MONTAGUE.

(Special Correspondence to the Press.)

Montague, March 21.—The law suit between Harold Chambers, plaintiff, vs. Wm. Reinhardt, defendant, of this town, was tried before Judge James H. Fuller and a jury at Halmesville on the 17th inst. brought together a large crowd at the Halmesville hotel. John Swaine, Esq., of Newton, appeared for Mr. Chambers, while Mr. Reinhardt defended his own case. Considerable legal sparring was indulged in which kept the crowd in good humor. The jury Messrs. Jos. Hornbeck, Dennis Abers, Benj. Hersh, Saml. Major, Wm. Johnson and Benj. Jager, after deliberating one hour, brought in a verdict of no cause of action. Constable H. Ludwig had charge of them.

Major Richard Goodman, of Newton, was at the law suit to represent the Sussex Register, the New Jersey Herald, Port Jervis Gazette, Union and the little PIRE COUNTY PRESS were all represented.

O dear! Did somebody who thought they had a cat in a bag, get badly left last Tuesday? Gentlemen, when you want to play tricks and think the other fellow is asleep, don't believe it. You can't tell how many friends he has.

Messrs. Rundle, Cole and Ludwig were re-elected trustees for a term of three years.

There will be another school meeting of the legal voters of this town on April 8th, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon in School House No. 4, (Clare) to vote on or against another school school tax of $100 to put new roofs on school houses No. 2 and 3.

There is lots of dissatisfaction over the action of our town committee yesterday when it appointed the following overseers and apportioned the annexed amounts to each: J. Kerr, 130; M. V. Westbrook, 60; George Cortright, 80; Frank Black, 100; Jas. A. Rundle, 75; DeWitt Little, 40; John Everett, 120; David Westfall, 180; Peter Pasch, 40; Jacob Hutten, 40; Alonzo Little, 40; Henry Merring, 35; Urban Abers, 30; Wm. Cortright, 50; George Davis, 70; Wm. Romer, 40; Wade Westbrook, 130. The appointments are all right, but it has leaked out that too many promises had been made and it was found impossible to keep them all, hence the racket.

George Horton, Dan Gregory, John and Samuel Detrick and Abe Van Auker, the Jersey granger, represented Milford at the Shimer Sale Thursday.

Hon. Jacob Swartwout, of Wantage, Britton Westbrook, of Branchville, and Mrs. Susan Dewitt, of Port Jervis, were visitors in Montague last week.

Joshua Cole and John D. Van Auker are on the sick list.

Birdsell Cole will remain on the Evi Shimer farm.

Mud is plenty and deep at present.

L. A. S. meets at the residence of Daniel Producers on Thursday, April 1st.

Thomas Dutton, Jr. is the only petitioner from this town for the April term of court.

Your devil must have had a fly in his eye last week. I wrote Mrs. M. Craven is still very ill and not Mrs. M. Breason. There is no such person over here.

Thanks to your other correspondent, he saved us some labor. Dicq.

DINGMAN'S FERRY.

(Special Correspondence to the Press.)

Dingman's Ferry, March 24. We are pleased to see W. H. Layton back again in his old home. He has been living for the past winter in a house belonging to Andrew Albright, as it was nearer to Long Meadow where he is teaching school.

What is the matter with the supervisor of Centre district? I am afraid I will have to jog his memory about those two small bridges one at Center and the other near W. H. Layton's as they are unsafe.

Death, again, has visited our little community, and it is our sad and painful duty to chronicle the death of Miss Ella Smith, beloved daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Smith of Center, after an illness of short duration. She was aged about 24 years. Of late death's insatiable maw has claimed the matured flowers in this locality whose petals had already begun to fall, but in the death of Ella he struck his venomous shaft at one just over the threshold of budding womanhood just to bloom and die. The deceased was pleasant, affable and compassionate, and her many friends tender their heartfelt sympathy and their condolence to the bereaved family in this their greatest affliction. The funeral took place on Tuesday the 21st inst. The relatives and friends met at the house at 1 o'clock. Service was held at the Reformed church the Rev. Mr. Myles of Dingmans officiating.

IN MEMORIAM.

