CORRESPONDENCE

MATAMORAS.

The Sunday morning services in Epworth Church were of a pleasing nature. The choir rendered some fine selections. A duet by Rev. Morton and Miss Lulu Billman was very pleasing. Rev. Morton's successor, the Rev. T. G. Spencer, of Pittsburg, Pa., gave a fine address. He took his text from the 14th chapter of Acts and said: "Life is what you make it. It has victories which are as real as any as failure and calamity. We must all kneel in uncomplaining resignation, when overwhelmed by affliction."

The congregation was highly pleased with Mr. Spencer. He is a graduate of Drew Seminary and comes well recommended. We trust he will be pleased with the Matamoras people.

At the evening service the Christian Endeavor Society connected with the church had an interesting program, namely, singing by the choir, prayer by Rev. T. G. Spencer, singing by the choir, collection, a duet by Rev. Morton and Miss Lulu Billman, reading by Nellie Westfall a solo by Grover Snyder, a recitation by Miss Edith Snyder, a solo by Rev. Morton singing by the choir, remarks by Rev. Morton and Rev. Spencer, and the doxology.

Rev. Morton will not be here another Sabbath. He stated in his remarks that he was sorry to leave the church, but needs city companies here to do so. He stated that he was leaving a good man in his place.

Mr. Spencer followed these remarks and said he came among them a stranger, but hoped to meet success, provided all take an interest in the church work. There is no corner of the earth closed to the Lord. He helps those who help themselves. We put our trust in Him.

At the close of the services an invitation was extended to the congregation and their friends to attend the Labor Day supper, which takes place in the church Monday evening, given by the Ladies' Aid Society. We can then have the privilege of bidding good-bye to Mr. Morton and welcome Mr. Spencer.

Miss Mary V. Squires and Hattie Allen, of Matamoras, returned home on Monday from a week's visit in Westtown and Unionville.

Master Eugene Cochran, of Matamoras, was pleasantly surprised Saturday evening by about twenty of his young friends. Miss Edith Crane gave out the invitations. He succeeded nicely in entertaining his young friends. Very choice refreshments were served during the evening.

The Matamoras High School opened Monday. All the teachers were on duty. They are: Prof. Kilocta, the superintendent; Mr. Maloney, Miss Van Akin, Mr. Wilkin, Miss Rose, Miss Maloney and Miss Bemyer, who has charge of the primary department. The rooms are in good condition and the grounds are fixed up nicely. The flag pole has also been painted. Mr. Lewis Devere is the janitor. The prospects are bright for a successful year in school work.

Little Miss Frances Foley of New York city a niece of Father Tries of Matamoras, gave a party to about twelve of her young friends at the residence of father Tries on Tuesday afternoon. Games were played out on the lawn. They all had a pleasant afternoon. Supper was served which was very much enjoyed. Every one voted Miss Frances a good entertainer and trust she will visit Matamoras again another summer.

Miss Flora and Clara Hoidal enter talked a few of their young friends at their home on Washington Street on Thursday evening. Music and games formed the evening's pleasure. The out-of-town guests were Edna Westfall, of Newburgh and Grace Reeder of Middletown the latter a cousin of the Misses Hoidal.

Prof. E. F. Killoct arrived in town Friday evening from his home on White Lake to begin his duties Monday morning as Principal of the Matamoras High School.

The L. A. S. of Epworth Church celebrated Labor Day with a grand supper on Monday evening in honor of Rev. Morton and Spencer. There was a large number present and the society realized a nice sum. Everyone present had a pleasant time. At the close of the evening the choir rendered some very pretty selections and Rev. Mr. Morton and Miss Billman sang a duet, all of which were very pleasing. The ladies are to be congratulated upon their fine supper.

HAPPY GAP AND BAD MISHAP

Our days cannot be always bright. The sky is sometimes clouded; Soills come to our summer time, Altho' with joy 'tis crowded.

Upon the raging Delaware Away roared valiant Ida; Fair Lilybell was passenger, And there was none beside her.

When lol upon a treacherous rift, The little boat was stranded; One oar went floating down the stream, But all was safely landed.

"O, help! I'll drown!" the piercing cries Sped o'er the foaming water. A hero to her rescue came, For which he got a quarter.

The next to feel misfortune's blow Was one who once was lively. But who can laugh or dance, or sing, When hurt by poison ivy?

This malady had Marguerite Till she was well nigh helpless; The day meant bandages and pain, The weary night was sleepless.

To seek relief we sallied forth To a friendly neighbor's villa. A generous powder she applied, 'Till Madge looked like a miller.

