in New York, situated on a beautiful island. There is a bridge connecting me and my opposite friend, across which many people pass.

Now can you guess my name?
 4. I am large and well-known. I belong to nobody, yet I dictate to everybody. I am situated on a river that empties into the Chesapeake Bay, and near a city in Virginia. I am noted for my handsome residences and beautiful gardens, graves and statuary. You can find more talented statesmen and foreign noblemen walking my streets daily than on any other city in the Union. Can you guess who I am?

HOWARD GOULD ENGAGED.

Mrs. Dayan Says He Is West Her Daughter, Katherine Clemmons.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15.—Mrs. J. W. Dayan, mother of Katherine Clemmons, who has just returned from a visit to her daughter, said to an interviewer:

"My daughter is engaged to marry Howard Gould and has been for a long time. It would be foolish to deny it, but we dislike the notoriety which the announcement brings. In deference to the wishes of Mr.

THOMAS C. PLATT.

of States senate in succession to Francis Kernan, his term beginning March 4, 1881. In May of the same year, in consequence of a quarrel with President Garfield over the distribution of patronage in New York state, Messrs. Conkling and Platt resigned from the senate, expecting to be re-elected, instead of which the places they had vacated were given to Messrs. Lapham and Miller.

Miss Katherine Clemmons. Gould she has given up her professional engagements. Not because Mr. Gould has any prejudice against the theatrical profession, but only because he feels it to be unnecessary for her to continue at work.

"No date has been set for the marriage, and I am not at liberty to give an opinion as to whether it will be celebrated here."

Katherine Clemmons is the stage name adopted by Viola Dayan, who as a girl ten or a dozen years ago made her debut in a theater in San Francisco. She was then very prepossessing and is an attractive woman now. Miss Dayan (or Clemmons) was living in Chicago in 1893 while William F. Cody (Buffalo Bill) was exhibiting his wild west show on grounds adjoining the Columbian exposition. Cody decided that Miss Clemmons could and should return to the stage, and he "starred" her. The vehicle selected was a remarkable drama in blank verse, entitled "A Lady of Venice."

As an "angel" Cody was very liberal. Miss Clemmons was surrounded by an excellent company of players, her costumes were elaborate and beautiful, the scenic equipment was gorgeous and the stage furnishings all that could be desired. Miss Clemmons was liberally rewarded, but the play would not draw, and the tour ended in a fiasco, followed by several lawsuits. Mr. Cody retired from the expensive venture, and Miss Clemmons has not since been seen upon the stage.

The reported engagement has been a matter of gossip in theatrical circles for months. A few weeks ago, Miss Clemmons' return from Europe, Mr. Gould met her at the dock in New York, and they drove away together.

Robbers Make a Raid.

PERRY, N. Y., Jan. 18.—Robbers took in the town of Newburgh, north here, yesterday. Saloons were robbed of all money and quantities of whisky and beer. Residences were entered and many things were taken. Officers think the robbers came into town under the guise of tramps. Five tramps were arrested here for highway robbery.

Charged With Perjury.

BOZOTN, Jan. 18.—Dr. John T. Simpson, 47 years old, living on Chambers street in this city, has been arrested on a charge of perjury. Dr. Simpson was a witness in the case of Annie F. Callahan against the West End Street railway, which was tried in the superior court in December, 1896, and it is alleged that he testified falsely.

New York Legislature Elects Thomas C. Platt—The mantle of Cameron Falls on Francis in Pennsylvania—O. H. Platt Re-elected in Connecticut.

ALBANY, Jan. 19.—The New York state legislature has ratified the action of the Republican caucus held last week by electing Thomas C. Platt as United States senator. In the senate Mr. Platt had 35 votes, David B. Hill 14 and Henry George 2. The assembly's vote was: Platt, 112; Hill, 81; George, 2.

Few men have been more in the public eye the last 15 years than Thomas C. Platt. His emergence into national prominence in 1881 was under conditions so unusual that his earlier public career and his prominence as a banker and merchant have been generally forgotten.

Unable, on account of bad health, to pursue his college course beyond the sophomore year at Yale, Mr. Platt took up a business career which led the way to the presidency of a national bank at Piqua, N. Y., and to a successful venture in the lumber trade in Michigan.

