CORRESPONDENCE. Correspondents are particularly requested to send in all news intended for publication not later than Wednesday in each week to insure insertion.

LAYTON. (Special Correspondence to the Press.) Layton, Feb. 15.—Harvey Hornbeck has taken possession of the Normanack Inn near Normanack Lake, and will move in with his family as soon as the river is in condition for crossing. Colonel Mallett its present proprietor is desirous of making this fine location an attraction, and a nucleus around which many city people will congregate in the near future in which he doubtless will succeed.

The Pension Department has cut the number of Agencies from 18 to 9. They will hereafter consist of Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Washington, Columbia, Indianapolis, Chicago, St. Louis and San Francisco. These points will now accommodate the total list of pensioners amounting to about 970,678. The saving in expenses to the Government by this plan is estimated will exceed $100,000 annually.

The exhibition at Hainesville on the eve of Feb. 18 is expected to be unusually perfect. As it will have become a thing of the past ere this paper reaches the reader all will have enjoyed it and passed judgment upon accordingly as to whether the fruits has justified the glowing promise of its bloom. We hope so.

Geo. Owens is canvassing this town for "Kings hand book of United States History." It is considered a very full and complete summary of statistics as well as historical information respecting the states. George is selling them right along.

Levi Westbrook a son of Mrs. Ellen Westbrook, died last Friday night aged about 21 years. The family have the sympathies of their many friends and neighbors in their sad affliction.

A considerable number of farmers in this valley will dispose with hired help on their farms this year, who have seldom done so before. There is certainly nothing in the present prices of produce to justify paying the same wages that were paid when produce would bring nearly double what it does now. Too many farmers realize now that for several years they have farmed almost solely for the benefit of their hired help in the sense that it took about all their profits to meet their wages.

The entertainment at the Brick House for the M. E. Pastor amounted to $93, and is yet as we understand in the hands of the entertainment committee on account of the pastors refusal to accept money taken in as an entertainment held in a hotel. It would be wise, if so to expend that money in genuine charity.

Esten Bevans with a full load of young folks was out trying the sleighing Saturday night. They made quite a little racket, perhaps, and thoroughly enjoyed themselves, but as to noise who ever knew of a big sled load of young people, with a good team and bells in front, the koon crisp air and stars above, the crackling snow beneath, that wouldn't make some noise. Anybody would remember their own youth and cheerfully accord them much more latitude in that way than they took Saturday night. Yes, Yes to be sure.

Mrs. Sally Everett will break up keeping house and hereafter reside with her daughter and grandson, Jacob McCarty along the river. Her present residence will be rented to Cory Bell of Montague, who will enter the employ of James M. Stoll the popular merchant of Hainesville.

No person can so well retain his own self respect as the one who is open to conviction and willing to hear and weigh both sides of a case. No other can so well claim to be absolutely correct, although such are really the last persons in the world who will insist in it. They are keenly alive to the fact that the known is little, very little as compared to the immense world of the unknown.

Wash Lantz the popular butcher has rented the well known Phillips or Myers farm of James Myers opposite his mill, this will add very much to the convenience of Mr. Lantz in his butcher business as this is a fine grass and hay farm and will carry a large stock.

I hear the New Jersey Herald is to have the printing of the Town Statement this year, but did not learn the exact terms. This seems a little ungrateful to the "Gazette" as that was the only paper after the "Sussex Beginner" that did not seem to be in on a grab for all they could get out of it. The "Gazette" has done good work heretofore, and the Lord knows that no one could ask it any cheaper.

The farm of the late Wm. P. Struble at Myrtle Grove in Hampton township was sold on the 15th inst to close the estate of Elizabeth Rommkrans deceased. It went to Mrs. Ann W. Kye of Newton for $2350. This farm was considered good value 30 years ago at $10,000.

Any one having copies of the Press to spare of volume 1st Numbers 3 to 14 inclusive 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22 and 40, please write box 6, Layton, N. J., stating numbers and prices. The writer wishes to complete his file.

Doctor Martin Cole is quite a successful grower of evergreens and has a cordon of them growing all along his door-yard fence and walks. Their bright green foliage attracts the eye at this season of the year, and relieves the landscape of its wintry aspect.

To an artistic eye perhaps their price severity of outline would clash with nature's requirements and the varying ornament becomes a very nightmare. However as we are not all artists we can appreciate their delightful green while leaving the outline to impress others. As a landmark one couldn't forget them even if he wished.

Mr. Isiah Gariss our noted mail carrier and all round genius, is now soliciting subscriptions for Hon. Wm. J. Bryan's new book entitled "The First Battle." The price is very moderate considering its 500 pages and we predict for it a large sale. Delivery begins about April 1st or soon after.

The Chicken Pie supper at Hainesville last Friday night was fairly well attended. The provisions as usual were on an ample scale just as they do things at Hainesville and if any went away hungry it must have been their own fault. About $25 was secured.