The poison having disappeared, A trip we took for pleasure. 'Twas to the famous Water Gap; Its memory now we treasure.

The kindly hospitality, The scenes of rarest beauty, Bro't to our lives four perfect days, Those days that knew no duty.

For we were ecstasies, fancy free, We joyed in Nature's bounty; The well built roads gave keen delight, Their picturesque Pike County.

One night we passed in fair Shawnee, Detained by rainy weather; We laughed and chatted o'er our tea; Canned salmon ate together.

At mid-night misery seized Marie; We woke with her imploring; 'I have the ptomaine! Soon I'll die! No more I'll go exploring.

Cool blew the Pennsylvania breeze; Our fears were soon abated. We slept, we woke in perfect health, And homeward came, elated.

One pleasant morning, on the crags; A careless misstep taking, Elaine plunged headlong down the hill, Her ankle badly breaking.

Then came good Dr. Emerson; With splints secure he bound her, And when those splints had done their work, A plaster cast went round her.

In kindness then the neighbors vied, With books, and fruit and flowers. The daily ministry of friends Made bright the captive's hours.

So while a sad mishap or two May come to every rover, We'll dwell on the joys when summer time, Like the war with Spain, is over.

—ROBERT IN SHADY GLEN.

MONTAGUE.

It is so hot on the sheepskin that it drives the news all out of a fellow, consequently there is not much to say, only

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Westbrook and family have returned to Jersey City.

Miss Louisa Youngs is teaching the Union school over in Dingman Township.

Peter Brink is very low and Geo. H. Cole is said to be pretty sick.

The new church is an assured fact if nothing serious turns up. A. D. Brown & Son have the contract for $1000. The building committee has sold the old church to Everett Crane for $100. Some people think it's too bad to tear the old landmark, which appears to be perfectly sound, excepting the roof, down. But it must come down. Some one rather played a joke early Tuesday morning, by posting trespass notices on the grounds and building, but it did not work a scare. The loose property was removed and taken by those who cared to take charge of it.

So far only one casualty has taken place. Mrs. Martha Lane is nursing a black eye, the result of letting her head come into too close contact with the iron railing. She will recover. M. N. K.

The majorities in Monroe at the primaries were: Lee over Schwarz for Senator, 514; Burnett over Stotz for Representative, 792; Fisher for Sheriff 44, over Meekes, who was second; Mansfield over Decker for County Chairman, 76. Dr. Shull, who was unopposed for Congress, received 2598 votes. Nearly three thousand were cast.

The Democrats, Anti Quay Republicans and Prohibitionists in Blair County have fused on a Legislative candidate.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address: F. J. to investigate they would learn that the capital building burned down contained the records of the auditor general and the state treasurer's departments were kept in a separate building, having another building between it and the building where these records are kept. There was not a single record of the treasury or auditor general's department in the building burned down. This senseless fabrication reminds me of the interesting story told by Charles Lamm of the Chinaman who discovered roast pig. The hut of a Chinaman having burned down, and some young pigs that were there among its tenants having been roasted, the Chinaman proceeded to devour them with intense satisfaction. He was so well pleased with the viands that he turned incendiary and burned down several establishments belonging to his neighbors. In order to roast the pigs therein confined, he continued his hazardous course until it got through his Mongolian head one day that the pigs might be roasted without the burning of the buildings. It will occur to any one who reflects a moment that if there were any papers in Harriburg for which destruction was necessary for any purpose, it is not likely that they would be carefully preserved and filed away in the public buildings, and if they had been so preserved and filed it would not be necessary to burn the building in order to burn the papers. The pigs, in order to roast and the papers could be destroyed without the risk and hazard of burning down valuable buildings.

ABOUT BROKEN BANKS.

"The attempt of Mr. Wanamaker to connect the Republican party with the failure of the People's bank, the Guarantors and the State Insurance company is, to say the least, far fetched. The Republican party is no more responsible for the failure of the institutions than it was for the failure of the Keystone bank, of unsavory memory, and I presume Mr. Wanamaker will not undertake to say that the Republican party wrecked that bank. The fact that the state has not lost a single penny by reason of the failure of any of these institutions.

