LAYTON.

The wide tired wagon is making friends every day, and wherever it goes. Any wagon with a four or six inch tire will do, but the wide tire, all steel wheel is the one that stands at the head for economy of cost, durability and scientific construction. No wagon of equal weight runs as easily as these.

Rumors of divorce proceedings stir the air about here, and are likely to develop into something formidable ere long. It appears likely to involve some of the boys long. We hope if it comes, it will be behind closed doors, so that people will not need to hold their noses while it is in progress.

Arthur Heister of Deckertown has been visiting in the valley for several days past. He is employed in Ewalds shoe factory at Deckertown.

Mrs. Wells wife of John D. Wells, who died at her home in Newton last week was brought to this place and interred in the cemetery at Layton on Monday. The family formerly lived in the Flat Brook valley, and were well known hereabouts.

Lester T. Smith is giving the VanSickle storehouse (now used as a dwelling) a new coat of paint. It is in colors a light cream and makes a very neat finish.

The days of the professional hunter who kills game for market, and wherever he can find it, is about numbered in this valley. There seems to be a firm determination among landowners both great and small to break it up.

Free show in town Saturday. Street parade both Saturday and Sunday. The last seen of the menagerie was the two vans with the animals moving up the hill Sunday and headed towards Dingmans Ferry.

The "Lumber King" of Bifirstown, Andrew Yetter is a man who raises trout for the pleasure of it, just as he handles lumber for the business of it. He loves trout and delights to handle them, has ample means, and a fine arrangement of ponds that he has adapted, after much experience to serve his perfect homes for the trout of all ages. Last year he turned out 12,000 fry into the streams and ponds of his neighborhood. He now has over 400 eggs on the screen and will take from the trout, himself, perhaps 10,000 more this week. The increase from those are all to be turned out into the streams in his vicinity next year. His success in raising them is phenomenal, the loss being a very small percentage. The people of Warren county will be much benefited by his labors in trout culture and should appreciate his unselfish public spirit.

The people social at Alfred Berens' last Friday night was well attended. All were delighted with the kind attentions shown and with the elegant supper set before them. The chicken did not roast high, and the calls for it met with a prompt and liberal response. The ice cream — well as our remarked "everything was so rich and good that we hardly know where to leave off, or when to quit." But the chapel people know how to do such things right, and they do it. Not proceed $21.00.

Floyd Knight left for Lynchburg, Va., last Thursday after a vacation from his business of nearly a month. His partner in the laundry business, A. S. Rosekrans will arrive in Jersey in a few days to rest from business cares and receive acquaintance with his hosts of relatives and friends.

James M. Depew & Son, messengers from Milford commenced laying foundation this week for the store house of Wm. F. Rosekrans at Layton.

Of all the 49 State and Territorial governments in the United States only six hold annual sessions of their legislatures. The rest are held biennially. Among those holding annual sessions is New Jersey. Our voluminous and conflicting laws have for a long time incurred the displeasure of the people as well as the expressed objections of all the reputable lawyers throughout the state. When the great expense with the mass of unwieldy Federal laws is considered, it must impress itself upon every one that we would have all to gain and nothing to lose by having biennial sessions of our Legislature.

When, oh when, will our township committee show their good sense and business acumen by restoring the bounty on wild birds in Sandystown township.

Does anyone remember when the road across the mountains was any worse for the season of the year than now. It is laid to the ordering of the year it with narrow tired wagons, but that is not the only reason for its bad condition. It has not been properly worked, and there has been too much skimping for a couple of years on this thoroughfare that is really of greater importance than any like length of road in the township. The town committee owe it to themselves to give this road a more careful and considerate attention in future.

It is now well cased by almost every one who has occasion to travel it.

James H. Fuller has contracted for the erection of a new dwelling to be placed on the site of the one destroyed by fire last summer. A. D. Brown & Son of Milford has the job.

Mrs. Elijah H. Landy has gone to Port Jervis for a couple of weeks to be treated for nervousness.

