

Pike County Press.

VOL. 2.

MILFORD, PIKE COUNTY, PA., FRIDAY, OCTOBER 1, 1897.

NO. 48.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

To Keep Out the Anarchists.

Patent Attorney Disbarred—Prosperity in the West Has Come and Populists Are Scared.

Extraordinary efforts are being made by the administration to keep European anarchists out of this country. Our immigration laws are not as specific as they might be in prohibiting the landing of anarchists but as there are many ways to kill a man there are many ways to keep anarchists away from the United States, and all of them are being utilized by immigration Commissioner Powell, who is being actively assisted by the diplomatic consular branch of the government service. The officials of several European governments are also lending their assistance to the efforts that are being made to prevent anarchists from making a start for America. All of the steamship companies have also been notified that they must comply strictly with the act of 1891, which provides that no foreigner who enters our ports in violation of the law through the ignorance of the inspectors, may be returned at the expense of transportation company which originally brought him here. This law throws great responsibility on the ship owners, who must not only bear the expense of transporting the anarchists, or any other illegal immigrants, back to the place whence they came, but must maintain them between voyages. The penalty for failure to comply with this law is $300 fine in each case and the vessel can not leave port until the fine is paid.

Hon. Benj. Burdett, Commissioner of Patents, has taken another long step forward in the work of purifying and elevating the practice before the United States Patent Office, by deciding upon the disbarment from practice before that office of John Wedderburn & Co., a concern which, in addition to the introduction of lottery methods into the soliciting of United States Patents was, after an unprofitable long and careful hearing, found guilty of various fraudulent practices. The official orders disbarring Wedderburn & Co., will be published in next week's issue of the Patent Office Gazette, together with an elaborate opinion giving the reasons therefor in detail. Mr. John Wedderburn, the head of the company, firm or corporation, as it has been variously called, was also the head and originator of the Examiner Claims Bureau and the Patent Claims Company, both of which kept unwelcome records when they ceased to exist, and all three of which have left numerous souvenirs in the shape of certificates of stock in the hands of newspaper publishers who were persuaded to accept the same as payment for the advertising, without which neither of them could have existed three months. A number of inventors are also left with worthless souvenirs in the shape of receipts for advance fees paid to Wedderburn & Co., to prosecute their applications for patent. It is needless to advise those who have lost their money; they will be more careful hereafter, but it would be well for others to take the lesson to heart and be sure they know the sort of man they deal with hereafter. The Post Office authorities have been asked to put the National Recorder, a paper published by Wedderburn & Co., on the fraud list.

Those Democratic employees of the Sixth Auditor's office who secured promotion under the last administration solely because they were Democrats, such men promoted displacing Republicans who were needed, are much alarmed over the official announcement of the present Sixth Auditor, Hon. Henry A. Custer, of his intention to compel every man so promoted to prove his right to draw the increased salary by the record of his work, or to be reduced to a salary in keeping with his working record.

Ex-Delaware Pym, of Oklahoma, who is on a business trip to the East stopped in Washington for several days. Speaking of the condition of the country he said: "The prosperity we promised has struck the country. The store boy whittler is out of a job. I have had occasion recently to visit a number of the states and territories, and everywhere I am finding good business is probably to day the most prosperous section of the United States. Our people will export 25,000,000 bushels of wheat and fully 5,000,000 bushels of oatmeal. We have an excellent corn crop, and have rivalled California in fruit so far. The South Sea Islands grow the only cotton that surpasses the fibre of Olds' home. Our cotton is a little late, but we'll market $50,000,000. Western cattle are as good now as the Klondike gold mines. No, I'm not talking politics, I have found it impossible to find many people willing to acknowledge themselves Democrats or Populists, hence, I presume they all voted the Republican ticket. Our people are well satisfied with the national administration."

Senator Barrows, of Michigan, is in Washington on business with the Department of State, but when he was asked, just after he had a conference with Secretary Sherman, what the nature of the business was he laughingly declined to say whether it was public or private. Mr. Barrows says prosperity is in full swing in Michigan just as it is everywhere else he has been since Congress adjourned.

BRIEF MENTION.