Isaac Westbrook and family will move April 1st from the Cole farm below Layton to Pompton, Passaic county, N. J. The entire family of Mr. James J. Shotwell at home, is confined to the house with the prevailing ailments of the season. Fortunately his daughter, Mrs. Lily Struble and her husband arrived home from Middletown where they live, and are able to give their parents the attention they so much need just at this time.

Many of the sick to whom we have referred in previous items, we are sorry to say are not improving as their friends had fondly anticipated. The cranky weather is responsible for much of the trouble.

Several of the sick around Layton were pleased to receive a flying call from Floyd P. and Kate Fuller, of Walpack on Tuesday. Their presence was as welcome as a perfume laden zephyr of the summer time. I wonder whether Honest? John or his "assistant" wrote that silly doggerel from Bevans in a recent issue of the Gazette. Whoever did deserves a maul and a fowl cap for it is neither true nor witty. Just simply a thing for its author to be ashamed of.

Mrs. Julia Van Sickle, of Bevans who has been nursing the sick in the family of Mr. John H. Wood, Port Jervis during the last month or more returned to her home on Monday last.

GREENTOWN. (Special Correspondence to the Press.) Greentown, Feb. 15.—Baxter B. Kipp who has been to the hospital at Philadelphia returned home Feb. 10. He is improving as rapidly as can be expected has not been troubled with his old complaint since the operation took place. We sincerely hope the operation although nothing was found will prove beneficial to him.

D. J. Lester who lost a valuable team horse about two weeks ago and purchased another fine mare that weighs 1385 pounds. Lewis Affard of this place who has been confined to the house suffering with neuralgia and inflammation of the lungs we are glad to say under the treatment of A. J. Simons M. D. is able to be out again.

The meeting at South Sterling on Sunday Feb. 14 was the occasion of a very social time. The Sunday school and Epworth League of N. Holton, the C. E. society and Sunday school of Leasana Pike county and representatives from Hemlock Grove, together with the Epworth League and Sunday school of South Sterling met in the M. E. Church at that place. The services were conducted by the Pastor, Rev. J. H. Boyce. The Sunday school topic for that day was taken up and all present seemed to enjoy the exercises which consisted in recitations after the lesson topic was discussed, and addresses by several that represented the various societies mentioned.

The revival services at South Sterling still continue conducted by Evangelist J. Shelhorn of Ashland, N. J. Jesse R. Burrus has been granted an increase from six to ten dollars per month pension.

The Ladies Aid will meet at A. D. Frisbie on Wednesday Feb. 24. The road along B. F. Kipp's mill dam is in a dangerous condition. One of E. H. Gilpin's teams while passing there with a load of logs slid off the bank, fortunately no serious damage was done. It would be well for our supervisors to fix up such places and thereby save trouble and perhaps a bill of damages.

Commissioner Newnam passed through Greentown Sunday afternoon.

MONTAGUE. (Special Correspondence to the Press.) Montague, Feb. 14.—Some Milford wag remembered us with a beauty.

Sleighting at last. Here are the changes to take place April 1, so far as known. Geo. Cortright goes back on his farm, Gabriel Crono from the Cortright to the Linn Herulebeck farm, Lawrence Weisman from the M. V. Westbrook farm to the Kilsbeth Bennett farm, Will Westbrook on the M. V. Westbrook farm, Eleazar Shiner from the Bennett farm to the Eleonora Cole house, Dayton Deque from the John Y. Clark farm on to the M. Cole farm near Layton, Donalds Abers from Hainesville to the Clark farm John Boeler from his father's farm to Greentown.

The Carpet Bag Social last Tuesday evening was well attended the supper as usual was good, and netted $31. Frank did not show up.

Jas. E. Cole is a candidate for re-election for collector, Geo. Cortright went object to being re-elected as Freeholder. Come out ye candidates so we know who you are!

Mr. Fiers Townsend of Morristown is visiting his old home here.

Mrs. Susan DeWitt, of Port Jervis spent several days down here visiting her mother Mrs. A. Townsend.

Rev. F. H. Mackenzie, of Port Jervis, called down here Thursday.

Frank Korz and Fred Reinhardt attended a dance at Cohanzeo Wednesday evening.

The farm of an elderwife at Tappanville last Saturday evening reached us. One very good impression upon the audience present. He returns on Tuesday evening in Sparrowhawk at the Union Chapel.

A Birthday Party. Master Floyd Kilpatrick of Matamoras celebrated his 15th birthday with a very pleasant party. Monday evening about 30 of his young friends assembled to pay their respects to Master Floyd, each one bringing some little gift as a token of their friendship. A very nice supper was prepared by his mother and the little Misses and Masters did ample justice to it. Games were indulged in. All had a merry time. His young friends hope to visit him again on the return of another birthday.

An Apron and Sockle Social. This Social which was to have taken place last Thursday evening was postponed until this Friday evening. It is to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Hunt, 10 cents is charged for an apron, 5 cents for a tie and 10 cents for refreshments. All friends are invited to be present.

