DINGMAN'S FERRY.

It is said a stranger man, having singular actions, has been seen lurking around the cemetery at Dingman's on different occasions of late.

The stone-work on the "Deep-Hollow" bridge, near Cole's, is about finished, and the new iron structure can be placed in position ere long.

Mr. Charles O'Leary of Conestoga is building a fine residence on his farm near the stage-road. What is completed is to be the most ornate farm house in that neighborhood.

The school house near Mrs. Calvin Decker's in Lehman, is about ready for occupancy, the carpenters having completed the work.

that having heard about hold ups down here he brought along a revolver and when coming down the said Sandhill man came down the bank in front of his horse crossed the road and said: Good morning Mr. Bennett. If those are hold ups for God's sake give us a rest, we are bad enough without being made out worse and stand-ard.

William Lunn, of New York city arrived in town last Saturday night and remained until Wednesday night, visiting his mother and brother. He is a native of this village but some years ago he started in the mercantile business in the city and has prospered beyond his fondest hopes, a fact which we are pleased to note.

The singing class in charge of Mr. C. S. Blizard was organized on Tuesday evening at Epworth Church. The following officers were appointed: President, Carrie Lilly; Vice President, Alice Quirk; Secretary, Irene Kimble; Treasurer, Frank Manwaring. Sixteen meeting on Tuesday evening. The next meeting will be on Saturday evening, Oct. 20, at 7:30 o'clock.

GREELEY.

Well our fine weather continues. It is just what we all like to see especially at this time of year. The new bridge is now all finished and it is a great improvement to the place. The more improvements the better the place looks.

This is court week and quite a number of people go past here on their way to Milford. Among the number Dr. Howard and wife were wending their way Tuesday morning toward the county seat.

L. L. Burcher and George Adams drove to their homes in Honesdale last Saturday. Louis Burcher and a party of hunters are camping in Burcher's cabin on the Shohohoc property for a few days hoping to carry some of Pike county's game with them when they get ready to leave.

Lawyer Tolia is stopping with Joe Sauter for a few days on a hunting expedition. The oyster supper at Lake Teedycung last Friday night was a grand affair and very largely successful. All reports a good time was had by all present. The proprietor understands his business.

The ball at the Greeley club house last Sunday night was a very lively affair so those who attended. Burcher says some of the boys were very ambitious at the breaking up, and for a change took a hand in trying to see which were the best boxes. The Greeley boys were too much for Perry town.

Edward Koehls and Miss Westfall spent Tuesday evening with Anna Kemson. Next week will be Teachers Institute at Milford. That will give the young ideas a vacation for a week. The Teachers are also looking forward to a good time.

Annie Craft spent a few days with her friend, Anna Remson at Rocky Rift farm. Hattie Golio is at her home at Greeley again. She has improved in health some what since she was in the hospital. But not so much that she could resume work.

Bert Bartleson spent Sunday with Ira Rosenkrantz and returned to his home on Monday taking his little girl with him. She had been staying with her aunt and going to school at Burchers. XX

At a special meeting of Wallenpaupack Lodge No. 478 I. O. O. F. October 14, 1897, the following officers were installed by W. H. Varcoe, D. G. M., N. G. F. L. Selig, V. G. E. H. Laug, Asst. Secretary, George Bartleson; Treasurer, F. Gilpin M. D., Right Supporter to N. G., C. W. Akers, L. S., A. J. Simons, M. D., R. E. S. of V. Grand, E. W. Waltz, L. S., F. E. Robacker, O. G., M. Gilpin, I. G. O. E. Simons Right S. Supporter, A. H. Roemer Jr., L. S. Supporter, Chris. Waltgen, Warden Harry Akers, Representative to Grand Lodge J. W. Robacker. After the installation ceremony was over all retired to the dining room, where the ladies served refreshments.

Christopher Beahler who went to the hospital at Bethlehem Pa., for medical treatment returned home last week without any apparent improvement. His trouble seems to be an unnatural growth in his throat which makes it very difficult for him to swallow.

Mrs. William Bush of Greentown is very sick with diphtheria, although she is somewhat improved at present. R. W. Bartleson of this place has traded his driving team of grays off for a heavy team of work horses.

Apple buyers are plenty in this section they are paying from 16 cts. to $1.50 per barrel. Bert Carlson from Susquehanna county Penn., is visiting his uncle, S. J. Dickerson and friends in Greentown.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE. Under this head we will insert communications on current and political topics, without being responsible for the sentiments expressed, and invite such communications as may be proper and of general interest to the people.—EDITOR'S PAGE.

