A NEW GAME LAW

This measure which will shortly be introduced in the legislature is intended to take the place of all other laws general, special or local and is very sweeping in its pro visions.

The first section forbids Sunday hunting and shooting and provides a penalty of $25 for violation.

The second section relates to song and insectivorous birds, enumerating them, and is for their protection. They cannot under it be killed or taken by any one except those holding a scientific certificate.

The third and fourth sections make the open season from October 15th to December 15th for birds and deer and puts a ban on all deer hunting with dogs in this wise: " Any dog or dogs pursuing or killing any elk, deer or fawn, or following on the track of any elk, deer or fawn are hereby declared a public nuis

If enacted in a law this bill would seem to be ample protection for the city sportsmen, and to some extent to game, but it lacks one very important element in that it does not protect the land owners. If a protect the land owners. If a protect the land owners. If a protect the land owners. protect the land owners. If a provision were added that no one should be allowed to hunt or fish on the lands of another without consent of of the owner the farmer would have souther building scenarious partment, the adjutant general's office and other state offices, which narrowly escaped destruction. About 100 feet south is the modern grantle building known as the except the south of the owner the farmer would have his rights too, in this matter. If this is not done the bill ought not to become a law.

ROAD LAW CHANGES.

The new road law proposed will materially change the present method of managing road matters. The selected for three supervisors will be elected for three years who will employ an overseer, half the tax will be payable in cash, ten mills may be laid, and, under certain conditions thirty. The change from the old system is sweeping and radical, but farmers bays been arrested. THE PENNSYLVANIA CAPITOL IS DE-STROYED BY FIRE.

Historic Old Structure, Built Early In the Century-Many Valuable Records Lost. The Lors In Estimated at $1,500,000. Legislators Driven Out by Flames,

HARRISBURG, Feb. 3 .- The legislative halls are in ruins. A new structure must rise from the ashes that has served as a meeting place of the Pennsylvania legislature since 1832. The flames have eaten up $1,500,000 worth of property. The house was in session, and the senate was about to convene, after a few minutes' recess, when the flames were discovered. Smoke could be seen in small volumes pouring out into the capitol grounds from the house windows. The members were not mindful of it until the great clouds rolled by the windows. The fifth section is the one which will be most far-reaching, and occasion greatest discussion. It prohibits hunting, for the purpose of selling the carree and makes it and attein way down into the senate chamber. Soon the men who were trying to recover property were driven out. The flames shot along the senate roof, wound themselves about the dome and on to the roof of the house chamber. Although there was a heavy min and snow falling, the woodwork burned like tinder Soon there was fire in every portion of the building, and there was no hope for the historic structure, of which there now only remains

HARRISBURG LETTER.

The Various Reform Bills Now Being Pushed.

USELESS EXPENDITURE VOTED.

Noth Mouses Pass a Resolution Providing for the Spending of $30,000 for Mailing Legislative Records-Anti-Treating and Other New Measures.

HARRISBURG, Feb. 1.—Owing to what the agricultural sections of the state have the agricultural sections of the state have suffered under the existing horse racing law, which has practically abolished county fairs, a race track bill which is to be introduced in the house this week will probably be one of the most interesting of all the proposed legislative measures. The bill is intended to modify the present antipool law, which is admitted to have overresched the purpose of its legislative supporters and blighted important agricultural interests.

The new bill is backed by most of the agricultural societies of the state, as well as the various racing associations, includ-ing those of Philadelphia and vicinity, and McKee's Rocks, Allegheny county. fly limiting to twenty-five the number of days for racing in a year, on any established track, and allowing restricted pool selling on that number of days, the proposed law is expected to practically prevent the construction of new race tracks

The bill specifies that no part of the twenty-five days' racing, with the pool seiling confined to the grounds and to the races there in progress, shall be done in the period from Nov. I to April 30, inclusive and there shall not be more than six ive, and there shall not be more than six days of the sport in any one of the six months from May to October, included.