Death of An Old Man in Pond Eddy. On Saturday the 13th inst., A. W. Balch, J. P. was called to Pond Eddy by telegram saying a man had died suddenly, and investigation proved that one Thomas Griffin, about seventy years old, had been found dead in a chair at his home (or the place he staid in) over Maloney's blacksmith shop. He had been sick for more than a week and had been called on once by Dr. Johnson from Shohola, who said it would be impossible to do anything for him so long as he remained in his present surroundings, and without proper care and nursing. He was said to be a very eccentric character, had lived in Pond Eddy for more than twenty years, and no one knew of his having any friends or relatives whatever. His possessions so far as could be seen were almost worthless except sixty-five dollars in gold found in an old trunk unlocked, each piece wrapped separately in pieces of newspapers, and twenty-nine cents in his trousers pockets. PETS.

PORT JERVIS. (Special Correspondence to the Press.) Port Jervis, Feb. 17.—8, Morris was invited by Carroll Post to serve as chaplain of last week on Wednesday at the funeral of soldier Davis from his late residence at Germantown. He also preached at Sparrowhawk, N. Y., on Sabbath evening the 14th, and at the revival service now in progress in the Evangelical church in Port Jervis on Monday evening.

The writer visited on Tuesday the 16th with Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Van Gordon of Matamoras and spent several pleasant hours. He found them both in excellent health, their grand-daughter, Miss Van Gordon was married on Monday evening to Mr. Wm. Buchanan of Port Jervis by R. H. Collins.

The writer was the guest on Thursday and Friday last, of Geo. E. Horton.

FRUTCHEY. (Special Correspondence to the Press.) Frutchey, Pa., Feb. 16.—The Pine Ridge M. E. Church will hold an organ supper and festival on Monday night, Feb. 22nd, at the house of Mrs. Kate Bahback near the church. A general invitation is given to all. If stormy the next night.

GREELEY. (Special Correspondence to the Press.) Greeley, Feb. 16.—Business is booming since the last fall of snow. The lumbermen are rushing the logs to the mill to beat the band. From 14 to 16 loads come daily.

W. V. Burcher is getting a very nice stock of logs. The piling grounds is well filled up. If the sleighing lasts much longer he will have a good summer sawing.

Mrs. C. M. Burcher is on the sick list at present.

Miss Estella Cooper has been spending a few days at Lackawanna with her friend, Belle Asher.

W. V. Burcher is hauling quite an amount of coal from Hawley this winter. Mrs. Kerly is quite unwell from an attack of lagrippe. Mrs. Nickolas Klao does not improve very fast, not as rapid as her friends would like to see her.

Dr. Howard and friend Charles Stinehart called at the home of George Hartwell Sunday evening.

Miss Carrie Reulme has been home for a week visiting her parents, and returned to the city last Sunday.

Rumor says the Masquarde Ball at the Greeley club house did not come off as well as usual. The attendance was small for that occasion. It has always been a grand affair for a number of years back. The whooping cough it still on its rounds although we see some of the victims are out sleigh riding.

Miss Cooper went home on Tuesday to Shohola Falls with the mail carrier Lizzie Greening.

Well election is here and it will not be long before those that were elected will know it and those that didn't want one whether they know it or not.

Missie Witt and her friend, Barbara Knochen were out for a sleigh ride on Monday.

MATAMORAS. (Special Correspondence to the Press.) The Silver Wedding of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Van Gilder.

The Silver Wedding reception of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Van Gilder took place at their beautiful home in Matamoras on Monday evening, Feb. 15. One hundred invitations had been issued and nearly all responded. At a few minutes after eight the guests began to assemble. Mr. John Carnis performed the duty of usher. Mr. and Mrs. Van Gilder received their guests and congratulatory in a pleasing manner.

The Ladies at Epworth Church. On Monday evening a lecture given by Mr. Arney of New York entitled "Scenes behind the Curtain" was well attended. He also told of his empty coat sleeve and many other things and made a very good impression upon the audience present. He returns on Tuesday evening in Sparrowhawk at the Union Chapel.

On Saturday the 13th inst., A. W. Balch, J. P. was called to Pond Eddy by telegram saying a man had died suddenly, and investigation proved that one Thomas Griffin, about seventy years old, had been found dead in a chair at his home (or the place he staid in) over Maloney's blacksmith shop. He had been sick for more than a week and had been called on once by Dr. Johnson from Shohola, who said it would be impossible to do anything for him so long as he remained in his present surroundings, and without proper care and nursing. He was said to be a very eccentric character, had lived in Pond Eddy for more than twenty years, and no one knew of his having any friends or relatives whatever. His possessions so far as could be seen were almost worthless except sixty-five dollars in gold found in an old trunk unlocked, each piece wrapped separately in pieces of newspapers, and twenty-nine cents in his trousers pockets. PETS.