The grief that pierced the parent's heart, What time they mourned thee in the silent throng, Dearest the penative strains my heart imparts, Methinks I see them bending o'er thy bed, With streaming eyes and hearts upraised in prayer, I view them bowing o'er their dead Slinking from sadness to despair, I see them gazing on thy pliant face, While as the shroud which wraps thee clay, On which no smile a parent's eye may trace, Or view the blush of life's bright summer day, Where many youthful forms do sleep, We see their weeping o'er the lovely mound, As woe's parents oft have wept, Near mourning parents weep no more, She moves the empyrean fields above, And now upon that beautiful shore, She shares a heavenly Father's love. —U.

LAYTON.

(Special Correspondence to the Press.)

Layton, March 23.—The participants in the Carpet Rag and Poverty Social in the chapel at Bevas, on the 17th, report a splendid time. All who got there enjoyed themselves thoroughly, and it is said of those who did not get there that they kicked themselves the balance of the week, as a sort of penance for having missed one of the chapel entertainments. It is one of the places where you are always sure of a good time. Receipts $25.00 with trifling expenses of about $2.00.

What has become of the Matamoras correspondent who writes those funny letters? We watch every issue for them, and hope their author will remember us occasionally at least.

The surprise party at the home of Mrs. Julius Rosenkrans on the 18th had a full attendance and the evening was pleasantly passed. Mrs. Rosenkrans and family gave their visitors every attention, which was duly appreciated and added materially to their enjoyment.

What a reign of mud, mud, mud we have had during the last fortnight. With roads so wet, narrow and flat, and then cut up by the heavy loads of the wagons, a general invocation that is in no sense religious sounds daily. Oh! that intelligence would call a halt on this annual waste of public money, and devote itself to something more permanent and lasting than the scraping of soil to the center of the road to make dust in summer and mud in fall and spring.

We beg to remind those concerned in working the roads, that the idea of those first using the road machine was to widen the roads from year to year. The effect of this would be to obtain new earth, and would also permit a higher road center. The wider the road the more convex it can be and the less likely it is to retain surface water. If the public will not rise to the expediency of a sensible method of using public money in the widening of roads for the roads, let us ferretly pay for state control of our roads, for "good" roads are cheaper at almost any cost. However with brains, and the money expended we should have had much better dirt roads in this township during the last three years than we have had.

What would you think of a Postmaster who would allow your Postoffice box to become a dumping ground for various matters, whether it is addressed and stamped, or whether it is not. And who makes public the mail you receive with other particulars about it. We guess some Postmasters think their office is an attachment of their own to be used in furtherance of their personal ends. We are pleased to learn that the Department does not take that view of it.

The business directory in the Press is a useful feature and one to be commended. Any one can see at a glance who is doing business in Milford, and where to find them. Business men should especially appreciate it.

Job C. Elliott has developed quite a feed business at his place near Normanock. Last week he distributed 700 bushels of oats, besides corn, bran, hominy and other feeds which he buys in straight car lots. Some would be surprised to know how many car loads Job handles during a year and he is five miles from the station at that. He sells at a small margin of profit, and that is the secret of his growing business.

The people of Frankford voted an appropriation for a pair, or quartet of steel cells to be located in the borough of Branchville. The Sanction gentlemen who pointed that village a bright gem in one evening, a couple of weeks ago are gently reminded that the cells will soon be in position and the next time they will be indicted therein. They are said to be built on a plan that renders their refrigerating qualities perfect and are warranted to bring the occupant out thoroughly cooled and in a condition to appreciate blue fire instead of red.

MATAMORAS.

(Special Correspondence to the Press.)

Matamoras, March 25.—The Kings Daughters gave a social in honor of the Rev. Mr. Curtis of Epworth Church, at the home of Mrs. Elvora Durgan, on Tuesday evening. It was a very pleasant affair. The young ladies made it very pleasant. Refreshments were served. This social was celebrating the birth day of Mrs. Durgan's son. We wish many happy returns of this pleasant event to Mrs. Durgan, and we trust the Rev. Mr. Curtis will be with us another year. He has done good work in Matamoras, his many friends would be pleased to have him return.

The good Templars of Matamoras and Port Jervis celebrated the 50th birthday of Neal Boy on Saturday evening last at Monday Hall. The occasion was largely succeeded. The program was not only carried out to the letter, but in spirit, for no one could hear and not feel the truth that is spoken. The open chalice, American Miss Mary Squires presiding at the Piano as accompanist was sung with an earnestness that caused one to think that not only was freedom deserved in this country of ours from slavery, but from the thralldom of intoxication. The piano solo by Miss Mary Squires was rendered in her usual pleasing manner. Rev. G. E. Gillespie addressed on temperance showing that if the roof of a house leaks how it destroys that which is within, so if in temperance our bodies, minds and souls become impaired. His address was most helpful, and suggestive. The closing ode "God be with you till we meet again" was sung and we have reason to think it was the heartiest prayer of all.

