

How to Prolong Life

No man or woman can hope to live long if the Kidneys, Bladder, or Urinary Organs are diseased. Disorders of that kind should never be neglected. Don't delay in finding out your condition. You can tell as well as a physician. Put some urine in a glass or bottle, and let it stand a day and night. A sediment at the bottom is a sure sign that you have Kidney Disease. Other certain signs are pains in the small of the back—a desire to make water often, especially at night—a scalding sensation in passing it—and if urine stains linen there is no doubt that the disease is present.

There is a cure for Kidney and Bladder Diseases. It is Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. It has been for thirty years, and is today, the greatest and best medicine known for these troubles.

Mr. William W. Adams, cor. Jefferson Avenue and Clifton Street, Rochester, N. Y., says:—

"Three years ago I was taken with Kidney disease very badly; at times I was completely prostrated; in fact, was so bad that a day was set for the doctors to perform an operation upon me. Upon that day I commenced the use of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, and it was not long before I was entirely cured, and I have had no return of the trouble since. My weight has increased, and I never was so well as I am now. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy saved my life."

Favorite Remedy acts directly upon the Kidneys, Liver and Blood. In cases of Nervousness, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Ulcers, Old Sores, Blood Poisoning, Bright's Disease and Female Troubles it has made cures after all other treatments failed. It is sold for $1.00 a bottle at drug stores. A teaspoonful is a dose. Sample Bottle Free! Send your full postoffice address to the Dr. David Kennedy Corporation, Rondout, N. Y., and mention this paper, and a sample bottle of Favorite Remedy will be sent free. Every sufferer can depend upon the genuineness of this offer, and should send at once.

A BOY'S COMPLAINT.

Almost the last words father said to me before he fell asleep were:—William, keep this in your head—The crop you saw you'll have to reap!

Don't envy others what they're got. But you just did the best you could for all the world, and you must grow to be a worthy man!

I've had to work since father died—I've learned a lot I never knew before he went, but still I've tried to do the things he told me to. I've never cheated any one, and I've always tried to show the wrong if he can see, he knows I've done my level best to help along.

But every day or two I meet some one that father used to know. Who says:—My gracious! It does beat!

Creation how they've grown! And so he stops and looks at me, and I could knife him then, because he's sure to say I'll never be quite such a man as father was.

A week ago my Uncle John came on a visit from the West; "Gosh! how you've grown since I've been gone!"

He said—and then I guessed the rest. He grabbed me by the muscle—gee! What an awful grip he had!

"But of course," said he, "you'll never be quite such a feller as your dad!"

Still, mother tells me not to care. What such unliking people say; she says she knows I'll make them stare.

If God but lets me live, some day "For even Washington," says she, "No doubt was often and became Polke told him he would never be the man his humble father was."

cent had not had anything to say to him, except incidentally, though she hadn't avoided him.

"Then—I always thought it was accidental on purpose that Mildred just happened to be standing near the entrance to the conservatory—I saw him cross the room quite casually and speak to her. Mildred's cheeks grew a little deeper pink, and they stayed inside."

"I had to go up stairs then, but in the morning when I saw Mildred she was the happiest-looking girl you ever saw. Everything was all right again, though she wouldn't tell me what he said in the conservatory."

"And now, Fluffy Frivola, I have followed Mildred's true spirit's footsteps. I didn't shed a tear when I had something spilled on my prettiest party gown this winter, and I stayed so well that I dreamed of a lovely way to embroider over the stains, and it is now as good as new."

"Now you are coming out to walk with me, and this afternoon you are going to take a nap. You are coming to take dinner with me and wear one of your prettiest gowns, and I expect some people in this evening, and if your Jack should happen to be there and doesn't say nice things to you then I am not the girl I think I am."

Out of the Old.

Charles E. Aahr, of Carville, Me., is putting in a second block in French county. Having predicted a flood, which he says will inundate the entire northeastern section of the county, he is now engaged in the construction of an ark, in which to escape with his family and his household goods.

The hottest region on the earth is on the southwestern coast of Peru, where Persia borders the gulf of the same name. For forty consecutive days in July and August the thermometer has been known not to fall lower than 100 degrees, night or day, and often to run as high as 125 degrees.

The greatest first-class watch ever made is owned by a Brazilian Princess. It was first placed in an exquisite gold case, covered with the most minute and literally perfect Watsons' enamel; then, at the Princess' desire, the works were removed and placed inside a splendid diamond set with two-fifths of an inch in diameter.

Until very recently the school children of Berlin have been conducted to and from their schools in special omnibuses, but their manners and morals should suffer if they rode in the public coaches. They have been instructed in so many facts and theories concerning themselves that the special omnibus service has now been discontinued.

A bridge across the Little Belt connecting the island of Puffin with the continental part of Denmark is proposed in a bill before the Danish Legislature. The span to be bridged is 4,500 feet long; the plan is to support it on groups of iron columns 1,000 feet apart, so that the roadway shall be 120 feet above high water level. The cost is estimated at $2,200,000.

In the year 1860 the Emperor Paul of Russia, a little before his assassination, published a manifesto in which he deliberately invited the sovereigns of Europe to meet at Petersburg and settle their international differences in personal council. Pitt, Bismarck and Talleyrand were suggested as referees. The invitation was quite politely meant, but, of course, no notice was taken of it.

The number of periodicals dealing exclusively or largely with electricity amounts to sixty-six. Of these, sixteen are published in France, fourteen in the United States, twelve in Germany, six in England, three in Switzerland, two in Austria, Belgium, Holland, Italy and Spain, and one in Canada, Japan and Russia. The oldest electrical paper now in existence is the Annuaire Telegraphique, published since 1855 in Paris, France.

Yao and Mangonjak.

Both are interesting types of African primitive races. The Yao, mostly men of splendid physique, are a strong and war-like race, in past times a standing terror to their weaker neighbors. Their original home was in the mountains east of Lake Nyasa, whence, in 1861, they poured down like locusts and "ate up" the country now known as the Shire Highlands. They now dwell peacefully side by side with the Mangonjak, though looking down on the latter in something of the spirit with which Rob Roy regarded the Glasgow burghesses. "We do not know Mangonjak," said a boy at the Hagarre Mission to me one day, when I had been questioning him about some words in that language, "we are Yao!"

A good many years ago the first manager of the African Lakes Company was giving a magic lantern address to a mixed audience of both races, and took occasion, while explaining a picture of angels, to dilate on the prospect of heaven. The Yao part of the audience listened to the description, and then inquired whether there would be any Mangonjak there too. "Certainly," was the reply, "if they love God and obey His laws." "Then," said these ardent converts with one voice, "we do not wish to go there!"

Some Curious Rings.

Denon, the French savant, wore a ring set with a tooth of Voltaire.

A tooth of Sir Isaac Newton was sold to a merchant in 1816 for a large sum. He had it placed in a ring, and wore it constantly on his finger.

In the collection of Viscount Downe, Bunting, is a ring given to one of his ancestors by Richard Coeur-de-Lion. It is a silver ring set with what is supposed to be the palatal tooth of a fish.

An Englishman owns a gold ring set with a miniature painting by Corraay, of the eye of George, Prince of Wales.

Where Cuban Arise Are Made.

A young woman in Washington recently received a real Cuban necklace from a newspaper man who had just returned from Havana. The kalle was twenty inches long, with a heavy blade patterned blood-red to within a half-inch of the cutting edge. On the back of the handle was a small and inconspicuous label, which read: "Made in Hartford, Conn."
