THOROUGHLY CLEANSED.

The Bluff House has undergone a thorough fumigation and disinfection. Every room and every part has been carefully gone over with sulphur and formaldehyde. All the cracks around the windows and doors were filled with cotton and the rooms, beds and bedding were subjected to sulphur fumes sufficient to kill any germs of disease which might exist.

as cause for the extremely warm weather this summer. One is, that the earth is gradually drawing nearer the sun; and the other, that there are rifts in the mists which envelop the sun like a cloud and shut off its intense heat, and its rays now beat down without that obstruction.

English seems to be becoming the real universal language. At the congress on tuberculosis held in London it was noted that nearly all the foreign delegates spoke in English and most of them with so little accent as to surprise their hearers.

A general strike of the amalgamated workers has been ordered by President Saffor tomorrow. Probably one hundred and twenty-five thousand men may go out and if so it will be a bitter struggle between labor and the capitalists.

The democrats in this county last Saturday set the seal of their disapproval on second terms for associate judges. How far this precedent may be extended, or arise to trouble them in the future, time will develop.

It looks as though the democratic voters have concluded that Dingman township has had her quota of office holders pretty well filled and that other sections are now entitled to an inning.

THE CHURCH COLUMN.

(By Rev. C. E. Scudder.) Preaching next Sabbath morning by the Rev. W. B. Neff. We will look for a large congregation to greet our former pastor.

In the evening the topic will be "Samuel." To remain true and unchanged in the midst of universal change is a true mark of sainthood, provided that the old be divine and the new human.

It gives us great pleasure to welcome to our community Rev. J. W. Ryder who had part in the service last Sabbath morning and who has consented to preach to us some time during the month.

The Rev. J. A. Cole who preached for us last summer, is expected in Milford soon. We are expecting to take our vacation this year at Milford, also, and enjoy it listening to friends who are so willing to give their services while enjoying the blessings of this "summer Paradise."

The topic for the outdoor meeting at Union next Sabbath afternoon is "Elijah on Mount Carmel."

The anthem for next Sabbath evening is "I Have Set Watchmen Upon Thy Walls," and is in harmony with the life of Samuel, who was, indeed, a watchman in Israel.

The camp meeting at Mount Tabor will begin August 14th. It has been the pleasure of the writer to attend these meetings in the years that have gone, but this year it has seemed best to decline any part in them and devote all his time to the work at home.

Plans are being made for our annual Sabbath school picnic. Announcements as to time and place will be made next Sabbath. Let all the children interested in the picnic come to Sabbath school next Sabbath and hear the welcome news.

Coughing. "I was given up to die with quick consumption. I then began to use Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I improved at once, and am now in perfect health." - Chas. E. Hartman, Gibbstown, N. Y.

It's too risky, playing with your cough. The first thing you know it will be down deep in your lungs and the play will be over. Begin early with Ayer's Cherry Pectoral and stop the cough.

LOSING FLESH. In summer can be prevented by taking Scott's Emulsion. It is as beneficial in summer as in winter. If you are weak or run down, it will build you up.

LETTER FROM BLACK FOREST

ANTOGAST, July 28, 1901.

DEAR EDITOR AND FRIEND: When occasionally in America I have found that the people there are so deeply in love with their dear country that mention or description of wonderful sights in Asia or in the islands of the Aegean Sea did not appeal to their tastes; yet today I am venturing to give you only a few facts that may interest many that in my youth listened to my voice in your charming hillside village.

Let us compare certain things in your country with this summer retreat which I have adopted in the "Black Forest" in the "Grand Duchy of Baden."

Your game laws are strict as the prohibition principles of your government which forbid a traveler to enter any of your ports with an extra pair of stockings not "made in America."

You allow a poor hunter during only a few weeks in the year to wander through your forests with the hope of meeting with some horned animals at which he may take aim; also, often before he has been able to level his gun at living venison your law says: "Put away that weapon, the time is up!" Now what have you for that restriction?

When strangers are at your board you dare not serve them delicious game they can rarely eat at home. Here while you are sweltering we reside in a cool forest and every week in July and August our table is served with venison under the name of rosbuck. These animals abound in the woods near us, and as only the younger deer are shot and served in summer, the meat is tender and delicious. We have as accompaniment raspberries, millions ripening on the hills where exposed to the sun.

When an object is easy to obtain one is apt soon to weary of it; here trout are almost too abundant. I can eat a day catch eighty to ninety one-half pound trout in an hour in the brook near our dwelling. When caught each trout is placed in spring water in a long flat barrel which is hung from the shoulder by a leather strap.

No one thinks of ruining those delicious fish by relegating them to the frying-pan. No! they are quickly boiled in water with a dash of vinegar. What a delightful repast the "Brother of Milford Lodge" (to whom I send greetings) might make in this mountain home!

These forest covered hills are terraced from base to knob in every direction and one walks always in the deep black shade. The air one breathes is pure yet richly fragrant with odorous flowers, tannin trees, and beautified by hundreds of digitalis blossoms.

A way from our house in quiet nooks like bogs near the upper heights we find one of nature's greatest floral curiosities, a plant interesting and wonderful—drosera rotundifolia, the round-leaved sundew plant, also known in Germany as the flesh eating plant.

It is found on moors and in forests; from its mossy base it sends up tendrils at the extremity of each by a small round leaf, the outer edge of which is draped with bright crimson hair-like fringe, forming a trap. Whenever an insect or fly enters out of curiosity it instantaneously closes its fibres and the venturesome insect is imprisoned. Other tendrils ascend in curved lines bearing a delicate white blossom.

The plant Oxynas muscipula found in India is of the same family. This plant might honorably warn visitors—"On entering here abandon hope." My hope is that in the autumn you may for a moment again take by the hand

Your old friend, MAXWELL SOMMERVILLE.

Miss May Souza and brother Joseph are guests at the Armstrong home on High street.