The Ladies Christian Union connected with Hope church gave a "blossom" tea on Thursday evening at the parlance. The word "blossom" naturally suggests the contents of that name and many expected that the ladies present would be arrayed in blossoms but such was not the case. What then were the blossoms?

Why, Forty-five potted plants all in bloom, Arranged with beauty about the room. A slight mist pleasing to the eye And one that money could not buy.

Among the floral beauties were one small, containing 17 actual count 20 blossoms; one petal containing 37 blossoms; one mammoth petal, begonia, geraniums and other flowers in profusion. The word "blossoms" in gift letters was strung across the front of the floral exhibition and the ladies in attendance blossomed out with every variety of beautiful floral ornamentation. And the support? On that head it is sufficient to say that the ladies kept up their record and we all know what that is. The scripture says was simply perfect. The time passed swiftly in pleasant social intercourse and the games of various sorts. The receipts of the evening were over $19, which considering the disagreeable weather, was large. The ladies are to be congratulated on the success of their affair.

The C. E. Society of the Epworth church of this village will hold a Cap Social at the home of merchant George Langton, Friday evening, March 26th. A musical program has been arranged of both vocal and instrumental music. A fine time is promised all who may attend.

Mrs. A. H. Miler and daughter, Josie of Elmville, N. Y., are the guests of Mrs. Charles Snyder of Matamoras.

Miss Alice Quick, of Matamoras was very pleasantly surprised on Wednesday evening by about 40 of her young friends. Miss Alice, with a friend, had gone to prayer meeting at the church, and after services, on her returning home found her friends assembled at her home. The young lady was equal to the situation. She enjoyed the surprise very much. Games were indulged in and the evening was passed in a very pleasant manner. Refreshments were served. Every one voted Miss Alice had a very pleasant home to have a surprise party at and will give her another one at some future time.

The Ladies' Aid Society connected with Epworth church gave a pink tea on Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Charles Snyder. The tables were decorated in pink and on each plate was a pink souvenir. Tea was served in first class style and the ladies, who had it in charge did everything to make it pleasant for their friends. Good music was enjoyed. A number of young ladies favored the audience with some fine selections on the piano. Over $10 was realized.

GREELEY.

(Special Correspondence to the Press.)

Greeley March 23.—Sunday was a lovely day and a good number took advantage of it. There seemed to be a good many out both on business and pleasure.

Mr. Show Chitester is contemplating building a new house this spring at Glen Eyre. He was out to Burchers looking up the lumber for same. Mr. Ellinger was looking after lumber at the same time.

Charles Chitester drove to Burchers on Sunday.

It seems to be quite a business day at the Glen.

Peter Hupp lost a very valuable horse last Tuesday. He had been to Burchers mill putting on some logs to be saved and on his way home his horse dropped dead in the road. He could give no reason for it as it showed no signs of sickness previous to it.

Mrs. C. M. Burcher returned to her home at this place last Wednesday from Piermont where she had been visiting her parents and other friends for three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. John Greening spent last week at Peckville with their sons, Jake and Edward Greening returning home on Sunday.

Charles Burcher and wife spent a few days at Dingmans, Wayne county with the former aunt, Miss Tina Burcher.

Dr. Howard called on friends Sunday afternoon and spent the evening at Geo. Hartwell.

Geo. Adams spent Sunday with his family near Honesdale and came back to his work on Monday.

We hope those muddy roads will get settled before long so Uncle Sam will follow the mail route. Those cross roads through the mud make it very tiresome and painful for some that have a distance to go to the Postoffice with their mail.

LEDGEDALE.

(Special Correspondence to the Press.)

Ledgedale, March 23. Arthur Becker, of Carbondale is visiting his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Simons spent Saturday night and Sunday with Ira Kollan and family.

Charles Kollan is sick with the measles. Dr. A. J. Simons is attending him.

H. E. Kipp of Wilsonville was in Ledgedale last Saturday.

Smith & Watson have their single mill in running order.

Frank Kollan of Panage spent Saturday with Ledgedale friends. WAYNE

SHOHOLA.

(Special Correspondence to the Press.)

