LAYTON.

People who desire to commit a dirty act do not always find a newspaper that will become a party to it, and when they sometimes do, they feel ashamed to have their hand appear in it, so they delegate it to some "puddin'" head like the so-called "Honest" John to pull their chestnuts out of the fire. Somebody who has little discrimination, and less wit, but is a ready made and willing tool for the vicious and evil-minded, who may feel disposed to use him. Knowing this, whatever he may say has little attention paid to it by those who know him, and them.

All the patients afflicted with Appendicitis are progressing finely. Mrs. J. Y. Clark is convalescent; Andrew Morris rapidly recovering, and Mrs. Madison Shady doing so well that she will be brought from the Port Jervis hospital in a few days.

Farmers are a trifle behind with their work on account of the incessant rainy weather, but they are becoming rather philosophical over it, and realize that if it was as extremely dry as it has been, it would be much harder to bear. The darkest hour is just before the dawn, and brighter days and sunshine are sure to come. Thanks to the rains, the grass and grain has grown rapidly, and the fields are clothed with living green. Haste when the propitious time comes and all will yet be well.

The hatchery at Pine Hill farm has got out enough chicks to replant the stock of laying fowls, as usually kept, and the incubators are now filled with 300 eggs for Benjamin B. Hersh, of Hainesville, Centre. After these are out, the incubators will perhaps be retired from further operations this season.

The villagers in Layton feel the pulsations in the arteries of progress, and as sensible people in a village should do, are disregarding the unattractive fences between their residences and the street.

One of our artists of the paint brush went off in the stage last Saturday to help McKinley out of his trouble with the Spaniards. Frank evidently prefers a war in Cuba to a skirmish at home.

The Branchville and Milford Gun Clubs held their third tournament at the grounds of Shay J. Van Ness on Saturday last. Branchville won with 13 points in the lead. We beg to suggest that the heavy firing of the Gun Clubs, and De Alton Dillistin being along with them was responsible for the rain that followed on Sunday. A friend suggests also that the Branchville Club is invincible with Dillison on deck. Sort of a mascot, you see.

There seems to be a diversity in the reports of the action of the Borough Council of Branchville, in regard to the setting of poles in that town, by the Hudson River Telephone Co. One report being that the Council would permit no more poles to be set in the town limits. This would be a very short-sighted policy indeed, and I cannot believe that Branchville would permit any restrictions on any enterprise that would tend to better their conditions, and facilitate business. As soon as the telephone line would certainly do. Influence will not be lacking to obstruct, but the Council owe it to themselves, and the people for whom they act not to commit themselves to such a narrow line of business policy. I have confidence that they will not do it.

The high price of wheat flour is going to bring the home made eye bread of our boyhood days, to the front again. It will not be an unwelcome guest on my table, as we have not lost our hankering for it.

A rumor that has persistently repeated about here that the H. R. Telephone Co. had offered the Sussex Co. a 10% advance on the cost of their line, and that the latter would not sell for less than 25% is a fake, at least as far as concerns the first part of the story. The Hudson River Co. has no possible use for it, and I have authority for saying that the idea of buying that line ticks their funny bone immensely.

While the road across the mountain is not at all good, that portion lying in Frankford is especially detestable. If it is not put in better condition before long it will be more by good luck than just design. It is that town's ill-luck. It is presented to the Grand Jury next term, and a true bill asked. This road is one of the principal feeders of Branchville, and contributes much to the business life of that town, and it should, in the interest of that township, as a whole, be kept in much better condition than it now is.

We are much pleased to note that most of the County newspapers, as also the Editor of the Pike County Press, give due credit for the effort to obtain something near an equalization of taxes in Sussex Co. Assessor Jas. J. Van Sickle, of Sandyton, has for years past given this matter special attention, and labored to attain this end. He has become thoroughly conversant with the inequalities of present methods, and the most direct and lawful means of correcting the evils. That his efforts now seem about to be crowned with success is pleasing to his friends, and to us. First, because it is evidence that a principle based upon right can at last win, though opposed by numbers who are interested in the opposite direction. Second, because he is a fellow townsman, and his success gives us a right to be proud of him, and we are.