The first genuine frost of this autumn visited here Tuesday night.

The roof of the Methodist E. Parsonage is being shingled this week.

The Erie will run a popular excursion to Niagara Falls Oct. 9, Fare $3.

Five miners were apprehended in a mine at Jermy Tuesday. All the bodies but one have been recovered.

The Town Council have been trimming the trees along some of the streets, which is a much needed improvement.

One of Equine J. B. Olmsted's horses becoming untamed somewhat in the harness last Saturday broke loose and ran away. No damage done.

John Walts, convicted in Susquehanna county of the murder of Jabez Lemon, was refused a new trial and sentenced to nine years imprisonment.

The Governor has fixed Tuesday Dec. 7th, for the execution of Herman Paul Schultz, convicted of the murder of his wife in Shohola township, Sept. 20, 1896.

A new class has been formed in the Presbyterial Sunday school which all those not connected with the school are cordially invited to join. Dr. R. G. Barkley will make exposition of the lessons.

John Y. Clark of Sandyston raises such excellent peaches that they are the envy of those who do not have the wherewithal to buy. So some one stole 40 or 50 baskets out of his orchard last Saturday night.

The Re-ister's ancient history says: February 7, 1846, Jacob Kleinhaus was married to Sarah Ann Bellis by Rev. J. A. Reilly; Sept. 7, 1850, H. H. Farnum sold coal at Port Jervis for $4.25 single tons, $4.00 if five or more were taken.

Will not H. L. Canine the contractor who has somewhat impoverished himself by work on the Mott street bridge take an expectant public in his confidence and explain why he does not rip-rap the sand he used at the price agreed on before he was paid for the filling job?

RAILROAD NOTES.

PEOPLE'S HARVEST SEASON EXCURSION TO NIAGARA FALLS.

The abundant harvest of 1897 is about over, and everybody is ready with a big welcome all along the line for the Erie Railroad company's annual harvest excursion to Buffalo and the great natural wonder of the world, Niagara, which will start on Saturday evening, Oct. 9th. Special train will return Sunday afternoon, Oct. 10, and tickets will also be good to return on regular trains, Oct. 11. No one should miss this last opportunity of the season and at such cheap rates. Train will leave Port Jervis at 6.37 p. m. Fare round trip only $3.00.

Long Separated.

Sanford Jacoby a veteran of the war who left his wife some twenty two years ago has been heard from by his family and was reunited to them this week. He enlisted while working in Port Jervis and after being honorably discharged returned to Sullivan county, where he married and then came to Port Jervis where he resided six years. He then went to Chenango county and disappeared in 1875. His wife obtained a pension which she has drawn for several years, and it was when he made application for the removal of his pension of $5 per month which he had drawn prior to his departure that the fact of his being alive came to the knowledge of his wife.

Arises on Deck.

The foot ball season has fairly opened and the usual crop of bruises and breaks follows. The advice given her son by a lady is appropriate. Never go near the water until you learn to swim, so never play football until you learn the game. John Van Ethen has occasion to regret that this precept was not obeyed, for one of the bones of his hand was broken recently by a kick from a fellow who did not understand the game.

Marital Infidelity.

The world says that a divorce suit is imminent the parties being John C. Wilmore of New York and his wife Marie who is a daughter of Col. Vanderbilt Allen. They were both well known in Milford several years ago and were married in 1892. The couple have not lived happily together and are now separated.

A WOMAN'S LETTER.

Concerning Dr. Hartman's Free Treatment for Women.

I received your book on Gynecology and commenced the use of your medicine at once. I took five bottles of Pe-ru-na and two of M-n-a-lin. I feel like a new woman. When I commenced taking Pe-ru-na I could hardly walk across my room; now I am doing my own work, can walk a mile and a half to church. I shall never cease to thank you for prescribing for me. I had been under the treatment of two doctors, but never received any benefit until I commenced taking your medicine. I am now well and able to do my own work. I wish every woman who was suffering as I was would send for one of your books on Gynecology. It is a God-send to suffering women. May God bless and spare you many years to relieve women who are suffering as I was. I am anxious for every woman who is suffering as I was to know what your medicine did for me.

