J. H. VAN ETLEN, PUBLISHER. Milford, Pike County, Pa.

Boss Croker appointed a committee to suppress vice in New York, gave orders that it should be done and then sailed away to take the baths. People are not impressed with his sincerity and think it is simply a bluff in the hope to regain standing with the better class of citizens. He evidently sees trouble ahead and thinks a show of reform, headed by himself as a reformer, may avert disaster to his political fortunes.

Farm and Garden.

A late government bulletin informs us that there are 250 varieties of mosquitoes.

Iowa has 724 cows to the thousand of population, leading all the states in this particular.

It is all right to study the weather signs, but don't pin your faith to moon signs. The old moon is dead—very dead.

Aunt Dinah used to make a fine johnny cake by guess, but it is rare that any one is smart enough to make good butter by guess.

Most of the foreign and fancy brands of cheese are now produced in this country by the Swiss and German dairymen of Wisconsin.

A Missouri farmer writing to a prominent horticultural paper says that apple scions stuck into a potato and planted will grow into trees.

The one colony of New South Wales, in Australia, has lost 32, 144,000 sheep during the past six years owing to the drouth which ruined sheep pasture.

If you make your hired man milk six cows morning and night besides doing a ten hour day's work in the field, don't kick if he takes three spoonfuls of sugar in his coffee.

When you come across one of these Belgian hare fellows, you can not help calling to mind Colonel Sellers. They are almost as smooth talkers as the lightning rod fellows.

We lately saw a fine blue grass pasture rooked over by the acre by a drove of hogs in search of the earthworms which the rains of the fall had brought to the surface of the ground.

Nearly every homestead, whether in town or country, has odd corners where a grapevine or a fruit tree might be planted and be an ornament to the place as well as a source of profit. Look up these corners.

The value of the strawberries raised in this country is placed at $80,000,000 annually and of grapes at $100,000,000. As many as 210,000,000 barrels of apples have been produced in one year, while the value of the peach crop can hardly be estimated. This is a great fruit country.

A friend wants to know if he can safely transplant forest trees in the fall season. Yes, this fall he can, for the earth is well saturated with moisture and the trees so transplanted will probably live and do well. With the earth as dry in the fall as it has been for several seasons past it would be folly to try it.

Four hundred and three well finished beehives were lately shipped from an interior point in Kansas to Glasgow. The cattle were landed on the other side in good order and sold at $8.50 per hundred weight live weight. It cost $25 per head to ship them which brought the net price down to a lower figure than they would have brought at home.

A complaint is made that the apples on the Northwestern Greening trees grow so large that the stems will not support the fruit till it gets ripe. Don't worry. Nearly all bearing trees of this variety are very young, and it is always the habit of apples trees bearing young to produce large sized fruit. As the tree gets older and the crop heavier the fruit will be smaller and trouble referred to will disappear.

No product of the soil is more affected by the quality of the soil in which it is produced than the potato. The very best potatoes we ever ate were grown upon a piece of newly broken up hazel brush land of quite sandy make up. They were not so very large, but simply perfect in quality. The same potato if grown upon a piece of heavily fertilized muck land, would have been unfit to eat. A clover sod in lieu of a hazel brush tract will nearly always produce a good quality of potatoes, provided the soil is not a black muck. Excellent potatoes are raised in almost pure sand when following clover. J. S. TRIGG.

CHURCH NOTES.

Next Tuesday night revival services will begin at our church. The subjects for the week are as follows: Tuesday evening, What is a revival? Wednesday, Do we want a revival? Thursday, Can we have a revival? Friday, Are we ready for a revival? Think about the matter of religion, think honestly, think devoutly, and settle your relation to God in a way that will help you live right and die right.

The Thanksgiving service will be held in our church next Thursday at 10.30. No service of all the year strikes a more responsive chord in the human heart. Family reunions and varied gifts, characterize the day. The union Thanksgiving offering will go to the Bible society. In few years can we better show our Thanksgiving spirit than by giving the word of God, to those who need it.

The special services at Union have measured up to our expectation in interest and in character. We believe that the work begun last year was but the seed sowing and that the harvest is yet to be ripened and gathered. That genuine christian character is being formed there is no doubt. May the good work go on till a large class of devoted followers of our Lord shall be formed, to live and to teach the salvation of our God.

In harmony with the recommendations of our general conference we observe next Sabbath as temperance day. The time is well chosen. The political situation is settled for the present. Let the political consideration of the question be set aside for a little, while we calmly consider the ravages of the liquor traffic.

The Rev. G. H. Winans will be with us next Sunday and will help in the revival meetings that follow. We are glad to have with us so experienced a servant of the Lord.

Spread Like Wild Fire.

When things are "the best" they become "the best selling." Abraham Har a leading druggist, of Belleville, O., writes: "Electric Bitters are the best selling bitters I have handled in 20 years. You know why? Most diseases begin in disorders of the stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, blood and nerves. Electric Bitters tones up the stomach, regulates liver, kidneys and bowels, purifies the blood, strengthens the nerves, hence cures multitudes of maladies. It builds up the entire system. Puts new life and vigor into any weak, sickly, run-down man or woman. Price 50 cents. Sold by all druggists.

Thanksgiving Day Excursion.

On Thursday November 29, 1900, "Thanksgiving Day" the Erie will sell special excursion tickets from Port Jervis to New York and return at the popular rate of $1.00 for the round trip. Tickets will be good going on the Orange Co. Express, leaving Port Jervis at 6.29 a. m. and will be good returning on any train leaving New York November 29th, except trains No. 45 and 7." 233
