WHO OF US WILL ATTEND THE GRAND EXPOSITION OF 1900?

America as well as every other great nation in the world is longing for May, 1900. France of course, is considerably more worked up over the event than any other country ever was before as it is going to be by far the grandest of all exhibitions. Only a few months more and the exposition will be a reality.

The people in authority, have something of the highest importance to occupy their minds in bringing about the completion of this gigantic enterprise. The magnificent works of arts, science, industry, invention, religion, scholarship and commerce will be prominent thoughts of great minds.

Through at present all that confronts a visitor is immense unfinished structures, with colossal masonry half completed, the ensemble begins to look like completion.

America, Russia and even France herself have any conception of the magnitude of this great World's Fair, nor have they yet grasped the full significance of the intended plans. The completion of this grand affair will not be like the temporary White City of Chicago of 1893-4. It will be a part of the greater Paris of the coming century. Hundreds and hundreds of buildings are being torn down and city limits extended to make room for the magnificent marble palaces.

The occurrence of an exposition such as 1900 now promises will necessarily add greatly to the population of the city many thousands of people, who will henceforth make their homes in that country.

The southern bank of the Selige River will be used expressly for the foreign exhibitors, including merchants, the soldiers, the naval officers and the scientists of visiting countries. This is a vast deal more land than was at first anticipated the foreign countries would ask for. Here will include America's mighty exhibitors of commerce, military and naval arts. There will indeed be sights of the grandest magnificence ever before exhibited by nations.

Who will attend the grand exposition of 1900? Well, it is probable that a number of Milford people who have the required amount of "tin," will enjoy the beauties of a Parisian exposition, but, there are some of us who, if we succeed in getting across the water even, it will be in a row-boat or by swimming.

Let every Republican prove his interest at the coming primary by going out and voting. If you want good, capable men in office to administer public offices, do not trust your neighbors to select them for you. Go out and exercise the right of choice yourself. Don't hang back, and then say you're not responsible if the choice does not suit you, or is not a good one for the interests of the county.

The side path law is being rapidly put into effect all over the State, thanks to the efforts of the L. A. W. About half of the country counties have already appointed commissioners to look after these paths by which it will soon be possible for wheelmen to have ridable paths all over the State.

The venerable John I. Blair, is seriously ill at his home in Blairtown, N. J. and it is not possible, owing to his advanced age, that he can much longer survive. He was born on the Jersey shore above Easton, August 22d 1802, and from a small beginning as a county merchant, his fortune, accumulated through railroad ventures, has grown to the colossal amount of fifty million of dollars. His contributions to Blair Hall will be a monument to his name more enduring than brass, or a towering granite shaft.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

Under this head we will insert communications on current and political topics without being responsible for the sentiments or opinions expressed, and we will not be held responsible for discussions as may be proper and of general interest.

EDITOR PRESS, Dear Sir:
 Why is it that the Republicans who manage the party machinery are so secret in their methods? Why can we not have the same publicity given to our county committee meetings that the Democrats give to theirs? As an instance of what I mean on Feb 14th the Republican county committee met and transacted business of much interest to the candidates and voters and yet it was nearly a month before the public knew anything about what they did. Was it desirable to keep it dark? As a rule it is conceded by most men indolent and not in good taste for a person to remain a member of a county committee even if elected to it after he becomes a candidate for office. Now, if it is proper for one candidate to participate in the deliberations of that committee it is fair for all. Certainly it is that the gentlemen who went in there on Feb 14th on a proxy did not do so for the purpose of helping his opponents but simply to further his own interest. I think it is high time all such methods were stopped. The members of that committee are or should be perfectly competent to get along without outside influences and every candidate in the field should be given the same consideration.

ONE INTERESTED.
 Dingmans Ferry, July 5, 1899.
 TO THE VOTERS OF PIKE CO.:
 Much as I dislike newspaper notoriety I feel that honest and worthy men should have no dread in seeing their names in print.

I have work at home which requires my whole attention and do not feel willing to spend all my time in the endeavor of going from house to house to refute the stories of a lying slanderer who has nothing to do or does nothing, at all events, but prowl around through the county like a ravenous wolf seeking whose character he may blacken and destroy, hence this open letter.