MRS. H. D. AMOSS,
Greensboro, Ga.

A free book, written expressly for women by Dr. Hartman, will be sent to any address by The Pe-ru-na Drug Manufacturing Co., Columbus, Ohio.

Monthly School Report.

Report of Grades 6, 7, 8 and 9 Milford, for month ending Sept. 24, 1897.

GRADE 6.
CLASS STANDING	AVERAGE PER CENT
1. Dora Hochette	92
2. Daisy DeWitt	89
3. Jennie Strubbers	88

GRADE 7.
CLASS STANDING	AVERAGE PER CENT
1. Etta Kipp	94
2. Mollie Boyd	92
3. Hattie Horton	90
4. Mary Quick	88
5. Harry Armstrong	87
6. Mack Gregory	87
7. George Williams	87
8. Bertha Boyd	86
9. Nora Rivers	85
10. Lulu Schorr	84
11. Maria Cudeback	80

GRADE 8.
CLASS STANDING	AVERAGE PER CENT
1. Andy Middaugh	90-48
2. Robert Ferwagner	89-48
3. Mabel Thornton	89
4. Mary Laestler	87-50
5. Corn Struble	87
6. George Turner	87
7. Phoebe Davis	86-50
8. Lewis Gregory	87-50
9. Alice Ryan	87
10. Helma Kiser	85
11. Bessie Jennings	84
12. Bonnie Boardley	83
13. Lucy Bourdieu	82-50
14. George Lattimore	81
15. Sol Cudeback	81
16. Helen Palmer	77-50
17. Jake Schorr	75
18. Annie Gortley	63
19. Hattie Kipp	61

GRADE 9.
CLASS STANDING	AVERAGE PER CENT
1. Allie Emerson	83
2. Percy Har	81
3. Mary Owen	80-14
4. Clara Van Campen	80
5. Yennie Lockwood	87
6. Henry Kiser	86
7. Mamie Struble	84
8. John Fuller	81
9. Julia Berthoud	84

Total number enrolled, 44; average attendance, 39; percentage, 95. J. C. WATSON, Teacher.

INTERMEDIATE DEPARTMENT.

Boys present each day in the month: Willie Steele, Bert Quinn, Harold Armstrong, Frank Gehrig, Gouvey Emerson, John Palmer, Ernest Steele, Harry Degen, Henry Humbert.

Girls present each day in the month: Lilly Gourlay, Ruth DeWitt, Florence Van Campen, Nora Degen, Josie Boardley, Helen Hart, Bessie Armstrong, Lila Ryan, Phoebe Showers, Emma Van Campen.

Total number of pupils, 35; average attendance, 29. Percentages of attendance: Boys, 98; girls, 95; average, 96%. BAYARD NICHOLS, Teacher.

Report of Primary Department for month ending September 24, 1897: Total number enrolled: Boys, 23; girls, 24. Average attendance during the month: Boys, 28; girls, 17. Percentage of attendance during the month: Boys, 91; girls, 91. LILA B. VAN ETHEN, Teacher.

Those who believe chronic diarrhoea to be incurable should read what Mr. P. E. Grisham, of Gaars Mills, La., has to say on the subject: "I have been a sufferer from chronic diarrhoea ever since the war and have tried all kinds of medicines for it. At last I found a remedy that effected a cure and that was Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy." This medicine can always be depended upon for colic, cholera morbus, dysentery and diarrhoea. It is pleasant to take and never fails to effect a cure. 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by Druggists and General Merchants in Pike county.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. H. G. Williamson entertained a select company of ladies at tea last Friday.

Miss Katie Fry, of Callicoon, N. Y., is spending a few days with Mrs. Alice W. Drake.

Rev. Thomas Nichols and wife have gone to Owego on a visit. They will be absent several days.

Miss Mammie House, of Newton, N. J., is visiting at the home of Mrs. Dupes on Water street.

Mrs. Will Armstrong, of New York is visiting the family of Milton Armstrong on Second street.

Mrs. Geo. W. Decker and daughter, Edith of Honesdale were visiting the family of R. D. Sayer this week.

Treasurer Geo. Dauman and wife returned home this week after a visit to friends in Greene and Palmyra.

