CORRESPONDENCE

Correspondents are particularly requested to send in all news intended for publication not later than Wednesday in each week to insure insertion.

LAYTON.

A. M. Ryman moved into the village last Friday, and the shops of H. R. Montross will now be filled by a competent workman. "Mont" is an old steadily and a good mechanic, especially noted for his excellent work in horse shoeing.

Elvin E. Smith has purchased his brother's interest in the homestead farm at Bevans, and becomes sole owner of the same. Consideration not stated.

R. V. Avery, of the Hudson River Telephone Company, was busy last week in staking out the poles for his company from Newton via Layton, and Dingman's Ferry to Port Jervis. The work of construction will soon begin, and the contrast with what has gone on before, will, as Cleveland says, be an object lesson.

Blaise Cole, of Hainesville, was home from Blair Ball last week on a brief vacation. Eston O. Vatt'syckle was also home from his Port Jervis school for a few days.

Henry Steffen, Jr., has been working the road machine the past week with quite a force of men. A better condition of our thoroughfares is expected to result therefrom, but under their system the same amount of money can be expended every spring with no permanent benefit. They are the same detestable dusty trails in dry weather, and mortar beds in wet.

The other twin has been heard from and is said to have been scouring to a paradise of femininity and heaven of gin some where near Stroudsburg. How hath the mighty fallen! Once he filled a large place in the public eye, and ran a big hotel. Later, the lost is found, and the prodigal has returned. Hail to the sinner that returns to the fold.

The Branchville people are very proud of their choice of Borough officials, and they have a right to be, for the selections are excellent. Dr. J. Cole Price is Mayor. The Council is Wm. Wintermute, James McCoy, John H. Quick, W. H. Dalrymple, Bert Smith and Peter A. Smith. Assessors, Chas. A. Dalrymple; Collector, Wm. C. Cook. Commissioners of Appeal, Benj. R. Knox, O. S. Bowman, John Thompson. 156 voters registered; 156 votes polled.

Everett Crone moved on the Wilson farm last week. We understand that Everett has bought the farm.

Regular meeting of the Walpole Athletic Club will be announced when they get in full training. They held a little session before a select audience at Bevans last week. The bout was without gloves and for a wonder no one was seriously hurt. The Spanish aid Cuban war was only a little more sanguinary than this.

Eljah Lundy, who was to have moved to a truck farm near Newark, got ready only a few days before the first of April that the occupant of the truck farm being a tenant at will, and not having been seasonably notified, declined to move. Eljah, therefore, had to make some port at short notice, and moved into the house of Mrs. Mary Weaver, at Hainesville.

"Honest John" was in town Saturday and it was noticed that his eyebrows and chin got in close proximity. A friend remarked that from "Honest John's" writings his brains had principally settled in the back of his neck. He may be right, but our own observations lead us to believe that they have gotten considerably below his waistband. A steady and long continued diet of snickers might bring them back to their normal position, and would certainly build up his weak spot.

Pastor Von Glahn put his household goods in a car at the Branchville station a week or two before Conference met, and having received all of his salary, seemed anxious to shake the Sandyston dust from his feet. Many of his most affectionate followers are grieved at his apparent coldness in not bidding them goodbye. It is said that "familiarily breeds contempt" and I wonder if it did.

To Mr. and Mrs. George Crone, on Wednesday evening last, a baby girl was born. Mother and child are doing well, and George is proud as a boy with his first pair of boots.

Charles Van Buren moves from along the River to the farm of Isaac Stoll.

Court convenes this week at Newton and the annual granting of hotel licenses creates quite a deal of interest. There are several inmates in the jail, and the Grand Jury's work is of especial interest.

BRICK HOUSE.

All fool's day is passed, now neighbors have arrived, and so has March weather. John Wood, Jr., of Matamoras, was seen over here Sunday.

Dr. Eston Cole returned to Philadelphia last week. Eustace Supper of the L. A. S. at the R.R. Church, April 7.

Montague B. of E. meets Thursday afternoon. Martin Cole returned to Blairstown Tuesday.

O, dear! How smart some people are. I know a man (I) who, for reasons best known to himself saw fit not to go after his mail, so for nearly two years he persuaded a neighbor to do it for him, on an average of twice a week. Now this neighbor changed his residence last week and could not continue his labor of love for which he was promised compensation. So as to even up things that smart (I) man told some one else to carry his mail a week before the first would have to stop. So this man had his mail carried nearly two years right to his door, a distance of a mile and a half, without even saying thanks.

The well-known Brick House Hotel will change proprietors in about ten days. Debbis Posthorne will go to Port Jervis, having rented the Central House of Schoonover & Palmer. Arthur Myers, of Hainesville, will take Bonnie's place. We are sorry to have Mr. and Mrs. Posthorne leave us, but what is our loss in Port Jervis's gain. Arthur never having kept a public house, no doubt will do his best to please the public.