Hold Ups in Montague. DEAR SIR:—Without a doubt you have heard a good deal about so-called hold ups over here, but you haven't heard of any one making a complaint neither has any one else. So as not to be behind the times, I will tell you about my hold up which is about as serious as most of the rest.

When going along the river road I found sitting along side of said road—two young men, one having an open knife in his hand. They didn't say anything but were eating hickory nuts. Now according to the hold up articles what right has a person along our roads?

I haven't notified the town committee or the constable yet, but I think it would be better to call out the military. Don't you? Now I hope Brother "H." or our friend "E. P. U." won't be alarmed as our town goes along as usual, outside reports, notwithstanding.

If any thing serious happens and we don't get killed we will let the readers of the Passé know. MONTAGUE CRACKER BARREL. No Caught His Fish. DINGMAN'S, OCT. 18, 1897. EDITOR PRESS:—Oh my I am "Dink" would say, what a splendid article "C" wrote last week on teachers' wages "C" wrote heart went out to him, and if he had said the same pretty things last winter I would have said nothing. Just compare his remarks then and now and you will see the progress he has made. I know there was something better in "C" than his vulgar arraignment of the teachers at Centre and Gales. He was not explicit last winter and I could not read between the lines, but he was attacking some "Honest John." My error was that I did not interpret the drift of his remarks.

Yes, I read between the lines willfully, but his article so pleased me that I will not tell what I read. In his innocent article of the 3rd "C" advised the writer of certain articles ("I don't know what articles or scribble he referred to") to wait and find something to write about. I took no offense but thought a fair exchange of friendly and so advised him to go to school. But it appears he has a private teacher who tutors him well and he acquires even electrical knowledge without study. Yes, gray matter is always handy to have in the upper apartments, and as it needs moving, I went fishing between lines and thought I had a tough job I brought "C" out of the pool. The baits were varied with Gilmoreville, Centre, Platts, Westville, etc., but the wary fish was hooked at last and landed in your office and its name is Teachers' Wages. "E. P. U." is not such a fool that he would not take a square meal in good company at a picnic, who would refuse it?

As to vacating the cracker barrel the poor old creek has done good service, but now the rats are gnawing at its contents and I think I will take a vacation until further notice. P. S.—A drop box will be handy for items. On an empty cracker barrel near a skim milk cheese. E. P. U.

DID NOT HEAR THE SHOTS. Two Found Dead Together—Probable Murder and Suicide Committed in Baltimore. Matthew Rogers, a grocer in Baltimore, and Mrs. Ida Wright, his paramour, were found dead in Rogers' house October 14th. Both had been shot. The only other person in the house was a daughter of the dead woman, who was in the same room and knew nothing of the tragedy until awakened several hours after it occurred.

The couple were last seen shortly before midnight, when Rogers seemed to be in good spirits. Their failure to appear at the usual hour in the morning aroused the suspicions of the dead man's brothers, who live in an adjoining house, and they broke open the door. On the floor of the room they found the body of the man, while lying on the bed was that of the woman, with Lillian, her eight-year-old daughter, by her side, sound asleep. Both had been shot in the head. A pistol with two chambers empty, was found under the bed, and the police say that all means of ingress to the house were tightly closed. These circumstances convinced the police that the man had killed the woman and then shot himself, but the dead man's relatives assert that two suspicious looking men were seen loitering about the house early in the evening. The fact inclines them to believe that both were murdered. —N. Y. Tribune.

Watches for Schultz. In the matter of watchmen for Herman Paul Schultz. It appearing that the said Schultz is now confined in the Pike county jail under sentence of death for the murder of his wife, and that since his confinement he has attempted to take his own life, and that since that time a watchman has been employed and kept in attendance upon him, and it being represented to us that some question has arisen between the sheriff and the County Commissioners relative to the necessity of continuing the watch and the expense thereof. "Now Oct. 19, 1897, it is recommended that some arrangement be made between the said sheriff and commissioners by which the said Schultz shall be secured from doing violence to himself." BY THE COURT.

Another County Bridge. A petition was presented at this term asking that voters be appointed for a county bridge across the Lackawanna river near its mouth. This subject has been agitated for many years. No doubt the people at that point suffer great inconvenience for want of a highway across the river as the only means now is the aqueduct. The large boarding interests must be seriously inconvenienced for want of means of transfer from the station, and the bridge would no doubt greatly facilitate that enterprise. The cost would necessarily be large, but the matter is in the hands of the people to say whether it shall be incurred.