Seelye Drake now of Aldenville, Pa., but formerly in a mill here, and well known to our people is visiting friends and canvassing for a new patent Steam Cooker, that is a fine thing to have around.

The Flat Brook club has over $2,000 worth of trout fry that the state would gladly purchase for other sections, but the club will in due time turn them out into the streams of the valley to roam at will. The benefits of which will accrue to all who own trout waters as well as to themselves.

We note that the Hudson River Telephone company are to run their wires to Port Jervis and thence to Honesdale and Scranton. While they will visit to Milford, it is probable they will also take in Dingmans, from whence they will cross the river and by way of Branchville, enter Newton and connect with their system already constructed to Sparta, Milltown and points in New York state. Sussex county will be wired up as fast as the weather and their other projected work will allow. We are informed that the metallic circuit with high elevation will be used and a high standard of efficiency attained.

The parties referred to in my last as having taken trout from leased waters, and in the close season were met by the President of the club in a very generous spirit, and have settled on satisfactory terms to all parties concerned and from what we can learn much less than the fixed and lawful penalties would have been.

The teachers are all attending Institute this week and for three days will own the town of Newton. The people seem delighted to see them and the pedagogues are happy too. It is one of the bright spots in the dull grind of the school room and many a teacher here gathers new ideas for future use therein.

The tie poles around the church at Layton are getting rather dilapidated and a new set would be much appreciated by those who have to use them besides looking much more tidy.

MATAMORAS.

Charles D'yor, the tonorial artist, one day two weeks ago had a visit from a strange little animal, known in natural history as the Mephitis Mephitis. It tried to hide under the floor of the shop but its pungent odor betrayed its presence and Charley, who is president of our gun club, did not hesitate but at once proceeded to dislodge the intruder with a charge from his snoring rifle. The result was very disastrous to the interests of our barber and his patrons for sometime as that little animal with his hissing breath made it almost impossible to stay in the shop. Charley had to set to work to remove the excess from under the floor and managed it at last but it was some days before he recovered from the experience.

Engineer Walt Neapass has moved his family from the house he formerly occupied to the tenant house of Mrs. Prey, downtown, which has been lately occupied by Wm. Percival.

We were very sorry to learn that our townswoman Lewis Van Inwegen lies very ill at her home with typhoid fever. Frank Corwin and also Lorenzo Beck have had quite a siege of what is thought to be typhoid fever, but are now much improved we are glad to learn.

Miss Sara Romoy, one of the most popular teachers in our schools, who has for a long time being confined to the house with a severe attack of rheumatism is we are pleased to see, able to resume her position again as instructor of the Primary Department.

The home of Engineer John Duray on River street is receiving attention at the hands of the painters and when finished will of course add much to the beauty of the village.

Barber Blyer has just received his winter supply of wood, which he burns in his shop to make his patrons comfortable in cold weather.

Merchans Balch is now engaged in building a large additional shed near the store for a storage house for grain and feed of which he sells large quantities. In fact the firm of A. W. Balch & Son, dealers in everything, as their wagon says, are very prosperous merchants.

Builder Joseph Bach has just finished a new addition to his home on Pennsylvania avenue and is now engaged in painting the same.

Mrs. D. L. Chase, of this place, attended her 81st year Nov. 9th, and her young daughter, to commemorate the event, got up a surprise party. Friends and relatives to the number of about 40 met at the appointed time and proceeded to the house to the complete surprise of Mr. and Mrs. Chase, but who, after a few moments of embarrassment, found themselves fully equal to the occasion and proved the most perfect host and hostess. The evening was spent in a very pleasant manner and a bountiful repast was served. Mrs. Chase was remembered by her friends in a very substantial way. The party departed for several homes after midnight, wishing Mrs. Chase many happy returns of her birthday. Mrs. Chase is the mother of the Port Jervis shoe dealer, B. B. Chase.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunt of Matamoras entertained about 30 of their friends on last Friday evening at their new home on Washington street. The evening was spent in a very pleasant manner. Refreshments were served.

The chicken supper advertised to take place at Mrs. Charles Snyder on the evening of Nov. 23. The Ladies Aid society connected with Epworth Chapel gives the supper. All are welcome and a pleasant time is anticipated.