Three years ago to my regret and now to my sorrow, I gave my cordial support to James M. Bensley, who promised me that if he was elected Commissioner he would not ask for the office again. The Republicans know how well he is keeping his promise. Like a Judas he visited me and told me he was for me and that he did not think of running again. When he subsequently found that I had discovered his treachery he used the cunningness of which he boasts, by going through the county and telling the voters that I had come out—but simply as his tool. I do not blame voters for saying if this is true they cannot support a man who is running to aid Bensley's canvass.

I want voters to distinctly understand that I am not in favor of Bensley, and did I think my candidacy would in any wise aid him to secure the nomination I would withdraw.

I am making my canvass in the interest of myself and pledge that if elected I will honestly and faithfully endeavor to do my whole duty to the taxpayers.

Every man, woman and child knows that the road is Bensley's home, that when he is not hanging around Milford drawing pay from the county he is working the county from Lehman to Green in his own political interests. My farm needs my attention and must have it, but I cannot allow the opportunity to pass to say in this public manner that he is trying to deceive the people. I am willing to take even chances with him as to comparison of records, and let the voters pass judgment. I have never held county office and have tried to be an honest man, and the cordial reception given me so far by industrious and worthy voters whom I have met as a stranger, has born out the old maxim that honesty is the best policy. To quote a favorite saying of Lincoln's:

You can fool some people all the time, some, some of the time, but, no one can fool all the people all the time, and Mr. Bensley may find out this truth in the near future.
 Yours Respectfully,
 JESSE B. SHOEMAKER.

Republican Rules For Pike County.
 SECTION 1. The Primary Election shall be held by the Republicans of Pike county at the call of the county chairman not later than 10 days before the Republican State Convention each year, subject to the provisions of rule 9, as to 30 days notice.
 § 2. Said Primary elections shall be held in each township and borough at the places where the general elections are held.
 § 3. At least fifteen days before the said Primary Election it shall be the duty of the committee in each township or borough, to see that a convenient and suitable place is provided for the holding of said Primary Election and select proper election officers for holding the same. Should the committee in any township or borough fail or refuse to attend to his duties ten days before the said Primary Election, then, upon the written request of five republican voters it shall be the duty of the county chairman to remove the committee man failing to perform his duty and appoint a new one to fill the unexpired term.
 § 4. The following officers shall be voted for at the said Primary Election: Seven county committeemen, county officers, state and district conferees and state delegate and one township or borough committeeman for each township or borough (who shall only be voted for the election district in which he resides,) and not more than one nomination shall be made for each county office.
 § 5. The county chairman shall be elected by the county committee from among their number at their organization.
 § 6. Any Republican who shall be a candidate for any office named in article fourth must submit his name to be voted for at the said Primary Election.
 § 7. Twenty days before the said Primary Election each candidate shall notify the county chairman of his candidacy, who shall provide a sufficient number of ballots for each township and borough with all the names of the candidates and the several offices printed or written thereon. Each voter shall designate his choice of candidates by a cross X marked opposite the name of the person for whom he wishes to vote. The printing and distribution of the same to be paid by the said candidates in such ratio as the county chairman may direct. Such payment to be made at time the name shall be placed on file with the county chairman, and any candidate not making payment as above may be left off the ballots.
 § 8. The said Primary Election Board shall consist of three Republican voters, viz: one judge, one inspector and one clerk, who shall severally take and subscribe in the presence of each other the oath prescribed by the Act of the Assembly regarding the holding of the Primary Elections in the State of Pennsylvania.
 § 9. It shall be the duty of the county chairman and township committeeman to give due notice thirty days before the Primary Election to each member of the county committee and the public of the day and date of the Primary Election and they shall designate the offices for which candidates shall be voted for at said election.
 § 10. Any legal voters other than Republicans wishing to vote at Republican primaries will be granted the privilege of voting provided they swear to the Republican ticket at the next general election; any Republican not of age at the time of holding the said Primary election, but will become of age before the General Election, shall be eligible to vote at the primary election.
 § 11. The Primary Election polls shall be opened at 3 o'clock p. m. and closed at 8 p. m.
 § 12. It shall be the duty of the Primary Election Board to write down the name of each voter casting his ballot at the Primary. Said poll list to be kept by the Judge of Election in each township and borough at least one year. If at any time the county chairman or members of the county committee desire to inspect said poll list they shall have the privilege to do so, in the presence of one of the election board of said township.
 § 13. After the polls are closed and the votes have been counted the election board shall make a return, duly certified and signed by the Primary Election board, of the number of votes cast for each candidate. These returns to be enclosed in a sealed envelope and sent to the county chairman by United States mail or in person by the Judge or Inspector of Election forthwith.
 § 14. On the first Wednesday, following the said Primary Election, at 2 o'clock p. m., at the Court House in Milford, Pa., the county chairman, in the presence of at least five reputable Republicans shall organize a canvassing board of three Republicans duly sworn as provided by law, open and count the votes as recorded in the several returns, announce the results and certify the nomination to the proper officers.
 § 15. All alterations and amendments to the foregoing rules must be suggested by two thirds of the members of the county committee at a regular meeting of the same to the county chairman. Said alterations or amendments to be approved or rejected at the next Primary Election and not to be in force until so approved.
 Adopted by the convention of delegates held Oct. 19, 1897.
 Provided these rules shall not apply to officers elected at the delegate and Mass convention held in September, 1897, during their term of office.
 The above and foregoing rules were adopted at an adjourned Republican convention of delegates held at the Court House in the Borough of Milford, Oct. 19, 1897.