Edward Watson now of Hawley, but who resided here in his younger days was in town on business Tuesday.

Dr. W. B. Kenworthy, of Dingmans called on Dr. H. E. Emerson and Dr. von der Heyde Tuesday last.

David Labar died at Stroudsburg last week aged 87. He was a son of Daniel Labar who lived to be 112 years old.

David H. Wells agent for a practical road machine is home spending a two weeks vacation with his mother on Broad street.

Mrs. Dr. Rudgers, of Perry, N. Y., who has been staying at the Home-stand for several weeks returned to her home Wednesday.

C. W. Bull, Esq., and son George R. went to Philadelphia this week where the latter will enter the Law Department of the U. P.

W. R. Willis and family who have spent the summer in the Mott cottage on Ann street returned to their city home this week.

John T. Armstrong and Jacob Wacker have taken the contract to plaster the new boarding house erected by H. B. Wells.

Mrs. B. Jacot, who has been spending a few weeks with the family of Mr. John Ryder has returned to her home in New York.

Mr. William H. Courtright, of Scranton, Pa., is visiting his mother-in-law, Mrs. Newman and sister, Mrs. Lucinda Watson of this place.

Miss Angelina Emerson, of Canterbury, Del., a sister of the late Dr. V. Emerson, died at her home last Wednesday, aged about 70 years.

Edward Cahill and wife were called to New York Monday by the illness of Edward Cahill, Jr., who we understand suffered a paralytic attack.

Mrs. G. Froth, Mrs. A. Drake and Mrs. A. Luhrs, of this place took a spin on their wheels recently, and spent the day with Mrs. Criss Kadel at Port Jervis.

Randal D. Sayre the genial custodian of the portal of the Milford Bridge, with his wife, will take a journey through Sussex next week visiting relatives and friends.

W. H. Kanouse was a passenger in the train on the S. E. & A. R. E. which met such a disaster recently but had left it only an hour or two previously and thereby escaped the wreck.

Mrs. Hannah Dickerson, of Bushkill in this county, never saw a railroad until last Thursday when she rode on the D. L. & W. from Stroudsburg to Bangor. She is 75 years old, and was quite nervous but well pleased with the ride.

Miss Catharine Van Ethen, of Conshaugh, while milking a cow last week was pushed off the stool and the animal stepped on her breaking one of the bones of her leg between the knee and ankle. Dr. Emberson attended the injury.

Hon. Rufus V. Slauson a prominent merchant of Bowling Green, Ohio was the guest of his cousin, D. M. Slauson last week. He was very favorably impressed with Milford and expects to revisit this locality in the near future.

Moses Grunauer, of Sandyston is a thrifty farmer and besides growing grain cultivates two good sized peach orchards, and also a patch of small fruits. His land would seem to be especially adapted for that business, and market gardening as well, judging from the luscious melons, and large firm tomatoes, which he produces. There are greater possibilities in such farms than the raising of cereals exclusively.

OBITUARY.

MARVIN KIMBALL.

Mr. Marvin Kimball, an old and respected resident of Matamoras, died at noon Monday, aged 75 years, of bladder difficulty.

He is survived by his widow and six children: Mrs. N. B. Allwood of this place; Mrs. O. W. Holmes of Troy, N. Y.; Lelia A., wife of Frank Mulligan of Port Jervis; Edwin M. Kimball of Matamoras; Burr W. Kimball of Troy, N. Y.; and William F. Kimball of Milford, Pa.

Mr. Kimball was born in Colchester, Delaware county and carried on an extensive lumber business for many years. He was a rafterman of great reputation along the Delaware and in his active years has carried many hundred thousand feet of lumber down the river to Philadelphia. He sustained a great loss during a high flood in the river about 42 years ago, a big raft of timber belonging to him being destroyed near Milford.

In 1875 the year of the great ice gorges, he removed to Matamoras where he has since resided.

He resided for several years in the state of Delaware where he carried on a grocery store and at one time also lived in Rockland, Sullivan county.