"Mr. Wanamaker also attacks the recent Republican convention. With the facts attending that convention the Republican party is already familiar. In many counties the candidates for gubernatorial honors submitted their candidacy to a vote of the people. The delegates were elected under party rules. At the convention Mr. Wanamaker, finding that he did not have a sufficient number of delegates to nominate himself, withdrew from the contest and transferred his hopes to a body to another candidate, who numbered among his delegates many of the most prominent organization men in the state. The union of the forces was not successful, and the convention nominated another candidate. All the contents brought before that convention were decided in favor of Mr. Wanamaker and those with whom he combined his forces. In a single instance was a decision made in favor of the prevailing candidate. On the floor of the convention the fullest latitude was given to Mr. Wanamaker and his friends to attack the candidate made against their interests. The convention was conducted in a spirit of generous fairness, and no reasonable person can find fault with anything that was done in its proceedings.

THAT CHESTER COUNTY TALE.
"While it is not within the purview of this interview to discuss the charges made by Mr. Wanamaker in reference to the deposit of state funds with the State Deposit company, yet I feel that it is proper for me to recall the facts in reference to the legislation upon the subject. Prior to 1897 the state treasurer, under the law, was personally responsible for all state moneys, claims and credits. Under the law, as it appeared from his testimony, a bondsman of the state treasurer and his associates made a bond for the safe keeping of the state funds. Under this system the treasurer and his bondsmen, being responsible for all state moneys, claims and credits, had the right to select the depositories in which state funds were located. Mr. Darlington, as it appeared from his testimony, was a bondsman of the state treasurer and he participated in the selection of the depositories in which state funds were located. He seems to have felt himself called upon to make contributions in support of the party that extended these favors. These favors, which he seems to be borne, and it is only fair that those who are favored by the party should help bear its burdens, and it would seem from his testimony that Mr. Darlington thought it was proper that he should contribute, and that he should have in return therefor a continuance of his deposit. Whatever may be thought of the transaction it was certainly not in violation of the law. Mr. Wanamaker can complain for it resembles closely his action in the campaign of '88, when, it being understood that, having collected, or being about to collect, some four or five thousand dollars from manufacturers and others participating in the benefits of tariff legislation, he exacted a promise from the national committee that he should be appointed postmaster general.

"Whatever may be thought, however, about the political morality of Mr. Darlington and Mr. Wanamaker in the transactions above mentioned, it is a thing of the past and as far as the treasury is concerned. The legislature of 1897 passed a law which provides for interest on deposits of state moneys in banking institutions of the state. The law imposes upon the state treasurer and the members of the revenue commission the duty of selecting the banking institutions of the state in which the moneys shall be deposited, and provides for the taking of sufficient securities therefor. This law was drawn by the chairman of the Republican organization, and received its earnest and active support. It passed the senate and houses with practically a unanimous vote, and I trust will correct the abuses of the former system.

IT IS ANTI-REPUBLICAN.
"It might as well be understood now that this is a contest to defeat Republican supremacy in Pennsylvania. The organization is prepared to defend the party from all these new and malicious attacks. It is our purpose to labor for the success of the whole Republican ticket, county as well as state. It is our desire to see the administration of President McKinley, and we feel the necessity of returning the greatest possible number of Republican congressmen from this state. It is also important that a Republican United States senator should be returned from Pennsylvania. With a new governmental policy growing out of the issues of the war we should see to it that Pennsylvania is represented by straight out Republicans in both houses of congress.

"In conclusion, I desire to say that I shall not enter into any competition with Mr. Wanamaker in defaming the state of which I am proud to be a citizen, and bestrengthening the good name of its people in the eyes of the country. I prefer rather to exalt and glorify it within all proper bounds of language. God has blessed this state and valleys with matchless resources, above and under the ground, far beyond Golconda and the Klondike, and the genius and industry of its people have developed it into an imperial domain. I prefer to look at it with eyes unclouded by any disappointed ambition, and to think of it as it is, the home of education and integrity, morality and religion, rather than to proclaim it as a breeding ground of iniquity, whose people choose habitual criminals as their representatives to enact their laws and administer their public affairs."

THE "BUNION" SHOE.

Plenty of room for enlarged joints closely fitting elsewhere.

This describes shoes made on the "Bunion Lasts."

The foot with the bunion was very much like other feet before the bunion grew. It needs a shoe having more room in certain points.

It has been impossible to obtain a set of factory fit in ready made shoe.

The nearest approach to it was obtained by buying a shoe which was two or three sizes too long or too wide.

The "custom shoe maker" has frequently failed to give a satisfactory fit simply because he had no last of proper shape to work on.

He put on a bunch here and a bunch there, but the outline was wrong and the shoe didn't fit.

The "Bunion Shoe" is the only shoe that will fit the foot with a bunion or an enlarged joint. The words "Bunion Shoe" and "Bunion Last" registered as trade mark, May 7, 1892.