It is argued that this arrangement will restore the lost vitality of the county fair grounds throughout the state, while at the same time barring out the gambling and other evils which prompted a former legislature to action, the results of which may not have been foreseen and were cer-tainly not desired by the farming com-munities. The bill, therefore, is expected to receive its main support from representatives in whose countles the former pposition to even such restrictions as are ow to be put upon pools found its chief

Many Reform Measures. The Municipal League's seven reform ills recently introduced include one aimed against political assessments on ofaimed against political assessments on of-ficeholders' salaries or wages. A bill for the same purpose is among the several Quay reform measures, which will be in-troduced this week. Another Municipal League bill on civil service applies only to Philadelphis, while the Quay project is for a state commission and would be a general law. A third hill from the League puts increased restrictions around municipal contracts. The other League municipal contracts. The other League bills, in addition to putting the tax office and city treasury under civil service rules, would bar out city councilmen from holding public office of profit, and would require an income from franchises and reduce the number of members in councils, electing the select councilmen at targe.

The Quay lieutenants say they are ready to take from the Municipal league bills or elsewhere any suggestions that may improve the Quay bills, although the latter are claimed to be more radical than any other measures yet introduced on the same subjects. All the league bills, as well as the contained reform plans including other municipal reform plans, including those of Senator Quay, will be acted upon by the house municipal affairs committee, in which there are two Wauamaker vot-ers, and the municipal corporations com-mittee of the senate, in which all the Republicans were Penrose voters.

Representative Keator's bill to create a salaried commission, with qualifications of supreme court justices, for the purpose of sorutinizing all bills as soon as reported from committees, and again just before taken or shot in the State, and affixes a penalty of $100 for killing, and the less is complete.

Extravagance in Expenditure. There was a resolution passed by the enate recently, as well as by the house, which means a uscless expenditure of $80,-000 of the people's money. There was but one dissenting vote in the senate, and none in the house. The resolution provides that hereafter forty copies of the Legislative Record shall be allotted to each member of the legislature daily, to be mailed to their constituents.

It costs just about two cents each day to mail these Records. This is an unnecesto mail these Records. This is an unnecessary expense of 8200 per day. For 180 days of a session it means just $30,000, exclusive of the increased cost of publishing.

The Legislative Record in the past has been one of the superb "fakes" of every legislative session. It has frequently been legislative session. It has frequently been an unending source of annoyance to the members. Notonly has it been notoriously inaccurate at times, but it has rarely appeared with regularity. At one time, several sessions ago, The Record was over a week behind time. Already this session have there been two members in the house who have found it necessary to correct the publication.

The anti-treating bill, offered by Mr.
McElhaney, of Allegheny, does not carry in its provisions any reference to the word
"treating." Its enacting section provides that it shall be unlawful for any person holding a license for the sale of liquor to allow any person or persons to drink upon or around the premises intoxicating liquors, except such have been paid for by the person who proposes to drink it. The penalty imposed is a fine of not more than $500 nor less than $50, with optional imprisonment for not more than personnent for not more than one was or erisonment for not more than one year or ess than one month, by order of the court.

Bills to Protect the Plag. There have been two bills introduced which provide for psualties for dishonorwhich provide for penalties for dishonoring or descrating the American flag. Representative Farr, of Lackawanna, and Representative Keafor, of Philadelphia, are the authors of these bills. Strangely enough neither provides for the descration of the flag by advertisers. They simply make provision that it shall be unlawful for any person to wifully or malidously take down, pollute, injure, remove or in any manner damage or destroy or offer an insult to an American flag or flag-staff.