His principal occupation since coming to Matamoras has been that of book canvassing, though his health has been too feeble most of the time for active work. He was a good citizen and greatly esteemed by all who knew him. He was a man of religious convictions and for many years an active member of Drew M. E. church of Port Jervis. Since 1892 he has been a member of Hope church.—Union.

The funeral was held on Wednesday at 2 p. m. from his late residence, and 2.30 o'clock from Hope Church. The pall bearers were: Moses L. Cole, John C. Prescott, Jacob Hartz, Sr., Theodore Fletcher, A. W. Balch, Sr., and Nathaniel N. Taft.

The funeral services were conducted and the sermon preached by Rev. J. A. Wiegand.

The remains were interred in the family plot in Laura Grove Cemetery.

Notice.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Forest Lake Association for the purpose of electing officers, and transacting such other business as may properly be presented will be held at the Club House of the association in Lackawaxen township, Pike Co., Pa., Oct. 13, 1897 at 10 o'clock a. m.

W. C. DAVIDSON, Clerk.

The Prohibition Meeting.

A fair audience greeted W. R. Irvin at the Court House last Tuesday evening. After the hymn "Rescue the perishing" and a prayer by J. A. Meyer, the speaker made an address in which he arraigned both the old parties for their support of the license system, and charged that corruption in high places was mainly due to the intemperate habits of officials. He produced the straw casing of a champagne bottle and stated it was taken from a car in which the Governor was traveling but recently, and strongly intimated that the contents of too many bottles had found their way into his system.

He is an earnest speaker, and attributed the recent strikes to the saloon influence, claiming that the miners spent their wages in drink and hence could not support their families on the wages paid them. He is speaking in the interest of the Prohibition ticket, and his argument is to the effect thus: there would be less extravagance, dishonesty and corruption were the saloon and its influence eliminated from politics.

Endorsement Union.

The Eleventh Annual Convention of the Pennsylvania Christian Endeavor Union will be held at Easton, Oct. 5th, 6th and 7th. A large number of prominent speakers from the State have been invited and several from New York. It is earnestly desired that each society in the State may be represented, and special rates have been made on the State railroads. The Easton hotels also offer reduced rates and accommodations can likewise be secured in private houses.

Real Estate Transfers.

Lackawaxen and Blooming Grove. H. I. Courtright, sheriff, to Harry T. Baker, dated Dec. 21, 1896, 350 acres, Roberts farm, con. #693, and 7 Sept. 27th.

AFRAY AT GREELEY.

A Serious Shooting Affair—The Persons are now Lodged in Jail.

An affair which may prove serious took place near Greeley on Monday morning, on the old Milford turnpike. Two German farmers, Samuel Heins and Vido Zelak live on adjoining farms, and the latter discovering the farmers' cattle in his buckwheat went and drove them out, and went back to his barn to finish his morning work. Soon after stepping out in the barn yard he saw Heins the owner of the cattle standing with a gun pointed at him and heard him using very profane language. As Zelak turned Heins fired putting thirty-two fine shot in his leg and arm making very dangerous if not fatal wounds. Heins' son was also present with his gun and stood guard threatening to shoot Zelak if he made any attempt to move while the elder Heins went in the house, and broke and smashed nearly everything he could find. Dr. Howard Lackawaxen was called, and advised that the wounded man be taken to the hospital which was done on Wednesday morning. Constable Kelly arrested Heins and his son on Tuesday evening and took them before C. W. Shannon, Esq., who committed them to the county jail to which they were brought on Wednesday evening and locked up to await the result of their victim's injuries.

For the Lyceum.

An entertainment hastily gotten up but replete with humor, and successful financially, was given at the Crissman House Saturday evening. The audience demonstrated its appreciation by the encores, and liberal contributions to the very worthy object. The program opened with a piano solo by Lila B. Van Ethen, followed with a song by Mrs. J. D. Biddis, "Comin' Through the Rye," and tableau representation of the sentiment by D. R. Chapin and Mima Ball. The young couple very neatly personified the embarrassment which sometimes results from the "Gin a body"—well, neither cried a yawn.

Poetry was embodied both in the prose and beauty of the next picture which was portrayed by Belle Findley, Nettie Terwilliger and Nellie Quick. A gipsy scene followed wherein a number of young ladies displayed such grace and beauty that the real Gitanas had any been present would have burned with envy.

