Our Agricultural editor seems to be down on the crow, and we will not now attempt to discuss the merits or demerits of that symbolism of night, but what would some politicians, and other folks, too, do, when the pinching time came if they could not fall back on their reserved diet of a dish of crow?

Some farmers are fond of discuss-"close competition," and when you pass their oorn fields and potato that practice and preaching go hand in hand for there certainly is a close competition between the weeds and the crops and the latter are having a decidedly hard time of it.

"Paron to the passage of the Dingley tariff act we had scenes like those which preceded the first day of 1879. The offerers of the patent remedy stood by and jeered. They mocked at us when our fear came. But when the due legislation had been had and there was no further change to be looked forward to: when business had reached its sound basis and there was a reasonable chance to calculate the future, there came a repetition of the phenomena of 1879."-Speaker Reed in New York World.

How are our silver friends ex. gard. plaining the increase in the value of our cotton crop this year in the face of the fall of silver? Silver has fallen 20 per cent, in the past year, while cotton has so much advanced that this year's crop, although very light in quantity, will bring $25,000,000 more to the farmers of the South than that of two years ago. The "explanation which the silverites apply in the case of wheat will not do for cotton

Cuban Republic's Election. Havana, via Key West, Sept. 28.—Advices from Camaguey, the headquarters of the insurgents, confirm the previous reports of the election of Dr. Doming Mender Capote as Cuba's new presi dent. It is also stated on good authority that Bartolome Masso was re-elected vice president, that Salvador Cisneros was elected president of congress, that General Maximo Gomez has been made minister of war and that General Calixto Garcia was appointed ised at its commencement to be a lively one. There was a great deal of friction between rival chiefs, but the astute old Gomez smoothed the whole difficults over by putting forward Domingo Men dez Capote. Although it would appear that Mendez Capote was selected as a sort of compromise, his election, it is asserted, will prove a most fortunate one for the Cuban cause. hand he is spoken of with admiration and respect.

BYLVESTER BCOVEL BRINGS NEWS OF THE ARMY OF GOLD SEEKERS.

Statucies Which Beact the Skagguay Tsai and the Chilhat Puss Secretary Alger Talks With Joseph Ladue About Relief For Distressed Blondikers.

Scattle, Wash., Sept. 21.-Sylvoster Scorel, a New York newspaper correspondent, has arrived here on the steamer Readile. Mr. Scovet brings the news, which will come with comforting assurance to thousands of people who have friends on the pass, that son City before winter.

From the best information he could obtain, gathered from all sources, he believes that 2,500 men have got ove the Chilkat pass and have gone on down to the mines. These men have, however, with few exceptions, gone through with little or no supplies, the average amount taken by each man being no over 500 or 500 pounds, not more than enough to get him to the great gold-fields, where provisions are not to be

When you ask me what condition when you ask me what condition white trail is in," said Mr. Scovel, "I tell you the White pass has not been used by the thousands of men who have been climbing over the mountains from Skagguay to the lakes. Instead of using the pass the men have scrambled up along the sides of the mountains, 350 feet above the pass. The reason they have done this is that the pass itself is full of bowlders, even in its present shape being impassable. "The Canadian builders had no money for dynamite. To get away from the bowlders the miners have throughout the entire length of the pass gone of above the bowlders on the side of the hill and made their trail. The moun-tains are steep, and the trail in its present location can never be made into

The Shagguny Biver Trail. "Instead of following along the Skag-guay river bank, where there is an easy grade, though, of course, greatly ob-structed by bowlders and in places en-tirely blocked by precipitous points tirely blocked by precipitous points which jut out into the river, they have gone off to the side in their great rush to get through. The trail crosses and recrosses the river and makes long detours, which would be unnecessary by the use of a little dynamite. The sum of 85,000 would make a fine pack trail to Lake Bennett. Not more than 815-000 would be required to build a good wagon road the entire distance.

"A man with two horses and an out.

"A man with two horses and an out-fit weighing 2000 pounds could by this improved trail bring his outfit through the pass with the expenditure of less than 18 days' time. The possibility or making this trail a good one has been told me by four different engineers of high standing sent up into that coun-try by different railway companies whose names I am not at liberty to state. A railroad could be built on the same route; but, of course, what is wanted is an immediate inlet for the people there.

"The men who have gone to the Skag-guay pass with determination and grit have succeeded in getting over it with their outfits, while those devoid of these qualities have given it up in disappoint ment. It is from the latter class tha you have heard so much of the terribl hardships of the trall, tenderfeet who

By establishing frequent posts provisions might be transported.