In 1873, when 39 years of age, he was elected a representative in congress and again in 1874. He was elected to the United States senate in succession to Francis Kernan, his term beginning March 4, 1881.

In May of the same year, in consequence of a quarrel with President Garfield over the distribution of patronage in New York state, Messrs. Conkling and Platt resigned from the senate, expecting to be re-elected, instead of which the places they had vacated were given to Messrs. Lapham and Miller.

Mr. Platt held the office of commissioner of quarantine of New York city from 1880 to 1888, when he was removed by proceedings instituted on account of his alleged non-residence. He has been a delegate to all of the Republican national conventions beginning with that of 1876 and including that of last year. He has been the recognized leader of the Republican party organization in New York state for the last 12 or 14 years, and though his title to supremacy has frequently been attacked he has as often demonstrated his ability to hold it against all comers.

Mr. Platt is the president of the United States Express company, and at this time he is in his sixty-fourth year.

Mason Nominated in Illinois.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 20.—Ex-Congressman William E. Mason was nominated for United States senator at the Republican joint caucus after one of the most bitterly fought battles in the history of the Republican party in Illinois. Although he had been canvassing the state as a senatorial candidate for two years, Mr. Mason's selection was regarded by "machine" politicians as an impossibility up to within two hours of the time of his triumphant nomination, the choice being the result of the sudden withdrawal from the race of Congressman William Lorimer, who had held the almost solid vote of Chicago and Cook county. The contest had been so long drawn out and the battle so fierce that the legislators were in a mood to be stampeded at any moment, and as the hour for the caucus drew near and the sudden shifting of the Cook county forces to Mason carried the other candidates off their feet, the tide turned toward the congressman with a rush that carried everything before it, and the nomination was made without the most feeble show of opposition.

The Republicans have a majority of 48 in the legislature on joint ballot, which assured Mr. Mason's election.

William E. Mason was born July 7, 1860, in Franklinville, N. Y., and is the youngest of a family of 14 children, 9 of whom were boys. In 1880 his parents moved to Bentonport, Ia. After passing through the public schools with great credit, at the age of 15 he began teaching. At the same time he attended the college at Hiramsham, Ia. At 19 he was graduated with honors and went to Des Moines, where he became a teacher in the High school. He continued in this position until 21, devoting his spare time to the study of law and shorthand. He then went into the law office of Thomas Withrow, and when a year later Mr. Withrow was made general solicitor of the Rock Island railroad Mr. Mason came with him to Chicago as his clerk.

Having perfected himself in shorthand, Mr. Mason became a court reporter.

In 1873 Mr. Mason married Edith White of Des Moines. Seven of their nine children are living. Mr. Mason was twice a member of the Illinois house of representatives and once of the state senate. He was also a member in the Fifteenth and Fifty-first congresses.

Mr. Mason enjoys the distinction of being the champion campaigner of Illinois, having during the past eight years addressed more people in the state than any other one man during that time.

Perkins Chosen Senator.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 18.—George C. Perkins was re-elected United States senator, receiving a majority of the votes in both branches of the legislature. In the senate he received 27 votes against a scattering opposition vote of 13. His vote in the assembly was 47 against a total opposition of 22. His majority on joint ballot is 19.

The Democratic vote was divided between Congressman Maguire, W. W. Fouts and National Committeeman J. J. Dwyer. The Populist vote went to T. V. Cator.

Nominated For Senator.

DOVER, Del., Jan. 19.—The Democratic members of the legislature in caucus nominated H. R. Kenney of Kent county for United States senator. Mr. Kenney is a prominent lawyer of Dover. He was born in Sussex county in 1836 and was admitted to the bar in 1878. He was adjutant general of the state national guard under Governor Hagan, and has held no other public office. He has always voted the Democratic ticket and was an ardent supporter of Bryan.

Perouse Elected.

HARRISBURG, Jan. 20.—Senator Boies Perouse was elected a United States senator in place of J. Donald Cameron. But one Republican vote was cast against him—that of Daniel F. Moore of Chester. Both houses voted separately. The vote in the house follows: Perouse, 166; Channancy F. Rice, 2; York, 30; John Wannamaker, 1; absent or not voting, 2. In the senate Perouse polled 49 votes and Black 6. Senators Mitchell, Bradford and Perouse not voting.