Shohola, March 25.—Mud, mud, and the muddest kind of mud, with plenty of rain in the past week have the roads in a terrible condition, almost impossible to travel them.

Charles Garrett a young man employed by Adolph Fuller proprietor of the Blue Mountain House was formerly of the village of Shohola early Monday morning for a load of hay. He allowed the horses to stand a moment when they became frightened, and he seized the rear end of the rigging and got on the wagon, whether he got the reins or not is not known, but the wagon struck a large stone which threw him off and the wheel ran over his body. He was picked up and taken to Dr. Johnson's office where he died soon after. His parents who live at Liberty, N. Y., were notified and they came out took the remains home. He was aged 22 years, and unmarried. He had been employed for several years by A. J. Mudd at Parker's Glen, and had a large number of friends.

Ed Wolf who is lumbering at Woodtown has a large order for oak planks for the Boree bridge at Port Jervis nearly filled. Mrs. Shields is quite sick with pneumonia. Dr. Johnson attends her.

Geo. Hodge and Peter Hess have about eight or ten loads of fine bag straw on Hans Bros., have purchased a large stone quarry of their father.

Wm. J. Sading lost the credit of being the best wood chopper in Shohola. We are sorry to hear that Wm. Van Brauner is on the sick list. LILLIX.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

Under this head we will insert communications on current and political topics without being responsible for the sentiments expressed. We reserve the right to edit as may be proper and of general interest to the people.—KAYTON PRESS.

A Letter from Dingmans.

DINGMAN'S FERRY, PA., March 26th, 1897.

THE PIRE COUNTY PRESS.—"O" has struck the keynote. After reading his, or her, comments in a late issue of the Press on the condition of some of the schools in Delaware, I think it peculiarly appropriate to enter a protest against the conditions shown by some of our schools (namely the lapsus linguas) directors in their regard, or rather disregard, of the comfort and health of the pupils of these schools which are denied the patent furniture.

In Cokes, particularly, the furniture, (God save the mark) is in a horrible condition. It is not only in a dilapidated state, but does and violates all known laws of gravity. The desks pitch to a frightful degree toward the scholars, while the boards, or shelf, they sit on, attached to the desk behind elevate their knees heavenward. To use these desks pupils are compelled to sit on the edge of those shelves, they are so far apart. In fact, in many cases the pupil has to stand in order to use the desk.

The writer has heard, time and again, grown people say that they felt as tired as though they had labored hard all day after sitting two hours on these shelves attending Sunday meeting. Then what torture must the school children endure, especially the smaller ones whose feet dangle six or seven inches from the floor, six hours a day and five days in a week! If a child must take his chances of becoming a physician or a lawyer, the school furniture, and the school furniture, should be so arranged as to allow our children to grow up robust and healthy. Oh, ye healers of the mind and body, think of it! Of the contradictory and conflicting elements that have entered some of our schools; a pupil with a work on physiology in one hand and hygiene in the other, sitting in an unnatural and painful position on a shelf, that should be raised to the woodpile, studying how to make and keep that mind and body in a healthy condition.

These propositions, which destroy each other, are inconsistent and should be banished from the school room. Which shall it be? Hygiene or the old lumber?

I have it from an indignant source that at a recent school meeting one of the board of directors moved that patent seats be put in the schools that are now without them, but meeting with no support whatever the motion fell flat for want of concurrence. Why such a humane motion should have been frowned upon is beyond all comprehension. All honor to the man who made that motion.

Some one has said: "I would like to see some man punished during one school term in the dear little children are punished, then I think they would look more to the comfort and health of the children."

Parents and citizens, do you want to make the school room surroundings comfortable and cheerful for your dear children, a sake if you would have them become healthy and intelligent men and women.

Gentlemen directors, the eyes of the world, (no, I mean part of Delaware) are upon you. Rise and be equal to the occasion; make one supreme effort to accomplish this needed reform, even if you have to take heroic measures and bend the township to the tune of twenty or thirty dollars. If you do not get your need of praise now, never mind, future generations will understand and appreciate your heroism, and give you doubtless fame.

DIGNATOR.

(The Press is pleased to receive communications like the above. When the people become actively interested in reforms and improvement, and make their opinions known through the papers, the press will soon work the community up to the level of forwarding officials to heed their requests. The Press is instituted, in part, to carry out this mission, to comment when deserved, to criticize when proper, to comment when merited and to give to all a fair and impartial hearing.—KAYTON.)
