NO. 23.

THE WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., APRIL 16, 1900.

If Charles H. Allen, the first civil governor of Porto Rico, makes as good a record on that island as has been made as Assistant Secretary of the Navy, a position he has held since it was given up by Col. Roosevelt at the opening of the war with Spain, the Porto Ricans will have cause to thank President McKinley for his appointment. The civil rule of Porto Rico will begin May 1, and the new tariff will go into effect at the same time. No arrangement has yet been made for withdrawing the few troops that are in Porto Rico, and it is thought that they will be allowed to remain for awhile, although they will have nothing to do with governing the island, after the civil government takes charge.

Secretary Root has recommended to Congress that provision be made in the Army Appropriation bill for six additional Brigadier Generals in the regular army, in order that President McKinley may reward deserving officers for meritorious service.

Senator Chandler thinks that Gov. Roosevelt is the man to be nominated for Vice President on the republican ticket. Speaking about it he said: "I am for Roosevelt, and I do not recognize his right to say that he will not accept the Vice Presidential nomination, if the National Convention should name him. Neither do I recognize the right of President McKinley or Senator Hanna to act for the party in deciding upon the Vice Presidency in advance of the Convention. The delegates will name the Vice Presidential nominee. Their judgement must determine, and any man who is named will accept. The office has never been refused, and if Gov. Roosevelt is named by the Convention, he will accept."

Senator Fairbanks knows the politics of Indiana as few men do, and how much he thinks of the alleged republican revolt in the state, which is so big in the columns of the anti-republican press and so hard to find by those on the ground, may be judged by his having said of the political outlook: "The administration stands in higher favor today than ever before, and will undoubtedly be sustained by the people, who are not prepared to check, interrupt, or reverse the present prosperous condition of affairs. It is not possible that the people will repeat the mistake of 1892. The republican party has redeemed the principal pledges made in 1896, and has brought prosperity to all classes of our people. We are quite ready to meet our opponents in the campaign."

Of the Porto Rico tariff, now a law, the alleged cause of the alleged republican revolt, Senator Fairbanks said: "It is based upon proper principles and will justify itself. My information shows that a very strong current in its favor is setting in, and as it becomes better understood the criticism will decrease."

One of the immediate effects of the Clark investigation, which caused the Senate Committee on election to unanimously report that Clark, of Montana, was not entitled to the seat in the Senate, which he spent something like a quarter of a million dollars to get, was the adoption by the House, with only fifteen adverse votes, of a resolution proposing a constitutional amendment for the election of the U. S. Senators, by direct vote of the people.

Spain's attempt to retain three islands on the outskirts of the Philippine group, was a failure. The claim was made on the ground that these islands were outside of the geographical bounds named in the Paris treaty. This government has notified Spain that its claim would not be recognized for the simple reason that the demand of this government, when the Paris treaty was being negotiated, was for the entire territory of Spain in the Philippine and Sulu archipelagos, and that demand was agreed to by the Spanish Commissioners. The statement of boundaries was made merely to set forth in definite form a description of the territory ceded by Spain. The three islands are not important, but this government is determined that no flag other than old Old Glory should fly over any of those islands.

THE BUTTER INDUSTRY.

The Philadelphia North American Monday exposed what it claims to be a conspiracy to wreck down the pure butter industry of this State. It details how it operated a store for the sale of oleomargarine for over two months, sold thousands of pounds of oleo' as pure butter at a profit of nearly 100 per cent., and that the illegal business was carried on with the full knowledge, consent and connivance of the officials of the State government.

It alleges that by paying 14 cents a pound, to a certain dealer, or one cent more than the regular price, its store secured "protection" from any interference by the Dairy and Food commissioner, whose duty it is to enforce the law, and that though it was conducting an illegal business, and was visited three times by the chief inspector for Philadelphia who was frankly shown and told how oleomargarine was sold as pure butter, the business was not molested.

It alleges that there were 500 oleo. margerine "speck cases" or stores and peddlers, in the city which sell the stuff without license, besides the 130 licensed wholesale and retail dealers. That over half a million pounds are sold every month as pure butter at a profit of nearly 100 per cent. This sale of a fraudulent article entails a loss of four million dollars annually to the farmers of the State, by crowding the genuine butter product out of the market.