Fairbanks Is Chosen.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 20.—Charles Warren Fairbanks was elected United States senator to succeed Daniel W. Voorhees by the legislature. In the senate Senator Hawkins made the principal nominating speech, and Hon. Francis T. Roofs placed Mr. Fairbanks in nomination in the house. There were several seconding speeches. John H. East made the nominating speech for Mr. Voorhees, who received the vote of the minority.

Spencer Nominated For Senator.

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 14.—Colonel John C. Spencer was unanimously nominated for United States senator by the Republican joint legislative caucus. Being conducted before the caucus, the nominee made a brilliant response, declaring for protection, reciprocity, the right of the veto, and government to arbitrarily invade states to protect property, for currency reform and the present monetary standard.

Connecticut Re-elects Platt.

HARTFORD, Jan. 20.—A viva voce vote was taken in both branches on the election of O. H. Platt to the United States senate to succeed himself. In the senate Mr. Platt received all of the 34 votes, while in the house, out of 196 votes cast, Mr. Platt received all but 84, the rest going to J. B. Sargent of New Haven, the recent silver Democratic candidate for governor.

Fritchard Polls an Exact Majority.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 20.—The balloting for senator resulted. In the senate, Fritchard (Rep.), 34; Thompson (Pop.), 18; Daughton (Dem.), 7, and in the house, Fritchard, 92; Thompson, 41; Daughton, 27. Fritchard's total vote is exactly a majority of both branches of the legislature, the membership being 170.

West Is Re-elected.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Jan. 20.—The formal ballot was taken in the legislature, which resulted in the re-election of Senator George G. Vest to the United States senate, as follows: In the house, Vest (Dem.), 50; Kernan (Rep.), 31; Jones (Pop.), 4, and in the senate, Vest, 19; Kernan, 14.

Returned Henry M. Teller.

DENVER, Jan. 20.—Henry M. Teller was re-elected United States senator by the almost unanimous vote of the Colorado legislature. All the members classed as Populists, Democrats, Silver Republicans and National Silverites voted solidly for him.

Nevada Will Return J. P. Jones.

CARSON, Nev., Jan. 20.—A joint caucus for United States senator was held here in the Nevada legislature. Out of the 85 votes cast Senator J. P. Jones received 35 and George S. Nixon 3. Nixon was Jones' only opponent.

Hansbrough Gets It.

BISMARCK, N. D., Jan. 20.—In the senate the vote for United States senator resulted: Hansbrough (Rep.), 34; Bentley (Fusion), 7. In the house the ballot was: Hansbrough, 48; Bentley, 17.

J. K. Jones Re-elected.

LITTLE ROCK, Jan. 20.—Senator James K. Jones was re-elected United States senator by a large majority.

Spanish Gunboat Blown Up.

HAVANA, Jan. 19.—The gunboats Centinela and Relampago left Manzanilla on the night of Jan. 16 with the object of going up the river Guato to Fort Guamo, in compliance with the orders of General Bosch. At 10 o'clock on the morning of Jan. 17 both gunboats were near Mango landing when an explosion of a torpedo, which had been placed in the river, sank the Relampago. Those of the crew who survived swam toward shore, but were fired on from the banks. At this critical moment a boat was launched from the Centinela, which rescued the men in the water. In view of the instructions and the fact that the commander of the Centinela and nearly all of the crews of both gunboats had been seriously wounded, the expedition had to return to Manzanilla. Senator Martinez of the Relampago was seriously wounded in the explosion, as well as Assistant Engineer Jacobo Dula, Gunner Francisco Martinez and Seaman Vicente Genar, Juan Cambello and Felix Diaz, while Paymaster Antero, Chief Officer Mosquera, Engineer Pasadela and also the pilot and four others were slightly wounded. Six of the officers and crew were killed outright, and all of the rest received wounds of more or less severity. On the gunboat Centinela the commander, Senor Pozaris, was seriously wounded, while of the crew one was killed and Corporal Manuel Cabanas, Pilot Duran, Assistant Engineer Martinez and six of the crew were wounded.

A Legacy to McKinley.

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—Arthur Houghston, The World's Madrid correspondent, says: The impression prevails here that President Cleveland and Secretary Olney are now disposed to leave the settlement of the Cuban question and all American claims arising out of the Cuban insurrection to their successors, Messrs. McKinley and Sherman. Spain will nevertheless carry out the reforms in February.
