Correspondents are particularly requested to send in all news intended for publication not later than Wednesday in each week to insure insertion.

LAYTON.

(Special Correspondence to the Press.) LAYTON, Jan. 26.—The Oyster supper at Isaac Westbrook on Jan. 20 for the benefit of the Rev. C. H. Von Glahn was well attended in spite of the flurry of snow. The Dominie originated and suggested new plays, and enjoyed himself with the young people generally, while Mrs. Von-Glahn deftly assisted in the preparation and serving of the viands. Like a good play it was continued the next evening, and though the beautiful snow had changed to dingy mud the attendance was satisfactory. Total receipts for the two evenings $21.94 net.

Mrs. Rebecca Schooley moves in the spring to the house of Mrs. Mary A. Rutan near Hainesville. Mrs. Schooley has lived in this place a number of years, and proved a kind and excellent neighbor. She will be missed.

The sick with a very few exceptions are generally on the mend. It is hoped that this zero temperature will somewhat check the friskiness of the festive microbes, and give the various disease germs a chill they will not recover from in a good tough dog's age.

Mr. John V. Major will move into the Clark house in the village, and leave his farm in charge of his son Arly, who was recently married.

John I. Bevans, Esq., of Pittston, Pa., is visiting friends in the neighborhood. He has under consideration the selling of his farm for which he is said to have advanced good offers.

Mrs. Mary A. Rutan has rented her house near Hainesville to Mrs. Rebecca Schooley, and will hereafter live with her son Joseph near Lafayette.

Year after year it is remarked that the trunks on which railroad ties can be found to a profitable extent, soon can not be had. Still an immense number of ties are taken out of the valley each year, and seemingly as many as usual this winter. Nice little fortunes have been made off the lumber taken from these three River Townships during the last ten years. It would seem as if the tie branch of the industry must soon reach its end here.

The Epworth League, and Ladies' Aid Societies of Walpack Centre will hold a Cake and Coffee social in the basement of their church on Friday night Jan. 25. Admission ten cents, proceeds for running expenses of the church. The young people have this function in charge and are going to have a bang up good time if the skies fall. Those who expect a share of the good things that there abound, want to "get there Ell."

Lots of ice forming this week, and those who have not yet filled their ice houses are likely to have a fine opportunity now. We yet have the month of February before us, and it is a fairly good month for ice too, so it is quite likely that a good crop will be stored.

Our host Montross is about and over-seeing his business much like old times. His many friends are much pleased that his recovery has been so rapid and thorough.

Rev. J. H. E. Schults preached last Sunday morning at Dingman's Ferry, and Mr. Fletcher Garise the supply at that place delivered a discourse from Mr. Schult's pulpit at Walpack Centre. Text from 1st Cor. 1st chapter, 23 and 24 verses. Those in attendance speak well of the manner in which Mr. Garise handled his subject.

Can it be that there is a man laying claim to doanery, and position that can be so sneaking mean as to induce another without real cause to assault a man in his own house? Can a man be so hardened by familiarity with crime as to become "particeps criminis" with, and "sick" a bully on to attack a man whom he dares not face himself? Yes, there is such a man, and he thinks he keeps his viciousness nicely cloaked, although he always tries to be on hand to back up such lawlessness. These things are becoming patent to the public, and the majority of thinking people are weighing actions, and taking notes. It is impossible that such methods should continue long in a civilized community, and the people will ere long get the source of much of the lawlessness in this neighborhood located about right. There will, then, some one crooked will be made straight, and many will wonder why they did not grasp the true situation before. The sickness of almost every description that has prevailed about here during the winter has affected the schools very unfavorably and cut the percentage of attendance to an extent that fills the average teacher with disgust at the forlorn appearance of their school register. The widow of the late Julius Rosenkrans will probably break up farming in the spring and reside with her son-in-law, Mr. Eugene Major.

MONTAGUE.

(Special Correspondence to the Press.) MONTAGUE, Jan. 25.—The Chicken Pie supper at the Brick House last Tuesday evening for the benefit of the M. E. Church was fairly well attended of course the supper was A. one. Proceeds $25.21. Those who attended from Milford were Frank Van Horn, "Doc" Stead, Will Beck and Frank Rudolph the genial clerk of Brown and Armstrong who more than enjoyed a Jersey chicken pie.