Later news from Branchville is to the effect that the Council grants the Hudson River Telephone Co. the privilege to set its poles 40 feet long in the central part of the town, and 10 poles 20 feet long in the outskirts thereof. The Company pays for the poles, and C. H. Crisman sets them, and has the privilege of running an electric-light wire on them to his boat house at Culvers Lake. Thus the H. R. poles gain their points, one after another, simply by fair treatment, neither asking any sacrifice of principle nor pecuniary loss to the people with whom they come in contact. It is a pleasure to deal with business men, and gentlemen like these prove to be.

Prices Bros. of Branchville, had already sold on May 12th at private sale 18 of the 22 horses that came in their carload of May 1st. Pretty good evidence that they have the confidence of their customers, and a well selected lot of horses.

Daniel Uter lives about three miles north of Taitles Corners, close along the Big Flat Brook. By profession he is a farmer, but he wishes to ascertain that he is the champion hoop pole shaver of Susquehanna Co. He has made it a side issue for 35 years, with the exception of one or two years when hoops were unsalable. The poles were purchased of every owner of woodland for miles around, and he has an established reputation for fair dealing. The amount of poles he has handled is simply enormous, and run in amount from $50 to $100 yearly. The poles are split and shaved into strips, and barrel and oak hoops of every description. He ships them himself, generally to New York City, where he is well and favorably known by dealers in this specialty. H.

MATAMORAS.

Miss Hazel Hornbeck was very pleasantly surprised on Saturday afternoon, at half past five o'clock, when about twenty of her young friends called upon her. Miss Hazel did not know of her friends' coming. She saw them from the window as they were coming in the yard. Hazel was equal to the occasion and gave her friends a very pleasant reception. The party was managed by Miss May Mills, all meeting at her home before coming to Miss Hazel's. Each one brought something nice to eat, so when it came time for supper everything was there that could be wished for in the way of eating. After supper pleasant games were enjoyed, and the time soon passed. At an early hour in the evening the young people took their departure for home, each one expressing themselves highly pleased with the party, and they all think Miss Hazel knows just how to entertain a surprise party.

Miss Nellie Westfall, of this village, who has been teaching school for the past two years at Port Jervis, has left the school and Miss Flora Hoidal teaches in her place.

Mr. Albert Grierson, of New York City, is visiting his brother-in-law, Father Tries, of Matamoras. He is a Cuban by birth, having been born at Cienfuegos, which was bombarded by the U. S. fleet last week.

The members of the Opera Mikado from this village are Miss Mary Squires, Miss Hattie Allen, Mr. John Corwin, Miss Lulu Hillman and Miss Maggie Rose.

Mrs. Charles Snyder returned from St. Louis Tuesday evening in company with Mrs. Kronk, who was called away suddenly on account of Mr. Kronk's death. S.

GREENTOWN.

The entertainment that was to have been at Hemlock Grove Church Thursday evening, May 16th, has been postponed until Thursday evening, May 20th. It will consist of vocal and instrumental music. The New Foundland Orchestra will furnish the instrumental music and the Evans Trio, from Nobletown, will have charge of the vocal music. There will be a small admittance fee charged. Proceeds for benefit of church.

Emery Hazleton, of Palmyra Township, who has been a sufferer for a number of years with rheumatism, is lying dangerously ill at his home, although he is somewhat improved at this time.

Charles Frisbie, who is now lumbering at Ledgedale, has bought about 1,000,000 feet of hemlock timber from the Union Tanning Company. As soon as he saw out his stock of logs at Ledgedale, Wayne Co., he will move his mill across the river into Pike County, at the foot of what is called Ledgedale Hill.

DINGMANS PERRY.

A new flag pole 45 ft. high has been raised at Centre, in place of the one erected in 1893 which had rotted down. Centre is the only school in the township with enough patriotism to raise a pole, or at least the only one with a teacher enthusiastic enough to start the movement.