The exposure is circumstantial in details and arrays a series of alleged facts, which bear every appearance of truth, and unless disproved by the authorities are very damaging to the Pure Food Commissioner, and should tumble him and his aids out of office.

Mrs. J. A. Levey Show.

The entertainment given Monday evening in aid of the Presbyterian organ fund was well attended and a deserved success. The young ladies exerted themselves to produce a pleasing program and were well rewarded. The opening piano duet by the Misses Beck was well rendered and the fan drill by twelve little maids was finely executed. Little Marie Chol as a soloist acquitted herself with much credit and sang well. Miss Mable Taylor, of Port Jervis, displayed a mastery of the instrument in a piano solo and Miss Carrie Van Wormer afforded her audience rare pleasure in the song "Spring is Coming" which elicited a hearty encore to which she responded.

The Wax works were fine and Mrs. Jarleye "sister," who was in charge, made the descriptions quite amusing. The net proceeds of the show and sale of cream and cake were about $60.

Kilgour's Possible Luck.

The Pissaco News says Justice Wheeler of the U. S. Court has decided four of the contentions, in the suit brought by J. F. Kilgour against the National Bank of Port Jervis, in favor of the plaintiff which will make Kilgour richer by about $50,000. One more appeal can be taken to a court of three U. S. Judges. The Judge holds that plaintiff is to be credited in the accounting with $20,000 on account of the Parkers Glen property, with interest from Dec. 14, '94. He also holds that Kilgour's equity in the Passico property is worth several thousands and that the Shobola Glen property is worth $30,000 more than was credited, and that the income was considerably more than was allowed in the Masters account, from which Kilgour appealed.

HYMNENAL.

REED-KENWORTHY.

A notable wedding occurred at the Church of the Good Shepherd Tuesday evening when Corinne Howard, a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. H. B. Reed, was joined in marriage with Dr. William Bartle Kenworthy. The church decoration of flowers was beautiful and the edifice was comfortably filled with a fashionably attired and expectant audience. At the appointed time the bride, handsomely gowned in white satin with flowing veil, entered leaning on the arm of her father. They were preceded by the Misses Pamela Reed and Ruth Howard, of Brooklyn, as bridesmaids and Miss Louise Day as maid of honor. The groom, entered from the chancel, accompanied by his best man Raymond Weaver, of New York, and met the party at the rail when the expressive ceremony which bound the pair for better or worse was performed by Rev. Spring, of Port Jervis, presided at the organ and Master Johnson, of Philadelphia, sang the wedding march. REPEAL THE WAR TAX.

March 10, 1900, the U. S. Treasury had on hand as shown by the official statement a net cash balance of over three hundred million dollars. The government receipts, in excess of all expenses for eight months prior to April 1st were over sixty two and one-half million dollars, or an average of nearly eight million dollars per month. At this rate money is being taken out of circulation and concentrated in the vaults of the U. S. Treasury in the enormous sums of ninety-six millions dollars per year, and for what purpose or usage? This concentration of the circulating medium cannot fail to result, very materially, detrimental to business at large.

In his letter to congress, Jan. 10, 1900, the Secretary of the Treasury said: "The revenues are now exceeding disbursements from month to month, and seem likely to do so for an indefinite time. This condition would be a menace to the business world if assurances were not given that this surplus would be diverted from the treasury vaults to public depositories where, while secure to the government it would remain available to business use."

The existence of over three hundred million dollars in cash means that the government has not only the required gold reserve, as per the law just passed but also one hundred and fifty million of dollars over and above all expenses, and still the government is collecting taxes on checks, deeds, mortgages, medicines, perfumes, bills of lading, telegrams, money orders, etc., levying upon the people an unjust, harassing, oppressive tax. What possible excuse can there now be for Congress refusing to repeal this unjust stamp tax upon business documents, medicines, toilet articles, etc? Think about it! Since July 1, 1899, there has gone into the public treasury an average daily surplus of two hundred and seventy thousand dollars, and it is increasing from day to day, and now that the government does not need the money, why continue it and tax the people.
