

Why not be well?

If you are suffering with any disease of the Kidneys, Bladder or Urinary Organs, Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy will make you well again. It has cured cases that bordered on the miraculous. It quickly cures men and women of inability to hold urine, and they are not compelled to get up often and make water at night. It removes the scalding sensation in passing it, and, when taken according to directions, it invariably cures pains in the small of the back. Favorite Remedy not only cures Stone in the Bladder and Bright's Disease, but prevents them from developing. One case is that of John J. Neill, of 2011 North Eighth Street, Philadelphia, Pa. In 1899 he began to suffer indescribable miseries from Stone in the Bladder. An eminent physician said a surgical operation was necessary. If unsuccessful it meant death, and Mr. Neill put off the evil day as long as possible. While in this frame of mind he heard of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, and bought it. Before he had finished the third bottle the gravel was completely dissolved and his sufferings were at an end. Favorite Remedy is a perfect Blood and Nerve medicine. It restores the liver to a healthy condition, cures the worst cases of Constipation, and all diseases peculiar to females. It cures Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Rheumatism. Your druggist will sell you a regular full-sized bottle for $1.00.

SPRING CLEANING.

Yes, clean yer house, an' clean yer shed,
An' clean yer barn in ev'ry part;
But brush the cobwebs from yer head,
An' sweep the snowbanks from yer heart.

Yes, w'en spring cleanin' comes aroun'
Bring forth the duster an' the broom,
But take yer foggy notions down,
An' sweep yer dusty soul of gloom.

Sweep ol' ideas out with the dust,
An' dress yer soul in newer style;
Scrape from yer mind 'is wornout crust,
An' dump it in the rubbish pile.

Sweep out the jakes that burn an' smart,
Bring in new loves serene an' pure;
Aroun' the hearthstone of the heart
Place modern styles of furniture.

Clean out yer morril cobby holes,
Sweep out the dirt, scrape off the sum;
'Tis cleanin' time for healthy souls—
Git up 'er dust! The spring has come!

Clean out the corners of the brain,
Scrub up the windows of the mind,
Clean up, an' let the spring beget;
Sweep open wide the dusty blind,
An' let the April sunshine in.

Plant flowers in the soul's front yard,
Set out new shade an' blossom trees,
An' let the soul once from an' hard
Sprout croonies of new ideas.

Yes, clean yer house, an' clean yer shed,
An' clean yer barn in ev'ry part;
But brush the cobwebs from yer head,
An' sweep the snowbanks from yer heart!

MADELINE JOYCE.

"Strawberries! Strawberries! Very fine and fresh—lady, please buy." But Madeline Joyce shook her head. "No—I do not want any, child." And the strawberry girl passed on. Madeline gazed after her with sad violet-gray eyes. "Poor and proud! proud and poor!" she murmured to herself. "O, my God! why was I not yonder ragged strawberry girl or even the child who sweeps the crosswalk, and earns an honest penny now and then? But now—now my hands are tied by mamma's absurd prejudices! Well, Beatrice, what is it?" For her younger sister had come noticeably in. "The bill from the baker's, Madeline." "Another bill! Did you tell the man we had no money, Beatrice?" "What would have been the use, Maddy? Of course I did not tell him." "And, mamma?" "She does not know—she is reading in the parlor; she will not let me mend the tablecloth; she says it is not work for ladies. O, Maddy, what shall we do?" Madeline arose and began pacing impatiently up and down the room. "Hush!" she cried, "there is a ring at the bell. It is Mrs. Benjamin again. Go tell her I am engaged—busy—gone out—anything you please. No—stay! Perhaps I had better see her after all." And Madeline went down stairs to where Mrs. Joyce sat in faded silk and darned lace, with white, wadded hands, folded in her lap, and an embroidered ottoman under her feet. "It is like a dream," Madeline said to herself. "And to think that there is nothing in the house for dinner. Perhaps Mrs. Benjamin will ask mamma to dine, and Bee and I can seek out for half a pound of crackers. We can eat anything!" And through her disjunct meditations, her mother's soft, sweet voice sounded. "To the White Mountains? With you? My dear Mrs. Benjamin, you are very kind, I am sure, and Maddy must use her own discretion about accepting. Do you hear, darling? Mrs. Benjamin wants you to accompany her to the mountains as soon as she has secured a nursery governess for the dear little boys. I am sure it would be a charming opportunity for you to see a little of life, for circumstances, you know, preclude me from giving you much variety." Madeline looked up with a sudden glitter in her eyes. "A nursery governess? I think I know of some one, Mrs. Benjamin, who would suit you, if—if your terms are at all liberal." "Three hundred a year and all expenses paid," said Mrs. Benjamin. "I think it isn't at all stingy. Who is it, Madeline?" "A young lady—a friend of mine. When do you want her?" "At once; and then we can be off before the winter weather comes in. You will accompany us, Madeline?" "Oh, of course—of course. That is, if mamma approves?" And Mrs. Joyce smiled faintly. "How ready the young birds are to fly away and leave the parent nest," she sighed. "Well, it is but natural. I can hardly blame Maddy for being anxious to leave so dull a place as this."

ARMY AND NAVY TITLES.

Names by Which Officers and the Different Sections of Army and Navy are Known.

When everybody is interested in the movements of the army and navy, the average reader is not unlikely to become confused with the multiplicity of terms and titles employed in the newspapers. He may make the mistake, for instance, of thinking that a captain in the navy is the equal in rank of a captain in the infantry, or that a captain in the infantry is a bigger man than a naval lieutenant. He may be interested to know that there are two kinds of squadrons, one which runs on land and one which travels on the water; that a regiment of artillery consists of 12 batteries of six guns each, and that a regiment of cavalry is composed of 12 troops, two or more of which form a squadron. The relative ranks of the officers of the army and navy and the divisions in the formation of these two branches of the service are as follows:

ARMY.
General, or commander-in-chief.
Lieutenant-general.
Major-general.
Brigadier-general.
Colonel.
Lieutenant-colonel.
Major.
Captain.
First-lieutenant.
Second-lieutenant.

NAVY.
Admiral.
Vice-admiral.
Rear-admiral.
Commodore.
Captain.
Commander.
Lieutenant-commander.
Lieutenant.
Master.
Ensign.

DIVISIONS OF THE ARMY.
Squad—A subdivision of a company, commanded by sergeant or corporal.
Platoon—Half of a company, commanded by a lieutenant.
Company—Not more than 100 men, commanded by a captain.
Battalion—Four companies, commanded by a major.
Regiment—Three battalions, commanded by a colonel.
Brigade—Two or more regiments, commanded by a brigadier-general.
Division—Two or more brigades, commanded by a major-general.
Corps—Two or more divisions, commanded by a lieutenant-general.