The pall bearers were: Moses L. Cole, John C. Prescott, Jacob Hartz, Sr., Theodore Fletcher, A. W. Balch, Sr., and Nathaniel N. Taft.

The funeral services were conducted and the sermon preached by Rev. J. A. Wiegand.

The remains were interred in the family plot in Laura Grove Cemetery.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Forest Lake Association for the purpose of electing officers, and transacting such other business as may properly be presented will be held at the Club House of the association in Lackawaxen township, Pike Co., Pa., Oct. 13, 1897 at 10 o'clock a. m.

W. C. DAVIDSON, Clerk.

The Prohibition Meeting.

A fair audience greeted W. R. Irvin at the Court House last Tuesday evening. After the hymn "Rescue the perishing" and a prayer by J. A. Meyer, the speaker made an address in which he arraigned both the old parties for their support of the license system, and charged that corruption in high places was mainly due to the intemperate habits of officials. He produced the straw casing of a champagne bottle and stated it was taken from a car in which the Governor was traveling but recently, and strongly intimated that the contents of too many bottles had found their way into his system.

He is an earnest speaker, and attributed the recent strikes to the saloon influence, claiming that the miners spent their wages in drink and hence could not support their families on the wages paid them. He is speaking in the interest of the Prohibition ticket, and his argument is to the effect thus: there would be less extravagance, dishonesty and corruption were the saloon and its influence eliminated from politics.

Endorsement Union.

The Eleventh Annual Convention of the Pennsylvania Christian Endeavor Union will be held at Easton, Oct. 5th, 6th and 7th. A large number of prominent speakers from the State have been invited and several from New York. It is earnestly desired that each society in the State may be represented, and special rates have been made on the State railroads. The Easton hotels also offer reduced rates and accommodations can likewise be secured in private houses.

Was it a Skat?

R. D. Sayre while digging for Indian relics in Sandyston unearthed recently the remains of what would seem to have been a festive occasion among the red men.

At a depth of some three feet he found a large quantity of mussel shells and intermingled with them coals and pieces of pottery, just as if they had been roasted. Near by was found the remains of one who must have been a son Anak judging from the size of his skeleton the bones of which were unusually large, and the lower jaw especially, in which there was a perfect set of teeth, betokened a man of immense proportions.

Perhaps some one versed in the customs of the aboriginal inhabitants can explain the probable meaning of the mussel shells and the fact of coals being found with them. Did the noble red men indulge in such sports, and is our modern clam bake only in imitation of what they originated.

The fact of the skeleton being found near by might be at least persuasive evidence that they did so enjoy themselves and that one had transgressed the limits of a proper quantity to his everlasting regret.

An Old Rack That Catches Eels.

In the early days of fall when thoughts of fresh pork and the festive buckwheat cake begin to intrude upon the minds of our merry Landlord, the village Smith and his man Friday they did with the idea of bridging that trying season between the summer vegetable and the winter most collectively conceive the idea of catching the wayward and slippery eels that have been summer boarders in the upper regions of Flat Brook, and convert them to their own use and sustenance. As a culmination of much ehn and brain work a curious combination of stave and nails was formed and they called it an eel rack. Then they did rest themselves of their labors in glad anticipations of the addition soon to be made to their most supply.