Mrs. Harry Moore of Jersey City is at Matamoras on a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Watts.

Mrs. Irvin Young gave an entertainment on Tuesday evening at the Red Moss Hall, Port Jervis. It was a great success in every respect. Some of the Matamoras friends were in attendance. Mrs. Young has a great faculty of teaching children. A number that took part were her pupils. They were well drilled for the occasion, which reflects great credit upon their teacher. Mary Squires of Matamoras and Warren Haldenball gave a violin and piano duet at the commencement and one also at the close. They received great applause from the large audience present. We congratulate Mrs. Young upon her fine entertainment.

A very pleasing entertainment was given at Epworth church, Matamoras, on Tuesday evening, under the auspices of the King Daughters. Mr. Alorton the photographer exhibited some very pretty views by the aid of a powerful lime light stereoscopic lantern. The Rev. Mr. Curtis gave a nice address at the commencement of the entertainment which was very much appreciated by the audience present. The Baptist church, Methodist, Reformed and Catholic churches were represented in the views, and also scenery in and around Laurel Grove cemetery. The illustrations were very fine. Alorton is to be congratulated upon his fine views. The weather being so unpleasant, there was not so many in attendance as there would of been if the evening had been pleasant. We trust the entertainment may be repeated as some future time.

MONTAGUE.

Rather squally the past week. Hunters are more plentiful than game appears to be.

Fourteen hunters and nine dogs were counted by one of our residents last Wednesday crossing his farm. He had no trespass notices up here.

Ed Kochka and Ernest Goetz are doing a good business in their stone quarry. Our best wishes for good luck.

A party of hunters passed through town a few days ago. They killed a deer and considerable small game.

We regret that Herman Wenzel is not in business here. He has been in the hospital for some time.

Frank Greening has his thanks for kindness shown. It will not be forgotten. Ed Zekich attended the dance at August Knollins.

Rumor speaks of another wedding soon to take place.

Tom Poganski is still employed at the club house.

Anton Polinski will have bicycles to rent in the near future, which will give our young people an opportunity to learn to ride.

Small and news carrier does a good business and is very accommodating.

Reinhold Wenzel, Jr., called here lately on business.

Kate Poganski is on the sick list.

Friend Simons and Charles Killam, of Ledgedale, brought E. Kimble a load of buckshot but it was not needed.

Philip Evanger, of Bauba, has bought H. Phillips' house and lot.

E. Kimble is spending a week hunting on Rock Hill.

Phenie Lasey, of Aten, Wayne county, spent a few days with friends.

Mrs. E. Kimble, son and daughter, Effie Cole, and W. K. Hutten went to Honesdale Tuesday.

Oran a week ago this town was quite enlivened by an agent canvassing for maps for our schools, but the directors did not think they were as necessary as the agent did.

Bush Kimble and family were visitors at A. J. Kimbles last week.

B. F. Killam, Esq., with some of his friends are camping on or near Big pond hunting. It is reported they have killed one.

Miss Nell Dingman and Lucy Pellett of Hawley were guests of the Misses Pellett last week.

Dr. J. G. Raymond is seriously ill. The doctor does not give the family any encouragement, and they have sent for all the children to come home.

The Rev. J. G. Raymond kept his usual appointment Sunday evening stayed in the place over night and called on some of his parishioners Monday.

The Misses Eliza of Wilsonville were visitors in town last Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gust and daughter Ruth started on Monday morning to drive to Philadelphia where S. H. Janssen, his wife and he can make the trip in four days. They expect to be away six weeks or more visiting both of their parents and other relatives.

Fred Gumble of Milford came home Saturday and returned Wednesday. Miss Eliza Hipp came with him and is visiting her Uncle Horace of Wilsonville.

Lafe Killam is home this week from school as teachers institute is being held in Wayne county.

Gertrude Pellett went to Scranton and Waverly for a couple of weeks.

Miss Frank Pellett has gone to Honesdale for a few days to visit her cousin Miss Sue Walte.
