Mrs. I. K. Kollam and sons Charles and Fred spent Christmas in Laanna Pike Co. the guests of Mrs. and Mr. O. H. Wolfe.

The Xmas tree at Ledgerdale was very well attended. The children did very well with their speaking. Old St. Nick was there, much to the surprise of some of the little ones.

The Sunday School will be kept open during the winter.

The whooping cough is all around us. But none right in the place.

Grip is here. Among those who have had it, are Mrs. P. H. Becker, Philip Bazar, Chas. Kollam, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Frisbie, and daughter. All are getting a long nicey but Mrs. Becker and Mrs. Frisbie.

LAYTON.

The beautiful twins! Yes they are again reunited, and it is quite touching to see what a wealth of affection they lavish on each other. They walk around, each with a hand in the other's pocket, and Oh! but if they weren't married to some one else, they surely would be each other.

At the entertainment in the chapel on Xmas eve the house was crowded and the Christmas tree was a crowning and successful feature of the evenings enjoyment. The children acquitted themselves with credit and those having charge are to be congratulated on the success of their efforts.

The farm of Mrs. M. B. Van Ethen situated on Big Flat Brook midway between Layton and Baitles Center is reported as having been bought the coming year to Edward Snook, of Walpole.

One of our would be prominent citizens who abuses his neighbor when he is drunk, intoxicated, should remember what chief justice Mugis said in his charge to the jury in the Aloni case last October.

"That a man who, by the use of intoxicants, voluntarily detaches his reason, cannot plead his condition as in mitigation of crime but it is to be taken as an aggravation of the offense." This is sound logic and good law. Under this construction apologies for abuse are not in order. It is better to not get dr-intoxicated.

Elias H. Smith an aged citizen of Bovina is in feeble health and his death from general debility is not unexpected.

H. E. Montross our genial landlord gave some of his patrons a bang up turkey dinner on New Years day and it was a day to appreciate it as we believe they all did. The participants were a jolly number.

Ex-Postmaster L. T. Smith is reported as having secured the names of several of the former patrons of his office for whom he proposes to sort and distribute mail from the old boxes as he has here to fore done while P. M.

Rev. W. H. Burley will hold revival services in the Centerville church commencing with the New Year. Now all who have made new resolutions to be awfully good can try the good dominie's method and quit herding with the goats.

When they first began building McAdam roads in Essex and Hudson Counties the opposing farmers even went so far as to legally join them from proceeding with the work. Two years later these and other farmers were petitioning for McAdam roads. They had driven them and realized their advantages and though they were generally much more expensive than this Co. anticipates building yet the farmers were willing to bear their proportion of the expense to get them, and are satisfied.

Turkey dinners come but once a year usually and being enjoyable affairs in both a gastronomic and social sense we cannot omit mentioning them. In either sense the one of Dec. 30 at R. H. Everetts was especially interesting. The happy participants were our wide awake merchant Lester Smith and wife Mrs. E. Smith, Ex-Freighter E. Kintner and wife, and Mrs. John J. Van Sickle. The guests fully enjoyed Mr. Everetts generous hospitality.

Dr. M. D. Hughes and his estimable wife arrived home from their winter vacation one evening last week. They no doubt highly enjoyed the two weeks passed among a civilized people.

There is no passing need to bond the County to build McAdam roads as many good people seem to fear. Many a town has bonded to aid corporate enterprises from which they received little benefit as compared to what the corporations fished from them, yet no how went up. In this case the farmers do but pay their fair proportion of taxes for McAdam roads and they are the ones most benefited. If the people are willing to bond for these roads simply as a business proposition, and in their own interest why should any one have a conniption fit.

The turkey dinner in the Methodist church in Montague was a very successful affair, as we learn that despite H. L.'s and the Press Editors big appetites, they took in $101 and banked $50, as net proceeds. Now if they will put a set of chimes in that happy dream on top we will extend our ears as far as possible in that direction every Sunday to hear their sweet music.

The post office at Layton was moved from the store of Smith and Dusenberry to the store of W. F. Beckenkamp, on Friday Dec. 21. Dr. J. M. Duff, Dr. J. M. P. M. and his successor W. C. L. are officiating. The job was done with neatness and dispatch, and they left the new office running without friction.

The hunting season is now closed. There are plenty of rabbits left. Squirrels seem to be scarce, and quail as well as partridge were pretty well thinned out.

All the schools in the valley began work again on Tuesday morning. The children came back to their labors refreshed by the holiday vacation and now settle down for a long pull to April 1st the next vacation.

The new year started in with the wind blowing from the north, and the thermometer hovering around zero. A first rate day to enjoy the easy chair by the fire.

Clint Rosekranz while brushing up his magazine sheath the other day was rather surprised when it suddenly fell open and showed through the ceiling and lodged in the under cover of the family Bible that lay on the stand in the room above. Fortunately none of the family were in range, and it is safe to say that Clint will hereafter remove the charges before cleaning his gun.

E. M. Ryman our village blacksmith who did not receive sufficient encouragement to enable him to support his family here finished moving his family and goods this week to Columbia Warren Co. N. J.

The Bell Home and in Branchville has been secured for a limited time from J. C. Powell and school was opened there Tuesday morning. The work of the new school house will be pushed with vigor.

A FINE PIECE OF COLORED WORK.
An experienced art critic gives it as his opinion that there will be no handsomer piece of color work issued this year than Hood's Sarapavilla Calendar for 1908. It is not only useful, but artistic and beautiful, and up to date. The charming "American Girl" whose beautiful face appears with a delicately painted background, makes a pleasing feature which anyone who is pleased to have before him the whole of 1908. We suppose druggists will have this Calendar, or a copy may be obtained by sending 6 cents to C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell Mass.

Those unclean rascals who stole $2.25 a new pair of pants and some underwear from a family that had just sheltered them from a snow storm of blows heretofore. To return with the same to their health.

Rumor has it that Frank McCarty has purchased the hotel belonging to the Millville woman's property.

Arthur Myers and wife spent a couple of days last week near Pike fishing for pickerel. Not having the right kind of bait they failed miserably.

Any one wishing to enjoy music should call on Miss Kate Myers at the Brickhouse and hear the new arrangement. Runolph and Henry are said to hold a patent on it.
