Col. Moose Wetmore, the St. Louis millionaire, has been chosen as one of the delegates to the Kansas City convention. Colonel Wetmore makes a specialty of denouncing wealth.

Tammany is striving hard to protect its dishonest officials. The protection of official dishonesty is a favorite Democratic practice.

Ex-Gov. James E. Campbell appeals to the Democrats to drop the issues of 1896 and turn their faces to the front. The chances are that their party will continue to face gloomward.

Times are so good that Coin Harvey has been able to purchase a farm.

If Europe should suddenly blaze with war, where would we get the ships to carry our exports?

The New Jersey Democrats wobbled fearfully in their platform utterances.

The Democratic party always was opposed to those millionaires who don't contribute to its campaign funds.

The Democratic party never had any sympathy to expend upon the brown men of the South.

The possibility of a great European war draws public attention to our almost entire dependence upon foreign shipping for our foreign carrying. Such a war would deprive us of ships and strike a frightful blow at our export trade.

Gen. Joe Wheeler is finding it hard work to serve his country and maintain his place in the Democratic party.

In publicly advocating the passage of the ship subsidy bill, Hon. Arthur Sewall, four years ago the Vice-Presidential candidate of the Democratic party, says: "Every year the American nation pays for freight on our exports and imports."

That money, if paid to American ship-owners, would annually employ more than 200,000 skilled workmen and support a million of our people.

The Democratic "Boxers" have left Washington and are preparing to take the stump.

HELP WANTED—ONE THOUSAND MEN AND WOMEN!

Wanted immediately, 1,000 helpers to rebuild the burned Centenary College Institute, at Hackettstown, N. J. The 45,847 members within Newark Conference ought easily to furnish the entire number, as classified below. But volunteers from anywhere will be welcome. There are needed:

Table with 2 columns: Description and Amount. Includes 4 persons to give $2,500 each ($10,000), 12 persons to give $1,000 each ($12,000), 20 persons to give $500 each ($10,000), 40 persons to give $250 each ($10,000), 80 persons to give $100 each ($8,000), 100 persons to give $50 each ($5,000), 100 persons to give $25 each ($2,500), 600 persons to give $10 each ($6,000), 1,000 persons to give $2 each ($2,000).

The precise amount of $72,000 will make, with that already secured, the $250,000 required, and bind the $68,000 already pledged on condition that the entire amount be raised. Count your blessings, and make your thank offering according to one of these classes. Payments are to be made in four equal semiannual installments, beginning when the entire sum is pledged. Subscriptions should be sent to the financial agent, the Rev. J. A. Cole, 13 Sidney Place, Newark, N. Y., who will gladly correspond with or call to see anyone disposed to enlist in this regiment.

OUR RETIRING PRESIDENT.

Bishop Nide retires from the presidency of the Epworth League with the confidence and love of everybody. He did four years of magnificent service. His response to calls to do service in the field was always prompt and generous. Indeed, some of us have felt that he taxed his strength unduly. His addresses and sermons have been an inspiration to the multitudes of young people who have heard him, and the influence of his wise words will linger with them always. Bishop Nide's uniform good nature and cordiality have made it a pleasure for those at headquarters to be associated with him. He will ever have our warm affections.—Epworth Herald.

CHURCH NOTES.

We were exceedingly gratified by the presence of our Presbyterian friends at the service last Sabbath evening. Whenever the other pastors in town are away, or their churches closed, their congregations will receive a most hearty welcome at our church.

The belief that business is one thing and religion quite another thing has led to the preparation of two sermons, on the following topics: "What the church owes to business men" and "What business men owe the church." The first of these will be preached on Sunday evening, June 24th, and the second on the following Sunday evening. A special invitation is extended to men.

We have been greatly pleased by the goodly number of men at our church services. The idea that religion is something for "children, women and fools," is antiquated. None but fools think that way in this enlightened age. The greatest, as well as the best, men of the day profound believers in Christianity. It is the ambition to have our church a "record breaker," in its attendance of men.

The writer anticipates a very pleasant trip to Flatbrookville, where he is engaged to address the Sunday school convention, held on Thursday June 21st. He has also been invited to address our own convention held at Lackawaxen on the 26th, but is obliged to decline, because our Quarterly Conference comes on the same date.

The presence of strangers at our church services is greatly appreciated. If any such desire a call from the pastor, and will make the fact known, he will be glad to visit them. While in town we will do what we can to make the vacation of all as pleasant and profitable as possible.

