SANDYSTON.

Some kind friend sent me a copy of the Christmas edition of the Sandyston Register and in my opinion it is the finest paper of the kind ever printed out in Sussex, and the compliments that offer need not be assumed of the job.

The first snow of the winter came on Friday last, but as only an inch or two fell, it did not amount to much. The law says no hunting when snow covers the ground, but several hunters forgot that point, and as no game was shot the law was not broken, in their estimation.

The Mite party at Mrs. Nellie Beas on Thursday evening brought out a large attendance, and, judging by the time some of the young folks reached home they must have had a good time.

S. O. is of the opinion that I am thinking that Pike Co. layseeds are dead, have cold feet, etc. etc. No sir see I am thinking no such thing, but was led to infer such was the fact from their non appearance at the Institute. As to being "Punkin" raisers that is an honest occupation, and when we have a good crop we are right in it. Then you say we had a free bridge going and coming. Now, don't quarrel for we paid our toll in good coin of the realm, and had enough left to "liquidate" in good Pike Co. style. S. O. stands for sour, small or scrub oak I don't know which, and when I come over next time let us liquidate together. Enjoy the meeting. Of course we did, or we would have walked out before the speaker was half done, as some of the Pike Co. people did.

The game season has ended, and the quail and rabbit can have a rest except from their natural enemies. Trapping will continue and many rabbits will be caught, the plea being made that the trap was set for skunks.

Sheep damage is pretty costly business in Pike, judging by the statement to your last issue. Over here dogs only kill or damage the choicest animals in the flock (never a poor one), but I see by the appraisalment that the dogs took the good and poor alike. Poor dogs. But the fees, almost 34% of the appraisalment. That is entirely too much. Who pays that?

The grand shoot at Layton on Friday afternoon brought out quite a number to try their skill at breaking the blue rocks. Few straight scores were made and when the wind up came Virgil McMans had 5 turkeys, and the best score of any of the shooters. Some were lucky in getting ones turkey. Everything passed off to the satisfaction of all.

Volunteers will now understand where the regular officers get their brutality, if they will carefully read the evidence in the Booz investigation now going on at West Point. It seems almost incredible that the cadets at that institution would stoop so low as to punish their comrades so that their life is endangered. If hazing cannot be abolished, abolish the institution.

Charles Bensley, who has been very sick for some time, is reported much better, and hopes are had that he will be able to go out in a few days.

Our schools will reopen on Jan. 2, and it is hoped that both teacher and pupil have been benefitted by the vacation.

I notice that our road machine is resting among the weeds near the entrance to the Dingman bridge, when in fact it is the duty of our town officials to see that it is properly housed.

If reports are true, there will be more movings this spring than usual. I will wait awhile and then give them definitely.

Will Johnson and party visited the Mink pond, back of Dingmans one day last week, and returned home with nearly 100 pounds of pickerel to his share. Every fisherman is crazy to go and see if they can duplicate Mr. Johnson's luck.

Holiday time has brought a good many to their homes for that vacation, and among them I notice Miss Maud Warner from her school at Clifton, N. J.; Blaise Cole from Princeton College; Frank Clark from Albany, N. Y.; Everett and Eugene Hersh from Blair Hall and others whose names I cannot recall.

The Misses Estella and Emma Hersh were home at Pine Hill farm enjoying the holiday vacation, as was also B. D. Hersh. The former are taking a course in short hand at the Newton Business college, while Ben has charge of the Steamship and Buskirk Telephone Co's system with office at Stroudsburg, Pa.

DINGMAN'S FERRY.

Sandyston brought us to task for not saying something about our Farmers' Institute. Those hayseed who have brains, and of course common sense, no matter as to age, know that something can be learned every day and need not be crowded to an institute, they attend on all! Another class, past masters in trailing jack knives, raffling off turkeys and chickens, and those who are professors in prophesying all kinds of misfortunes to those who do not agree with them, have no use for institutes. Might as well preach in a desert as to them. Only one speaker attended the recent session, the former ones having been slimly attended probably the others were discouraged. Hon. R. F. Schwarz was an excellent selection for this section for he explained how to provide humus in the soil. Crimison clover has been a failure with us but he explained why and gave us some valuable hints in dealing with it. The use of lime was also made clear and it may be more injurious than beneficial if not properly managed. It is more costly than Carolina rock and potash which do the same work on soils and leave some fertilizing properties for the crops, which lime does not.

We wish there were no cases of sickness to report here but there are several on the list.

Calvin Cron and wife, of Flatbrook, visited here a few days ago.

Mrs. S. E. Ford, a daughter of G. W. Donaldson, is passing the holidays at Ardortown.

A fine quality of white pine lumber is being manufactured on Donaldson's lands.

Cast off politicians have no joys for the new year. They have run their race, and their noses have been forced out of the public crib but the government jobs along all the same without them.

Another green Christmas.

The club room at Milford is an excellent thing and if properly managed according to the rules will be a success. We recall that several efforts have been made before in the same direction but failed, probably by reason of a laxity of the rules. Every community should have some institution of this kind for the benefit of the young men and we hope to see our place blessed with a similar one. Fathers and mothers might then feel assured that their boys could have good surroundings when out spending an evening.