There will be a Carpet Bag social at the residence of Geo. Armstrong for the benefit of the Reformed church on Tuesday evening Feb. 9. If stormy next fair evening. The Town Committee of this town will meet at Tappanstown on Saturday Feb. 6. Chicken thieves have appeared again. The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Merrill died last Wednesday evening about 8 o'clock aged four months. The funeral took place Friday afternoon. Rev. S. Garretson of Dingman officiating. Interment at Hainesville.

Mrs. E. Gunner has gone to New York to spend some time visiting relatives. "Bitter and Sweet" both are right. The writer of these lines is well acquainted too with the road from Dingmans to Milford and the numerous needless hills which could be avoided. For instance all the grades from the Thrall to the Warner place, the hills from the McCarty to the Cavebank, the hills near the Van Etten farm and so on. But that is nothing it is just as bad over here but it is comforting to know somebody at least has the interest of the travelling public enough at heart to take up a little newspaper space. Blackmores has moved: Where? Montague has a cow which is not averse to entering a dwelling. For particulars ask George.

Oscar Van Auken has sold the timber on his Sandyston farm to Mr. Hopkins. Levi Westbrook is at present far from well, which we are sorry to note, yet we are glad to hear that Miss Maggie Westbrook is slightly improved. The roads are slippery and the blacksmiths are happy.

DINGMAN'S FERRY.

(Special Correspondence to the Press.) DINGMAN'S FERRY, Jan. 27.—There will be an old-fashioned donation at David Jagers' at the Centre on Thursday, February 21st, for the benefit of Rev. S. Morris. It is stormy the next fair evening. Come one, come all and have a good time.

PER COMMITTEE. MATAMORAS. (Special Correspondence to the Press.) MATAMORAS, Jan. 27.—For several terms Prof. Horace B. Dinn has conducted dancing classes. Last winter he taught a class at Matamoras. This winter his class in Port Jervis was very large and on Tuesday evening he gave a reception at the Academy of Dancing in Manchester Hall, and there were fully 100 couples present. Spring's Orchestra of five pieces was in attendance. The Grand March was led by Mr. Oliver Squires, and Miss Emma Conkling. The dancers received handsome souvenirs consisting of a good likeness of their genial and efficient instructor. The following ladies from Matamoras were in attendance: Miss Hattie Allen, Miss Mary Squires, Miss Florence Lord, Miss Julia Thomas. The Professor is to be congratulated upon giving such a fine reception. All the arrangements were complete, take it all in all, it was the finest reception ever given in Port Jervis.

We trust the Professor will meet with good success in the future. S. MATAMORAS, JAN. 28.—The Christian Endeavor Society of Hope Church held a "Jack Horner" social at the residence of Mrs. Victor Ennis, Thursday evening, Jan. 28th. The Ladies' Aid Society of Hope Church held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. M. L. Cole, Thursday afternoon.

LEDGEDALE.

(Special Correspondence to the Press.) LEDGEDALE, Jan. 28.—Mr. Gaylord of Honesdale and Mr. Griswold of Catskill, New York came to this place last Wednesday stopping with I. K. Kellam and family. J. H. Becker has traded his judgements in Wayne and Pike county to J. B. Johnson for two houses and lots in Binghamton.

Wm. Stiermer and wife visited friends in Pike county on Sunday. Mr. Runyon visited his son James who lives in Hawley on Friday and Saturday he has been very sick for some time. Mr. and Mrs. Olin Wolfe of Laenna Pike county were guests of I. Kellam on Sunday.

A number attended the Republican Caucus held at Salem Saturday night. Wayne Co. PAUPAC. (Special Correspondence to the Press.) PAUPAC, Jan. 26.—Mrs. Duffy of this township died Jan. 11 at the advanced age of ninety six years. She is survived by five children, three sons and two daughters. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Father Judge at the Catholic Church in Hawley at which place she was buried. The cold wave is upon us, and the traveler stay at home if possible. Mrs. A. J. Krimble has been spending a week with her daughter in Danmore.

Miss H. A. Jacob has returned home after a two weeks visit with relatives in Passaic and New York. Some throat and colds are still the rule. Mr. Frank Dupue of Sussex county, N. J. passed a part of last week with C. A. Pelletier. Miss Gertrude Pelletier is visiting in Honesdale. A Reader.

