Boys, like boys and some men, will forget and neglect their work but not their grub.

One of the quickest and neatest jobs ever done in this section was when Laf. W. Jagger called his house a story. Everything is ready and to the benefit of Laf. and the joy of the contractor the roof was quickly raised.

We wish Pierre Nills success in his new venture in a Milford hotel and expect soon to see an "ad" in the Press headed Hotel Nills.

People who have over-ventilated bedrooms will soon find the value of paper to keep out the cold and keep in the heat. A substantial sheet of paper between the mattresses will keep cold from striking up to the body and one between the blankets will keep it from penetrating down.

The fence club is not very happy over the fact that not sufficient rain has yet come to fill up the springs and streams.

Ireing and Ralph Angle have begun their fur route. The crop we fear will be short for hunters are taking advantage of the great demand for help at lumbering and are at work.

A steam grist mill in connection with a steam saw mill if properly conducted might pay here. Water is scarce to grind with at the mill, so we have to purchase inferior feed from the West, when our home grown grain should supply the market.

Dr. P. F. Fulmer is taking a vacation and will spend a month in the city this winter. Gilbert Hester is caretaker at the hotel.

The saw mill of Wolf Bros. at Donaldsons makes boards very rapidly.

The doctor is kept pretty busy now.

Traveling along the river road one day recently I met a number of my boyhood friends and was surprised to note what old looking faces they wore. When I reached home I hurried to a glass and looked at a calendar and saw I too was in the class.

George Wilson is improving in health and occasionally walks out.

Levi Howell's tannery and glove making business is in full operation. He makes a first class old fashioned fur glove.

A. D. Brown, on account of ill health, has rented his blacksmith shop to Frank Gunn.

A considerable sum yet remains to be raised to pay the salary of the M. E. minister to April 1st. Who will help reduce the amount?

Many can hardly realize how quickly Christmas came this year. The dry summer and fall, lack of cold weather together with sickness has rendered the flight of time unnoticed.

It is reported that a Club is negotiating for the purchase of a few tracts of land around Smith's meadows and that a club house will be built there next summer.

Preparations are being made to get Mink's saw mill in running order.

This county in spite of native indolence is fast fulfilling its destiny to become a general summer retreat for city people. Those who will properly arrange for them, give them good cooking and considerate attention need not go West or become mentalists to city masters and mistresses and live in closely crowded tenant houses. Money can easily be made here keeping boarders if intelligent care is exercised.

Laf Quick has shown what can be done in this direction. He did not re-shingle his roof but put a whole new top on his house to better accommodate his rapidly increasing business. His example might well be followed by many in this county.

A party from Port Jervis in company with "Zack" Vandermark and Ed. Darragh fished at Mink's pond last week and brought away 94 large pickers.

A law suit between the Minks occupied the attention of Squire Frazer last Saturday.

FROM SUNDAY OBSERVER.

The Sunday School of the M. E. church gave an entertainment Monday evening in the church for the benefit of the pastor.

Charles Simpson, who has spent the summer with William Benson, is passing the holidays with friends in Scranton.

Katie Titman, after residing with Mrs. Dingman during the summer is now home for the winter attending school.

The Sandyston correspondent expressed surprise that we did not mention the Farmers' Institute which was held Dec. 22d. Perhaps he thinks the hay seeds are all dead, but he is mistaken for they are alive, even if many have cold feet. I was not surprised to see the Jersey blues, "punkin" raisers and sand burrs there and was glad they came out to hear the speakers. They had a free bridge across the Delaware coming and going, because of the ice, and we all hope they enjoyed the meeting and that they will come again.

Miss Dollie Martin went to Branchville this week to spend a few days with friends and relatives.

Hoping all Press readers may have a happy New Year and enjoy their Tom and Jerry. Good-bye until the next century. S. O.

A guess social was held last evening at the home of Mrs. S. A. Johnson.

SANDYSTON.

On Saturday last I wended my way to Dingmans to attend the Farmers' Institute to be held there. Mr. Swartz, of Monroe county, was the only speaker, but he gave a splendid talk on "Fertility of Soils" and how to get it there. But I was surprised at the attendance, only 5 Pike Co. people, and 7 from Jersey. If the speaker had announced that he could tell them how to increase the growth of the timber, every son of a gun from the Milford Turnpike, to Pocomo would have been on hand fertilizing of the soil, that is another thing. I hope they will do better next year or the State Agricultural Society may drop Pike from its list.

Charles Bunsley, of Berans, is very sick at this writing. He been seriously ill for some time.

I have heard nothing lately in regard to the leasing of the creamery at Berans. While the farmers are anxiously waiting to hear what will be done, the officials in charge might advertise and see what printers ink can do.

The Christmas Eve doings in the Layton, M. E. church took place on solitude time, and it brought out quite a crowd to witness the exercises. The children done nicely and everybody came home pleased with the evenings entertainment.

The recent cold snap has given the boys some very fine skating, but though it is rainy and the indications are that the skating is doomed.

Miss Sadie Hurst, of Newark, came up on Sunday and spent Sunday and Monday with relatives returning to Newark on Tuesday.

Trolley roads are becoming numerous in Morris, Somerset and Essex counties, this state, and I only hope they will extend their lines up this way, that we may go somewhere when we want to. The long expected road up the Delaware—well—I am afraid I shall have answered the last roll-call before that comes this way.

So the Erie will give a New Years dollar excursion from Port Jervis so that we rusties can get a peep of the city when in holiday attire. That will do for those living near Port, but to ride from here to catch that 6:29 train, and to get back home at about the same time next morning is a little too much of a good thing.

Judging by what the Press said in its last issue in regard to trespassing by hunters, I judge that the Pennsylvania game laws do not protect the owners of lands from the raids made on their lands by hunters. We are a little better off, in that respect, in Jersey, yet nearly all who have their lands posted will allow others to hunt over them provided permission is asked.

The holidays will see but little going on in this valley, beyond the grand shoot held by landlord Montross at Layton on the 28.

In the last issue of the Sussex Register, I notice that parties are about to gain possession of Culver's Lake. The people of this section have from time immemorial fished in this pond at their pleasure and now if those parties get possession they may be deprived of that pleasure.

The shoot at Hainesville on Friday was a grand success, but the marksmanship was not of a very high order. However the sharp-shooting at night, was strictly first-class.

The spectacle of an intoxicated man, with his wife pleading with him to go home, was witnessed on our streets on Saturday night. No better temperance sermon could have been preached than to see the fond wife's piteous pleading, but the demon rum was too strong and the little children were awaiting the return of their parents.

The sale of the Francis Layton farm on the 20th was postponed as the bid 27 dollars per acre was not considered the highest point that could be reached. Many doubt that a second sale will reach the 27 dollar mark again. Its situation and good buildings will be important factors in the sale of this farm.

World's Champion.

"I tried many remedies to cure piles," writes W. R. Smith, of La-ham, Ill., "but found no relief till I used Buckle's Arnica Salve. I have not been troubled with piles since." It's the only champion pile cure on earth and the best salve in the world. 25c per box, guaranteed by all druggists.

See the new flower pots and jardiniere at W. & G. Mitchell's.

Now is the time when croup and lung troubles prove rapidly fatal. The only harmless remedy that produces immediate results is one minute cough cure. It is very pleasant to take and can be relied upon to quickly cure coughs, colds and all lung diseases. It will prevent consumption.