School is out at Silver Lake and Colas. How about patent seats, and building a new house at the Lake. The old one looks almost as badly as if it had been garrisoned by Spain and bombarded by an American fleet.

Alphus Boushey cut his foot quite severely some time ago and is not yet able to get out.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

From the Montague, N. J. Nail Keg.

Mr. KNIGHT by the Press: "I will give you a few lines while waiting on the new shop's skin what is on top of the Montague Nail Keg. It has raised me much over here the water got used by itself and made a tumbler shower. While it tumbled in de clouds it tumbled in some house, to I am told, but not so hard, because that building county had the Impudence to say to move the church from the hill down, so some people claim some others would have to give no money. So the meeting Saturday afternoon, nobody came to see the sermon, all right; more the church down the hill, but the ladies at that meeting Thursday said leave it where it is. So what will be done pretty soon?"

Learn that Levi Van Eton is very poorly. Also that the bells from Pike County been here gossiped. Now we will have another student to preach here this Summer. By and by we are glad to have a student when the meeting house is all right again. Arthur Morse is said to keep a good hotel. When I get some money I am going to investigate for myself. (Better come over some day, John.) Some folks here is just killing groundhogs cause dere is a bounty on de scalp wat de company don't want to pay, but dey will. Some other boys has a first good time in every tree month, and den de money is spent and dey dry again. Our schools will soon be shut up and de youngsters be turned out to play all summer with no school. I also see that H. is in Layton yet, and some day I am going down there after a higher roster, but I come in de day time. Now I say one or two things more. The Lord loves a cheerful giver. The Lord helps them which helps themselves. (The right and honest way, I suppose dat means.)

Now Dr. Eton Cole is sum home from Philadelphia. He pulls your teeth, Eton Cole. Will Van Eton is cum home from Layton to see his sick father. Now pretty soon when the water is cool some General will give the cross a job to pull corn. (The potato bugs will come to raise the dirt as usual, and so it goes. Now just remember to be honest, take a paper as to owe the editor for two or three years' subscription, then let the postmaster you don't want the paper no more and the editor can go to grass. Now I will say no more but take a nap on the

MONTEAGUE NAIL KEG.

THE APPLE WORM. THIS NEEDS IMMEDIATE ATTENTION. This insect does an enormous amount of damage each year. It is estimated that the apple crop in New York State is worth on an average seven and a half million dollars, and that wormy apples form about one-third the crop, making the loss two and a half million dollars.

The eggs from which the worm comes is laid by a little moth, called the "Coddling Moth," either on the little apple, on the stem or the leaves near by. They hatch and the worm begins to eat its way in the apple. Three-fourths enter at the blossom end. It works in the core, feeds till full grown, then leaves the apple and hides under the bark of the tree or under rubbish on the ground. Here it spins a case of silk around itself and in time comes out as a little moth and this history is repeated.

It comes from its resting place in the spring, about when the seasons fall and the fruit sets, and begins having once which hatch in about a week. Then is the time to kill the worm. The apple blossoms now points up, and the calyx lobes are separate. In a week or so they draw together, and before so doing, but several days after the blossoms have fallen, the trees should be sprayed with Paris green, one pound mixed with 175 gallons of water and two pounds of fresh slaked lime thrown on the trees in a spray this will fall on the blossom ends of the apple, remain there and when the worm begins to eat poisons him. It is too late to spray after the calyx lobes draw together.

The last of July and first of August the moths from the eggs laid in spring appear to lay eggs for the second brood. If the loose dead bark is taken from the trunk of the tree near the crotches and an old cloth wrapped around, the moths will hibe under this and may be crushed. All wild apple should be picked up, or the steep and hogs allowed to run to the orchard.

The cost of spraying is not more than five to ten cents a tree, and pear trees should also be sprayed. The plum curculio may be destroyed with London Purple mixed as above described, and sprayed on the trees before the flower buds open. Do not spray while trees are in blossom.