BILIOUSNESS

Do you get up with a headache?
 Is there a bad taste in your mouth?
 Do you have a poor appetite and a weak digestion. You are frequently dizzy, always feel dull and drowsy. You have cold hands and feet. You get but little benefit from your food. You have a tendency to work and the sharp pains of neuralgia dash through your body.
 What is the cause of all this trouble?
 Constipated bowels.

"IT JUST HAPPENED."
 The other night—or, rather, it was very early in the morning—the telephone in a certain newspaper office rang loud and long. Most of the workmen had gone home for the forty winks that newspaper people contrive to put in between times, but there was one man on the "dog watch"—that is, you know, he was the one person detailed to stay around the office and be ready for anything from a murder to a fire. At that hour of the day—about, well, somewhere around 3 o'clock a. m.—when the telephone in a newspaper office rings that is worth looking up, so the "dog watch" hastened to answer the summons.

"Hello," said a voice. "Is it too late to get something in to-morrow morning's paper?"
 "Not if it's important," was the reply.
 "Oh, it is," assuringly.
 The reporter rushed for a pad of paper and a pencil, screwed his ear up to the telephone again and said:
 "All right. Fire away there."
 Then the voice was heard again. "The engagement of Miss—to Mr. is announced."

There was an explosion of wrath at the press end of the wire and the editor of the telephone company restraining irate persons from indulging in profanity were smashed into smithereens.
 "Why under the blanket-blank-blank" (that wasn't exactly what was said, but it will do, you know) "didn't you send in such stuff earlier in the day?"
 "But I couldn't," said the voice apologetically. "You see, it just happened."

His Sure Thing.
 Three negroes not long ago made a bet among themselves that each could name a supper that would be better than the others could name. They put up one dollar each, and the one that named the dishes that would constitute the best supper was to take the three dollars. They drew straws as to which one should be the first and the last to make up the menu for the imaginary meal. The first man said he couldn't think of anything better than side dishes he would take cornbread, sautéed and black-eyed peas and wash them down with buttermilk. The other two smacked their lips.
 "Well, for me," said number two, "I'd make fried chicken, hot biscuits buttered and spread over with preserves, and den, a den-let's see—yes 'n 'stimon beer and ginger cakes."
 The mouths of the other two spilled water, and it was apparent that they were hungry. It came number three's time.
 "Why, youse niggers don't know what's good," said he. "Tell me, fools, what's better 'n possum baked sweet 'aters scrawled all 'round it, swimming in de gravy? Hey? 'N den after youse done nibble at de bones tell dey ain't no moa meat on 'em, der set de watermelon staring you in de face like 'Hey?'—and with that he started to pick up the money.
 "You leave dat money alone." "We weren't bettin' agin no sure thing."—Chicago Times-Herald.
