WRECKS ON THE ERIE.

Pike county seems destined to be the scene of terrible accidents along the line of the Erie. A number of years ago one occurred near Mast Hops by which several people lost their lives, and the outcome is memorable in the minds of many older residents because of the subsequent arrest and trial in our courts of James Griffin, engineer of the unfortunate train, for manslaughter. It was on this trial that Judge Woodward, of counsel for the defendant, laid down to the jury the proposition that it was the judge not only of the facts but the law as well. His words had more weight with that body than did the charge of Judge Barret, who presided, and when the jury acquitted the defendant, so incensed was the latter that after roundly scolding them he ordered the names of the twelve good men and true to be taken from the panel and never again placed in the wheel.

OBITUARY.

MARIA LOUISA PETERS.

After an illness of some weeks, resulting from paralysis, Miss Peters died at her home, and where she has always resided, at Bushkill, Monday, July 31st, aged about seventy-seven years. She was a daughter of Henry and Sarah Gunsalus Peters, her father being one of the early settlers in that locality and owning nearly all the land in that vicinity. She was never married. Her natural vivacity, bright mind, kindly wit, cordial manners and agreeable presence made her a most companionable person, and she was the life and charm of a large social circle. She was also an earnest and zealous member of the Reformed church and her presence was manifest and her means and influence always felt in matters pertaining to its welfare and the advancement of its spiritual and temporal interests. A large circle of relatives survive but of her immediate family only two brothers, Samuel G. and William N., and one sister, Mrs. Catharine M. Ellenberger remain. The funeral was held Wednesday at 3 p. m. at her late residence.

GEORGETTA HUBBARD.

Georgetta Hubbard, who was so severely burned last week, at the residence of Dr. Kenworthy, by having her clothes ignited by falling down stairs while carrying a lighted lamp, and who was taken to the P. J. hospital immediately thereafter, died of her wounds at that institution early Friday morning, July 28th, aged about 16 years. She was a daughter of George W. and Mary E. Hubbard of Dingman township, and was a young lady of pleasant appearance, agreeable manners and by her conduct and faithfulness had won a high place in the esteem, not only of the family in which she resided but also among her friends and associates. Just budding into womanhood, with all life's pleasures dawning in the vista of her pathway her fate is a sad one and the heartfelt sympathy of the community went out to her in the terrible accident which so soon terminated fatally. Besides the grief stricken parents, who are called to mourn the loss of one who had just arrived at a helpful age, she is survived by eleven brothers and sisters. The funeral conducted by Rev. Thomas Nichols took place last Saturday at the residence of her father, and her remains were deposited in the Milford cemetery.

OUR STREETS.

It is remarked that our borough streets are in better condition this year than for several past, after a shower, formerly they would remain muddy for some time after a rain now they are almost immediately in a fit condition for wheeling. Not much money was spent on them this year, but the little, was under the direction of Street Commissioner Emery, judiciously expended. The secret of a good road is in keeping it well rounded so that the water runs directly off and when this is done the road will remain dry. Our dry streets attest the judicious work they received this spring.

The town is fast filling with summer guests. Every stage brings a complement and our streets show a decided liveliness. The country round about is having its full share of patronage too, and almost every farm house is entertaining to its full capacity.

Secretary Long, and every officer on duty at the Navy Department, unite in expressing disbelief of the alleged interview with Admiral Dewey, which makes him say that our next war will be with Germany, and other things which are inconsistent with his general record for level-headedness.

OF INTEREST TO WHELMEN.

At this time of the year when city people are coming and going in all directions over the roads they are sometimes puzzled as to whether the highways are in fit condition for wheeling between points they wish to travel.

Those who have visited Milford, and in fact the State of Pennsylvania, can generally rest assured that the roads are in good shape for cycling, but when a trip through Orange, Sullivan or Ulster counties is contemplated it is invariably a question hard to answer whether a question might go a few miles without receiving a puncture or breakdown.

There are scarcely any good roads in Sullivan county and very few in Orange and Ulster due to the recent hard rains and especially the storm of Saturday night last which washed everything clear, some places carrying away bridges and doing great damage to the road beds not to be repaired very soon, and when the road masters do wake up to their duties, they order the road-scraper put in operation and the dirt, stones and sod heaped in the middle of the road making it impossible to get over at all on a wheel as the cow path which at first existed is ploughed up leaving the cyclists in a sad plight.

The tow-path is yet in excellent condition and will doubtless be all the season, but if all kinds of wagons are allowed to travel on it its lasting qualities cannot exactly be determined.

Any person wishing to go a wheel to Middletown or places in that section will find a much easier ride by the tow-path to Wartburg and over the mountain to Bloomingburgh, thence to Middletown, than via Otisville, which road is being repaired with crushed stones and to ride is impossible. The former route is 10 miles longer but the distance is not to be looked at compared with the roughness of the other way.

A PERSONAL TRIBUTE.

EDITOR PRESS:— The death of John Findlay is not only a deplorable loss to the community, of a valuable and useful citizen in his public capacity, but in his more private sphere his memory will be cherished for the many benefits conferred upon his fellowmen. It is given to few men to be so universally esteemed, and so widely regretted. Kind, thoughtful, considerate and sympathetic; he was never appealed to in vain for aid or counsel.

The writer enjoyed the privilege of his friendship for upwards of 25 years, and can bear witness to many kind and neighborly services rendered by Mr. Findlay. Bringing hither my "household gods," and assuming citizenship in Milford, in 1873, it happened to me frequently, as it does to most persons newly established in a strange place, to need many little kindly offices which are necessary to a stranger by his lack of familiarity with its surroundings, and his ignorance of just where to look for the things he requires. At such times as these I found Mr. Findlay a never-failing reliance, and I can never forget how much he did for me and mine. When I looked upon his face for the last time, and met no answering smile of recognition, I realized the full extent of our bereavement.

His passing was untimely; the good-old man had not filled out his allotted span of "three score years and ten," yet his burden of grief had been heavy. He has entered upon "the peace that passeth all understanding," and having overcome "the sharpness of death," we would not call him back!

"Vox non his ghost, Oh, had him gone! He hates him That would upon the rack of this rough world Stretch him out longer." August, 4th, 1899. A. E. L.

Does Your Head Ache? Are your nerves weak? Can't you sleep well? Pain in your back? Lack energy? Appetite poor? Digestion bad? Boils or pimples? These are sure signs of poisoning. From what poisons? From poisons that are always found in constipated bowels. If the contents of the bowels are not removed from the body each day, as nature intended, these poisons accumulate in the blood, always causing suffering and frequently causing severe disease. There is a common sense cure.

AYER'S PILLS. They daily insure an easy and natural movement of the bowels. You will find that the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla with the pills will hasten recovery. It cleanses the blood from all impurities and is a great tonic to the nerves. Write the Doctor. Dr. J. C. Ayer, Lowell, Mass.