To Protect Organized Labor. Jerry N. Weller, of Carbon county, who one of the officers of the Railway Employes' association, is the author of the bill which was presented last Thursday, which makes it a misdemeanor, punish-able with a fine of not less than $1,000 and imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, for any officer, agent or employe of any corporation, state or foreign, to coerce, or attempt to coerce, any employe of such corporation from joining a lawful labor organization. The coercion de-scribed means discharge, or threat to discharge from employment, or the black-listing of any persons who shall be mem-bers of such organization. It is a sweep-ing measure, and the object is to protect railroad employes, especially those who are members of or desire to connect them-solves with any of the railroad organizations that are now in existence in this

The female school teachers of the state, who as a rule, in the rural districts especially, are paid less than male teachers, ar to be protected under a bill offered by Seyfert, of Lancaster. The bill makes it obligatory upon school directors to pay fe-male teachers in public schools the same compensation as is allowed to male teachers for a like service, when holding the same grade of certificates. The penalty for fallure to enforce this law is removal from office of any offending director or controller. The female teacher thus discriminated against is required to prove by one reliable witness before any court of record that she is unjustly discriminated against, and this shall be the grounds for removal of a director.

From the Democratic side of the house there comes a bill which is still further dethere comes a bill which is still further designed to increase the cost of public printing. Representative Lennon, of Lehigh county, proposes by law to place in each public school of the state, above the primary grade, one copy of Smull's Legislative Handbook, and one copy of the school laws and decisions. The passage of this bill would more than double the present publication of Smull's Handbook.

Proposed College Appropriations. The appropriation bills have not been coming in rapidly as yet. The general publication of the fact that the state will be short of funds has, perhaps, had a deterrent effect. Among the new bills appearing, however, is one appropriating $200,000 to Lebigh university. It is offered by Mr. Welss, of Northampton. The bill is prefaced by a series of whereases, setting forth the fact that Lehigh university is worthy of the appropriation in view of the fact that for nearly thirty years it has maintained high courses of technical in-struction entirely free, of course, to all students.

It also claimed that the small charge for At also claimed that the small charge for tuition imposed since 1892 is inadequate to meet the current expenses of the uni-versity, while the normal income from its endowment fund is temporarily sus-

The appropriation is asked for in view of the fact that the university is sorely in need of funds, and also to carry out the wish of its founder, that no students of good character and scholarship should be barred from obtaining an education in onsequence of his inability to pay tuition The fight of the week is likely t center tonight, when an attempt is to be made to line up the house on the Mitchell resolution to investigate the state treasury and auditor general's office. The anti-Quay people have opposed this for the reason that it will not amount to anything in the end.

The real reform needed in the state treasury is a law compelling the payment of 3 per cent. Interest by banks upon all could be any assurance that the appointment of an investigating committee would not interfere with the passage of the S per cent interest bill, the anti-Quay, or "Seventy-six," would vote for the investigating resolution to a man.

State Treasurer Haywood has finished the preparation of his annual report to the legislature, and it contains some rather interesting information concerning the state finances. state finances.

Treasurer Haywood's Report. The total receipts during the year ending Nov. 80, 1896, were $19,918,848.59, to which was added a balance of $3,409,654.07, making the available funds during the year $16,345,497.60. There was paid out $11,250,363.47, leaving a balance of $5,002,604.19, of which $4,250,257 was in the general fund. The receipts of the sinking fund were $343,087.50, and a balance of $440,685.19 was added making $1,088,722.69; of this $276,-575.50 was paid out, isaving a balance of $812,347.19 cash. The total assets of the sinking fund are $5,164.180.53, made up of above cash, United States bonds, Allegheny Valley railroad bonds and interest.

The general fund receipts were $12,955,756,00 and there was a balance of $2,989,018.88, making a total of $15,254,776.97. The payments from the general fund during the year were $11,004,517.97, and the bal-ance on hand at the end of the year was

In conclusion, Mr. Haywood says: "The balance due to common schools for the surrent appropriation year to Philadelphia on state personal tax; the quarterly payments for the next six months on appropriations made by the last legislature to charitable, reformators, educational. to charitable, reformatory, educational and training institutions; salaries to judges and state officers; to the National Guard, etc., together with the expenses of the incoming legislature, will not only consume all of the above balances, but will require, in addition, a large portion of the receipts for the same period."
