EDITORIAL.

THE RECORD REFLECTS THE YELLOW.

THE Sussex Record has developed rapidly of late, and now comes to us full of newsy paragraphs, besides much other interesting matter. It is making an excellent bid for patronage and no doubt will be accorded its full share as it deserves. For some time it published the ten commandments as an editorial, and in this manner doubtless contributed largely to the religious education of its readers. Of course its editors should know best about what the patrons of their paper need, or what will satisfy them, but after toning up their systems with such strengthening mental pabulum as the Commandments, it hardly seems possible that they would assimilate such unstinted editorial adulation of the yellow N. Y. Journal as appeared in the Record last week. It was a very violent change of diet from the Ten Commandments, and our brethern should know that there is danger in a too sudden transition, either in diet or morality.

That the Dingley law is working to the advantage of the farmers in the reduction of importations of the class of articles which they produce, as well as the increased prices which they obtain through increased demand for their products is shown by the fact that the importation of articles of food and live animals in the month of January 1898, under the Dingly law was more than 2,000,000 less than in the corresponding month of the preceding year under the Wilson law, being about twelve and a quarter million dollars in January of the present year against about fifteen and a half million in January of last year under the Wilson law.

How are the free traders who insisted that the new duties placed upon hides and leather by the Dingley law would increase the prices of boots and shoes, going to explain the facts that all grades of boots and shoes are selling at less prices today than they sold at under the low tariff Wilson law? The quotations of the shoe and leather Reporter, an accepted authority show that practically all grades of shoes are wholesaling at lower rates today than they were January 1st, 1897, not a single one in the entire list showing an advance since that time.

The Dingley law in its eighth month, March, showed a gain in earnings over any preceding month in its history, being 50 per cent greater than in its first month, while the customs, receipts of the eight month were nearly 150 per cent in excess of those of the first month. The total receipts of the Treasury during its first eight months were more than $20,000,000 in excess of the receipts of the first eight months of the Wilson law.

The money in circulation in the United States today is much more than at any period in the history of the country. The highest sum named in the official reports of the Treasury Department, which gives the figures for July 1st of each year, is $1,660,808,708 on July 1, 1894, while its figures show the circulation on April 1, 1898 to be $1,756 058,605.

The Gold in the country has increased nearly $130,000,000 since the adoption of the Chicago platform and the total coin in circulation has been increased $246,323,445, and all this despite the assertions that our circulating medium could not increase without the free and unlimited coinage of silver at 16-to-1.

Bad for Bronchitis

but extremely good for the sufferer from that harassing disease is Dr. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. No medicine can compare with this great remedy in the prompt and permanent aid it gives in all bronchial affections. It stops the cough, soothes the irritated throat, and induces refreshing sleep.

"I had a bronchial trouble of such a persistent and stubborn character that the doctor pronounced it incurable with ordinary remedies, but recommended me to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. One bottle cured me."
J. C. WOODSON, P. M.,
Forest Hill, W. Va.

"A short time ago I was taken with a severe attack of bronchitis, and neither physicians nor ordinary remedies gave me relief. In despair of finding anything to cure me, I bought a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Less than one bottle entirely cured me."
GEO. B. HUNTER, Altoona, Pa.

What it will do for you for a monthly payment of $8 per $1,000—$5 of which applies on principal, $3 is interest.

First—It will buy for you any house desired or build you a house according to your own plans, for a payment of not less than 10% down.

Second—It will assume any mortgage on your property, and advance you more money, if desired, not to exceed 60% of its valuation. At above rates you would own your property free and clear in just 200 months; you can pay as much more as you wish, and reduce the time in proportion, or the full amount will be received at any time.

The first proposition enables you to convert your rent money into the ownership of a home.

The second proposition enables you to reduce the interest rate on your mortgage and at the same time be paying off the principal each month.