A lady here complained that she did not receive any Christmas presents from any of her friends was consoled with a calendar from a Port Jervis drug store.

Many think the wholesale lumbering now going on here will be an injury to the township. Well when it is all gone there will be no more timber stealing.

Wm Mink at the lawsuit before Esquire Frazier last week waived a hearing and gave bail in $300 for his appearance at court, and the elder Mink was held in the same amount for costs of prosecution.

Charles Hoffman and Wm. Richards who were arrested for hunting on Sunday were discharged because of a defect in the complaint. The county will pay the costs.

MATAMORAS.

John Corwin is attending the Emma Business college. He is a graduate of the high school here.

Carroll J. Kelly, of Honesdale, is visiting his aunt, Dr. W. B. Kelly.

The L. S. S. of Epworth church met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. E. Shay. The meeting was followed by a fifteen cent tea.

Watch meetings were held in both Epworth and Hope churches Monday night and were largely attended.

George Hankins, of Beavans, N. J., recently spent several days with Milton Shay.

Sunday afternoon, at Epworth church, at the close of Sunday school services, Rev. T. W. Spencer was presented by his Bible class with a beautiful chair and rug. He made a very cordial return of thanks for the gift.

The High School resumed Wednesday after the vacation.

Mrs. George Myers and family, of Jersey city, are visiting her parents T. J. Ketchum and wife.

George Beach, of Brooklyn, after a visit with his uncle, J. O. Ryder, has returned home.

Miss Florence Eidenthal entertained a few friends last Thursday evening.

Mrs. Catherine Price and grand daughter, Grace Horner, spent New Year at Fiehl/Lan-the-Hudson.

Mrs. Mary Ryder is visiting her son, John, in Milford.

C. D. Keres, of Inman, Nebraska, who has been visiting his parents here for some weeks, returned home Saturday. It was his first visit in sixteen years and he noted many changes in the town. He is a successful rancher in his Western home.

Miss Anna Koerner, of New York who spent Christmas here with her mother, returned home Wednesday.

Master Joe Virgil, a student in a Catholic school at Forestburg, N. Y., is here visiting relatives and friends. He is a ward of Father Trias.

Mrs. John Simpson has gone to Newark on a visit with her parents.

The L. C. U. of Hope church held a meeting at the parsonage last Thursday afternoon to elect officers. They are President, Mrs. Martin Fisher; 1st Vice President, Mrs. J. Wood; Secretary, Mrs. H. G. Lilly; Assistant Secretary, Mrs. L. Briard; Treasurer, Mrs. Thos. E. Fletcher.

THE GUESS SOCIAL.

The Guess Social held at the home of Mrs. S. A. Johnson, on Main St., Thursday evening, was a very pleasing affair, with a good audience, and was much enjoyed by all.

First a conundrum contest—time limit, one minute for guessing—made a great deal of amusement. There were several pantomime plays produced on a large sheet between the two factors. Also proverbs in pantomime to be guessed by the audience.

Take it all in all, it was the pleasantest social held this season. The society tendered thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Johnson for their hospitality.

CHRISTMAS AT ST. JOSEPH'S CHURCH.

A very pleasing entertainment took place at St. Joseph's church Thursday evening. Santa Claus was there in all his glory, and loaded down with beautiful presents for the pupils of the Sunday school. A large tree was decorated very prettily. The church decorations were elaborate, and reflect great credit upon the persons who had it in charge. The piano solo by Miss Sadie Wohlsehweit was much enjoyed. The singing by the school was of a very superior order. Our boy orator master Jerome Guerin, made a great hit. He is a decided favorite with his Matamoras friends.

John Englehart personated Santa Claus, and did his part to perfection. The children enjoyed Santa Claus' appearance.

The entertainment was a fine one indeed. All took their parts well. At the close of the entertainment ice cream was served, also cake and coffee. Friends from Port Jervis and other places were in attendance. Everything passed off nicely.

EDGEMERE.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Robinson Shephard on Dec. 15 a daughter.

School opened to day after a week of vacation.

Miss Edith Nyes, of Bushkill, Pa., has been the guest of her cousin, Mrs. Arthur Adams the past week.

Miss Carrie Darragh, Miss Blinda Van Gordon and George Darragh, of Dingmans Ferry, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Nills over Christmas.

Rupert Nills, a student of Pierce Business College is spending the holidays at his home.

A party of seven from Philadelphia are spending the holiday week at the club house.

The Christmas entertainment passed off very pleasantly and every child was made glad with many beautiful presents.

The many friends of Robinson Shephard and family were sorry to learn of their heavy loss by fire on the morning of Dec. 26, when both their barns were burned to the ground and their entire stock perished in the flames. Four horses, five cows and 29 head besides wagons and farming implements.

When the stomach is tired out it ought have a rest, but we can't live without food. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure "digests what you eat" so that you can eat all the good food you want while it is restoring the digestive organs to health. It is the only preparation that digests all kinds of food.