FOR SALE.—Second-hand wagons in good order for sale cheap at Angelo's blacksmith shop.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

Under this head we will insert comments on current political topics without being responsible for the sentiments expressed, and invite such discussion as may be proper and of general interest to the people.—EDITOR PRESS.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28, 1897. ED. PRESS.—We are greatly pleased with the Teachers' Column. We take the paper at dinner time and one reads the historical condiments and all then try to discover the names. In this way it not only amuses but likewise instructs, and sharpens our wits. We refresh our memories by reading up history and all are much interested in securing correct answers. We think it an excellent feature, and one calculated to add greatly to the general information, if studied as we do. Children seem to grasp such things with more avidity when put in this way, and this method we think could be used with great benefit by teachers. The column is very well edited and we would not miss it. A READER.

Pennsylvania Agriculture.

(From Gov. Hastings' Biennial Message.)

When it is considered that these (Farmers') Institutes partake of the nature of University Extension as applied to agriculture and are highly appreciated and patronized by farmers, enabling them to secure some measure of technical training which is becoming more and more essential to success, it is urged that the appropriation therefor should be more liberal. It is the only organized state establishment for education in agriculture excepting the School of Agriculture at the State College. The institutes also do an exceedingly valuable work in arousing public interest in the subject of agriculture while the School of Agriculture continues the work thus started and provides for further systematic training. For the support of both these agencies the State has made during the past six years an average annual appropriation of $11,500, which is an average of five and four-tenths cents for each farm in the State. In other words, out of each $100 appropriated by the Legislature of 1895 seven and three-tenths cents was for Farmers' Institute and five and three-tenths for the School of Agriculture, while fifty-four cents covers the entire appropriation for agricultural purposes. This amount, considering the great interests to be subserved, is not only inadequate but manifestly disproportionate.

January 18th, 1897. The Short Courses in Agriculture at the State College have opened very successfully, fifty-two students being in attendance, thirty-nine of them in the Creamery Course and thirteen in the Short Course. The accommodations of the small building now available as a Creamery are taxed to the utmost to accommodate the class, and indeed, several applications had to be refused on this account. Two of these have already registered for the Course to be given in 1898.

Progressive Housekeeping. Two things have contributed to the increase in the supply of prepared foods. The first of these is the very high rents charged in our cities, which have compelled housekeepers to use very small kitchens with gas for fuel. We have no room to store quantities of food as our mothers did. Gas fuel is too costly to allow us to cook oatmeal six hours when prepared oatmeal can be served on the breakfast table in six minutes. We have not the room or time or fuel to make a soup that must cook for three hours when a canned soup can be served hot in five minutes. The second reason is that women have come to recognize that life and time are too valuable to waste in any housework that can be done cheaper, quicker and better outside the house. We cannot afford the time to watch the stock pot while better soups than we can make are in endless variety in the store.

The tendency in housekeeping today is clearly toward a saving in time and labor. "The way mother did" is too expensive of both labor and time. The electric light, the electric cooking appliances, electric lamp and gas lighting appliances, the gas stove, the electric motor, preserved foods and prepared foods have come to our aid because we feel we must have such things. Life is too full to waste a minute in doing things in the house that can be done cheaper and better outside the house. — Jane Kingsford in Chautauquan for January.

Another Trust Gone. And now the Harrow Trust, which was a combine among the manufacturers of the various designs of spring tooth harrows has been decided by Judge Acheson of the United States Circuit Court to be against public policy. The trust proposed to fix a uniform price for harrows, and to maintain a large profit.

LOST between Milford and Erie R. R. depot on Wednesday, Nov. 24, a large brown satchel. Finder will be suitably rewarded by leaving same at Erie depot, at Maurice Quinn's, or Finley's in Milford.

Chicago capitalists have secured options on several acres of land in La Porte and adjacent counties, this large area being located in the Kan-kakee region, Ind., for the establishment of an industry that promises to revolutionize a branch of the paper-making industry.

It is stated that experiments have demonstrated that by a new process an excellent quality of binding twine and building and roofing paper can be made out of the long grass that stretches away for miles in the Kan-kakee swamps.

The process is controlled by a syndicate of capitalists, and it is proposed to develop a new industry on a large scale by the establishment of a number of plants.