The Mount Tabor camp meeting will begin August 8th, with a grand temperance rally, followed by the meeting of the Missionary societies, and the Epworth League. From the 13th to the 19th evangelistic services will be held. As soon as the program is completed, it will appear in this column.

A FLYING MACHINE.

Hiram Maxim as Much Interested in This as in the Gun.

"One of the strange, indirect results of the Boer war may be the perfecting of a practical flying machine," said a gentleman who has a fondness for mechanical problems. "The man who has come nearest doing it is Mr. Hiram S. Maxim, the inventor of the Maxim automatic gun. Eight or nine years ago he began an elaborate series of experiments on his fine private estate near Kensington, England. Roughly described, his machine was an enormous kite supplied with a propeller run by a steam engine, the theory being that it would be sustained in flight by atmospheric pressure. Its construction was a two-mile railroad track, along which the 'aeroplane,' as he called it, was to run, getting up enough velocity to enable it to leap into space, and then he built several full-sized models.

"Mr. Maxim is an accomplished mechanical engineer, and he went about the work in a thorough scientific fashion, feeling his way and correcting defects as he went along. Of course, such experiments were frightfully expensive, and, at the end of three years, when he seemed to be just on the verge of success, he was obliged to stop for lack of funds. His was, for all that, a sensible man to try to capitalize a flying machine company, so he quietly announced that he was going back to gunmaking and, when he accumulated enough money, would take a fresh start at the aeroplane.

"Since then business has been brisk with his house, and during the last six months in particular the British government, at his urgent request, has purchased his automatic gun. Meanwhile the United States has patronized him to the extent of near a quarter of a million, and he doubt his coffers are no doubt pretty nearly refilled. It would not surprise me now to hear of him resuming work at any time on his flying machine. He has said repeatedly that it was one of his great dreams of his life."—N. O. Times-Democrat.

The Bellboy's Prospective Revenge.

"Some day when I have accumulated a stake," said one of the bright bellboys at the Blossom House the other day. "I'm going to have some fun."

"What are you going to do?" a bystander asked. "I am simply going to some big hotel in Chicago or St. Louis and live for a day." I don't know, but there's the remark soak in.

"And that's your idea of a good time, is it?" queried the curious listener. "Hold on, I'm not through yet. I am going to the hotel with three big grips, and I am going to make the bellboy carry all of them up to the room for me. I don't want to carry the smallest one. Then as soon as I am in my room I am going to have some ice water. I will not ring for ice water, but for a bellboy, and after he has climbed to the fifth floor—bellboys are not permitted to use the elevators, you know, and I shall not take a room lower than the fifth floor—when he has climbed up there I shall tell him I want some ice water. 'I will drink all the ice water I can and pour the rest in the cuspidor. Then I will ring for more ice water. Then I will order a cocktail served in my room.' I don't know, but there must be variety in my scheme. Then I will decide to take a Turkish bath and will call a boy to take my grip down to the bathroom. When I return I will ring for more ice water. 'I will insist on having the same bellboy serve me all the time, and I will keep him chasing around until he will curse me at every step. Then when I am ready to leave, and he is happy to think he shall never see my cursed face again, I will give him a dollar. You know I couldn't think of putting a tip on all that trouble without rewarding him, because I have been through the mill myself. What I have just described happens to a bellboy every day of his life—all except getting the dollar when it is over."—Kansas City Times.

The Confidence of Youth.

"And now that you are through college, what are you going to do?" asked a friend of a youthful graduate. "I shall study medicine," was the grave reply of the ambitious young man.

"But isn't that profession already overcrowded?" asked the friend. "Possibly it is," remarked the knowing youth, "but I propose to study medicine just the same, and those who are already in the profession will have to take their chances."—Chicago News.

HAIR

So many persons have hair that is stubborn and dull. It won't grow.

HELP

What's the reason? Hair needs help just as anything else does at times. The roots require feeding. When hair stops growing it loses its luster. It looks dead.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

acts almost instantly on such hair. It awakens new life in the hair bulbs. The effect is astonishing. Your hair grows, becomes thicker, and all dandruff is removed. And the original color of early life is restored to faded or gray hair. This is always the case.

$1.00 a bottle. All druggists.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor, and am really astonished at the good it has done in keeping my hair from coming out. It is the best tonic I have tried, and I cannot commend it to my friends."

MATTIE HOLY, Burlington, N. C. Sept. 24, 1898.

If you do not obtain all the benefits you expect from the use of the Hair Vigor, write the Doctor a short note. DR. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Mass.