This eel rack marks an era in the evolution of this remarkable village, and its history will be found closely entwined along with that of the great and only Hunter John in the back numbers of the Gazette and PIKE COUNTY PRESS. The first time there was a rise in the brook the clock work attachment was wound up the combination set and results anxiously awaited. But little was taken in that night except what was thought to be some of the "Boss" Klunters in similar arrangements that had got away from him, and floated down the brook. Some imagined that they smelted not unlike bad gin, or wicked eye whiskey, instead of the regulation fish odor, and hence they were indignantly hustled out of the rack. They were found to be however, the "innards" of an innocent, but defiant sheep no, excuse me, a lamb. Our butcher never peddles anything but such you know have been some of "Boss" Klunters in similar arrangements that had got away from him, and floated down the brook. Some imagined that they smelted not unlike bad gin, or wicked eye whiskey, instead of the regulation fish odor, and hence they were indignantly hustled out of the rack. They were found to be however, the "innards" of an innocent, but defiant sheep no, excuse me, a lamb. Our butcher never peddles anything but such you know have been some of "Boss" Klunters in similar arrangements that had got away from him, and floated down the brook. Some imagined that they smelted not unlike bad gin, or wicked eye whiskey, instead of the regulation fish odor, and hence they were indignantly hustled out of the rack. They were found to be however, the "innards" of an innocent, but defiant sheep no, excuse me, a lamb. Our butcher never peddles anything but such you know have been some of "Boss" Klunters in similar arrangements that had got away from him, and floated down the brook. Some imagined that they smelted not unlike bad gin, or wicked eye whiskey, instead of the regulation fish odor, and hence they were indignantly hustled out of the rack. They were found to be however, the "innards" of an innocent, but defiant sheep no, excuse me, a lamb. Our butcher never peddles anything but such you know have been some of "Boss" Klunters in similar arrangements that had got away from him, and floated down the brook. Some imagined that they smelted not unlike bad gin, or wicked eye whiskey, instead of the regulation fish odor, and hence they were indignantly hustled out of the rack. They were found to be however, the "innards" of an innocent, but defiant sheep no, excuse me, a lamb. Our butcher never peddles anything but such you know have been some of "Boss" Klunters in similar arrangements that had got away from him, and floated down the brook. Some imagined that they smelted not unlike bad gin, or wicked eye whiskey, instead of the regulation fish odor, and hence they were indignantly hustled out of the rack. They were found to be however, the "innards" of an innocent, but defiant sheep no, excuse me, a lamb. Our butcher never peddles anything but such you know have been some of "Boss" Klunters in similar arrangements that had got away from him, and floated down the brook. Some imagined that they smelted not unlike bad gin, or wicked eye whiskey, instead of the regulation fish odor, and hence they were indignantly hustled out of the rack. They were found to be however, the "innards" of an innocent, but defiant sheep no, excuse me, a lamb. Our butcher never peddles anything but such you know have been some of "Boss" Klunters in similar arrangements that had got away from him, and floated down the brook. Some imagined that they smelted not unlike bad gin, or wicked eye whiskey, instead of the regulation fish odor, and hence they were indignantly hustled out of the rack. They were found to be however, the "innards" of an innocent, but defiant sheep no, excuse me, a lamb. Our butcher never peddles anything but such you know have been some of "Boss" Klunters in similar arrangements that had got away from him, and floated down the brook. Some imagined that they smelted not unlike bad gin, or wicked eye whiskey, instead of the regulation fish odor, and hence they were indignantly hustled out of the rack. They were found to be however, the "innards" of an innocent, but defiant sheep no, excuse me, a lamb. Our butcher never peddles anything but such you know have been some of "Boss" Klunters in similar arrangements that had got away from him, and floated down the brook. Some imagined that they smelted not unlike bad gin, or wicked eye whiskey, instead of the regulation fish odor, and hence they were indignantly hustled out of the rack. They were found to be however, the "innards" of an innocent, but defiant sheep no, excuse me, a lamb. Our butcher never peddles anything but such you know have been some of "Boss" Klunters in similar arrangements that had got away from him, and floated down the brook. Some imagined that they smelted not unlike bad gin, or wicked eye whiskey, instead of the regulation fish odor, and hence they were indignantly hustled out of the rack. They were found to be however, the "innards" of an innocent, but defiant sheep no, excuse me, a lamb. Our butcher never peddles anything but such you know have been some of "Boss" Klunters in similar arrangements that had got away from him, and floated down the brook. Some imagined that they smelted not unlike bad gin, or wicked eye whiskey, instead of the regulation fish odor, and hence they were indignantly hustled out of the rack. They were found to be however, the "innards" of an innocent, but defiant sheep no, excuse me, a lamb. Our butcher never peddles anything but such you know have been some of "Boss" Klunters in similar arrangements that had got away from him, and floated down the brook. Some imagined that they smelted not unlike bad gin, or wicked eye whiskey, instead of the regulation fish odor, and hence