A Night of Terror.
"Awful anxiety was left for the widow of the brave General Barnham, of Machias, Me., when doctors said she would die from pneumonia before morning," writes Mrs. S. H. Lincoln, who attended her that fearful night, but she begged for Dr. King's New Discovery, which had more than once saved her life, and cured her of consumption. After taking, she slept all night. Further use entirely cured her." This marvelous medicine is guaranteed to cure all Throat, Chest, and Lung Diseases. Trial bottles free at all drug stores.

The emergency bags sent by a church society to Kansas soldiers in the Philippines contained among the necessities a box of DeWitt's witch hazel salve, the well known cure for piles, injuries and skin diseases. The ladies took care to obtain the original DeWitt's witch hazel salve knowing all the counterfeits are worthless.

You can spell it cough, cough, cough, kaff, kaff, kough or kaugh, but the only harmless thing that cures it is one minute cough cure.

To prevent consumption quickly cure throat and lung troubles with one minute cough cure.

Stevenson delivered just such sentiments in 1864 as are contained in the old letter on the 1st page. All he need do now is to insert the name of McKinley and the word Imperialism in place of Lincoln and Slavery and also his campaign speech.

SANDYSTON.

Ashend Dupue, of Knoxville, Tenn., made me a pleasant call on Saturday, and from appearance I should judge that the climate of that state agrees with him. He will visit relatives and friends for a few days before returning to his Tennessee home.

George Owen, of this town, has accepted a position with a New York Insurance Co., and will take up his work on Monday, and will be located in Newark. George is a hustler and will make it go if any one can.

Teacher's Examination for Certificates will be held at Newton on Friday and Saturday Oct. 5 & 6 trouble begins at 9 a. m.

Harry Bessley had a sow that gave birth to a litter of plus one day last week and among them was one having five legs and six perfectly formed feet, but it died soon after birth.

There is a good deal of rifle shooting in this vicinity, and several reports hearing bullets whistle unpleasantly near them, and one of these days some body will get hit. Although the rifles are only of 22 cal, yet one of them may do a deal of damage especially if the pellet strikes a vital part.

Politics for a Presidential year is very quiet so far, and the coal strike is attracting more attention than the candidates from the reason probably that most of us have not bought our winter supply of coal, and that strikes our pockets. There is time enough to get pretty hot before Nov. 6.

According to the Almanac the sun has crossed the "line" and we should look for the equinoctial rain due at this time. It is the driest time known here, and although winter is some time away, it would be terrible should it set in without the usual fall rains.

The school law provides for a trustee officer whose duties are to look after the children not attending school. One was appointed in this town and now that the schools are in operation this officer should look around a little.

On Wednesday last the little daughter of Ellis Carluff was taken to a hospital in New York for treatment. The first of her complaint was an abscess in the leg below the knee and now the holes made by the abscess refuse to heal. She is bright and intelligent far beyond her years and all hope she will return fully cured.

The fall seeding is being vigorously pushed, and farmers would have been farther along with that work if it had not been so dry. Less grain will be sown than in former years on that account.

On Friday I was shown a branch of a cherry tree as fully covered with blossom as it was in May, and among the blossom were small fruit. The tree stands on the premises of Wesley Dupue.

The laws of 1900 page 297 chap 108 says "It shall be unlawful for any person or persons within this state to hunt, kill, or destroy or attempt to hunt, kill or destroy any partridge, grouse, pheasant, quail, woodcock, rabbit or hare while the ground is so covered with snow, or while the ground is so covered with snow that such bird or animal may be tracked etc., etc." The law prohibits the killing of game until Nov. 1st, and as snow is liable to fall at any time after that date, it is making hard lines for lovers of the sport. Why not prohibit hunting entirely for it is next thing to that now. If the report of guns are any criterion the gray squirrels are having a lively time, law or no law.

If an accident happens upon a Sunday excursion and somebody gets hurt some of our people ascribe it to Divine providence for violating the Sabbath. I would ask these wretched good people why it is that in almost every case of bank looting that the looter is prominent in church circles. The looter of a Newark bank a few years ago was locked up for the act and the first to get up a petition for his release from prison were the good ladies of his church, and I believe they succeeded.

The tax rate of this town I am told will be at the rate of $12 on a thousand, and tax time is one of the fixed events of this life.

New Jersey has the game laws down to a fine point and any finer would prohibit hunting entirely. The laws of 1900 says no quail, partridge, woodcock, pheasant or rabbit can be killed when there is enough snow on the ground so that the game can be tracked, under penalty of $20. Fine for each bird or animal found in your possession. Well now that is great. What will the small boy do now, for he cannot track rabbits and the setting of device for trapping is forbidden and the Legislature should go one step farther and prohibit hunting altogether. The above is a good reason for biennial sessions of our Solons and if they cannot grind out better laws, once in four years would be better. But like the Pike Co., fish warden they want to do something to earn their pay.

The farmers of this section are busily engaged in harvesting their fall crops. Corn and potatoes threaten but light returns owing to the prolonged drought. The high winds of the past week have done considerable damage to their fruits and crops left standing in the fields.

Our Mountain School House a short time ago was robbed of its books and all portable property. Some of the books were found in the woods. A couple of children were suspected of committing the theft, and arraigned before squire Killam. They were released pending further investigation.

Abram Maske, of Shiny Mountain, lost a pocket book containing a sum of money and some valuable papers. A young man of this section is accused of having found the book and of refusing to return it. He is to explain to the Squire this week.

It is said that the Squire finds that his business necessitates the building of a local court house, of which the foundation walls have already been laid.

Get fat; get nice and plump; there is safety in plumpness.

But weather is tricky; look out! Look out for colds especially.

ty which Mr. Bryan approved. We are responsible to the nation of the earth and to the Judge of all, the earth for their care. We accept the responsibility in the fear of God and the love of humanity. I may not live to see it, my boy, but if you live twenty years you will see the most marvelous development in the world's history in the Philippines. Good roads, good schools, and development of agriculture, manufactures and mining, the introduction of American push and energy among the people, railroads, and a hundred other means of transformation. You will see twenty millions of contented and prosperous people who will rejoice in their liberty and their privileges and be proud of their relations to the greatest of all nations, the United States of America. And then, my boy, every Democrat in America will swear that he always was in favor of that thing and that he was never an expansionist of the first water.

YOUR FATHER.

Democrats Organize.

A meeting to organize a Democratic club was held in the Grand Jury room Tuesday evening. Orator, philosopher, salt mine owner, Democratic leader and expounder, and late occupant of a pulpitman train for another country, Dory, was present and delivered an address. He said because he was after Brine he was a Democrat, could not be anything else. No matter what he had ever been he was always a Democrat, and that reminded him of a story. Once a man had a steer and a calf and the calf chased the steer around the green spot and the man chased the calf and they all went round and round and that was like a Democratic campaign. Four years ago the man chased himself and that was 10 to 1 now he chased a steer, imperialism, and a calf, anti-expansion, hence the party was growing in numbers and principles. At this matelious humor and forcible argument there was such uproarious applause and laughter that most of those present lost the rest of their buttons and the meeting adjourned.