James Yanny will move to Millville. Millville will be without a blacksmith shop.

Cedar street, Widow street and Young Ladies' square.

No big fish stories have reached our ears so far; it's too cold to fish; there is more fun sitting by the stove sampling eider.

O, what mean fellow throws those alms at us through the papers? If we only knew, we'd do what—the sentence is still unfinished.

Do unto your neighbor as you wish your neighbor to do unto you.

The Editor of the Press should give an Easter Supper. Eggs are cheap and no doubt H would furnish them at wholesale.

As there isn't any church here to attend, our ladies have no place to go to show their new bonnets.

So you are going to have a railroad over in Milford, on the ground, not on paper, as usual. Now if the war talk dies out you'll be happy.

FAIRS.

MATAMORAS.

The C. E. Society of Epworth Church gave a "flower social" at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Skinner, on Thursday night. The social was a novel affair, being, in fact, a guessing contest. Sixteen questions were propounded and the condition of the contest was that the answer to each question must be some kind of flower. Prizes were awarded to those who gave correct answers to all the questions, and these were Misses Elith Snyder and Cora Billman, each receiving a box of candy. After the questions a very pleasing program was rendered, and then refreshments were served, consisting of clamchowder, sandwiches and coffee. A considerable sum was realized for the benefit of the society.

About twenty men have already been employed and are working on the preliminary construction work of the new bridge of the Matamoras & Milford Railroad at Gormanstown, and the track work to hold the derricks is about completed. Five or six teams will be used in hauling stone for the abutments from Cahoonside. The company is using a blacksmith shop recently erected, and a cement shed and tool house, and office, which are completed.

Nearly all the tools are here and the men are rapidly pushing the work. A saw is being built to carry the stone to the center of the river for the middle pier, and the debris and dirt have been cleared from the old pier on this side of the river, and a substantial foundation already built. The engines are ready to be used just as soon as the stone arrives.

A snowstorm visited us on Monday evening and Tuesday. March has exchanged play with April this season. It is to be hoped the other months will not make the exchange.

Mrs. P. Jeffries, who has been spending part of the Winter with her sister, Mrs. Shay, at Pine Hars, N. C., has returned home.

Mr. Charles Wilkin and Mr. Richard, of Jeffries, graduated at the Philadelphia Dental College on April 1st. Several invitations were received in this village.

The Easter exercises at Epworth Church next Sunday bid fair to be of a pleasing nature. Full particulars of these will be sent in for publication next week.

Mr. Clarence Daly, who was lately appointed to the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., has been home on a visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Daley.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Van Sickle and son, Fred, and daughter, Betta, are all domiciled at their new home in the Millers House. Everything is being put in good shape. They are now ready to receive the patronage of the community.

DINGMANS FERRY.

William A. Cusack moved from Kate Angle's farm to the Zimmerman place on the first last.

Ernest Browne has returned to Smoot after a year's residence in this locality, and Michael B. Pitney has located on the farm vacated by him, we understand.

At the Court of Appeals in Dingman's last week, very few demurs appeared, and all was amicably settled without appeal, except one, and in that instance no appeal will be taken until after a further hearing.

J. B. Angle gave a dance last Friday evening, which was largely attended, young people from near and far being present, and an excellent time was the consequence. Another good party was given at Mr. Sturges, by the young people of Dingman's, which proved to be a pleasant time.

James Thornton, the gentlemanly fish vendor who makes weekly visits to Delaware, was undoubtedly the means of saving Owen Brown's little son, who is about three years of age, from drowning last Wednesday forenoon. The little fellow had wandered about three-fourths of a mile from home, and coming to the site which was formerly Marion Duley's home waded into a stream near at hand, where Mr. Thornton found him up to his chin in the cold current, and rescued him from his perilous situation, afterwards sending him home by a neighbor. Mr. Brown was absent at the time, and Mrs. Brown, nearly distressed with anxiety, was searching for the little fellow when he was returned to his home.

Allen Hornbeck has about completed his new dwelling down town, and has moved his family thereto. Krio.

GERMANTOWN.

John Newman and bride have returned from the city. They were greeted here by the young people with a merry serenade. Music was made with the piano, bells and the firing of guns. We wish them much joy.

Will Podlaski made a business trip to Hawley this week.

Alex. Porter wears a bright smile over a new bay baby.

We pity those who were fooled April 1st. They had to walk about four miles; but to not be discouraged, boys, walking is healthy.

Anton Podlaski has given up his present occupation as engineer, having a better position in view.

Einhold Wenzel is drawing logs to Glen Eyre.

Carle Beckeln has been visiting friends in Geesley.

Miss Podlaski, from Scranton, has lately visited here.

Some people ought to be more careful about whom they talk.
