GOOD ROADS.

The subject seems hackneyed and trite but there is nothing like keeping everlastingly at it so long as great improvement can be made with comparatively little outlay.

That good roads increase the value of farms by making them more accessible and by enabling their products to be transported with greater facility and less cost needs no demonstration.

That the same amount of money now expended for construction and maintenance would if properly, judiciously and economically employed greatly improve the roads cannot be questioned.

The wonder is that citizens realizing these truths are indifferent, or at least possibly submit to the continuance of methods which do not relieve the situation.

Incompetent supervisors, men who have no interest in roads or who are not concerned as to their condition or who may be influenced by even less commendable motives, are too often elected.

Why do not citizens take a personal interest in what directly concerns their comfort and prosperity and select men for the position who are careful and earnest in the effort to improve the roads?

If this course was pursued, a few seasons would demonstrate its wisdom and economy.

A few days' work in the fall might be productive of great benefit and saving and a little money judiciously expended now would prove a fourfold inheritance next spring.

A coal yard at Bushkill will be of immense advantage to people down the valley.

In fact they do not know through their local papers that there is a single yard in Port Jervis and can only ascertain by paying tolls to see.

The same remark will largely apply to other merchants in that thriving town which has long enjoyed a profitable trade from this valley.

They may find their doctrine of strictly patronizing home industry applied by others in this section as soon as the opportunity is afforded.

A TIMELY LESSON.

The large verdict rendered by citizens of Monroe county recently against its commissioners evidences an impartial judgment of a case in which they were directly interested.

It is also a warning to those having the care of our roads, bridges and sidewalks in charge to see that they are in proper and reasonably safe condition.

The public pays tax and places it in the hands of the officials to see that it is carefully expended and that the avenues of travel are fairly safe.

This verdict shows that neglect of this right may be met with heavy damages. There are places in this borough where if an accident should occur it would unquestionably be liable to recoup in money to the sufferer.

Ordinary care is all that is enjoined on a traveler and his path must be made ordinarily safe. He has the right to assume that it is so and is under no obligation to exercise extraordinary caution unless he is aware of the danger.

The law imposes a duty on public officials and in the instance above cited it has exacted the penalty for neglect. The citizens of Monroe county may well be congratulated over the fact that there are men within its borders who at personal sacrifice will hold the county through its officials to a strict accountability for the condition of its highways.

THE TRESPASS LAW.

The act of July 9, 1901, makes it unlawful for any person to hunt on cultivated lands which are posted and in addition to the damages which may be recovered a penalty not exceeding five dollars for every offense may be imposed and on refusal to pay imprisonment may follow.

This is the first real indication the legislature has shown to protect farmers and owners of lands from predatory hunters who have generally no regard for fences or crops and who will tear down a rod of good stone wall for a rabbit.

There is no hardship in the act. Farmers deserve protection, to the extent at least of enjoying their lands free from the annoyance and loss occasioned by careless or indifferent sportsmen.

It is an easy matter to ask for permission to hunt on cultivated lands and there is no reason why consent should not be sought before so doing.

OUR COUNTY CANDIDATES.

The republicans of this county offer two most worthy candidates for county offices at the coming election—John W. Kilsby for sheriff and Alfred Marvin, Esq., for associate judge.

Mr. Kilsby is a careful, methodical man with an excellent education and is fully qualified for the office. He has been a resident of the county and a taxpayer for forty years and having retired from active business could give personal attention to the duties of the office.

Mr. Marvin is a rising young attorney of good judgment and by means of his legal education doubly fitted for the duties of a judicial position. Both these men would adorn the offices for which they are candidates and voters irrespective of party will make no mistake or have cause to regret casting a ballot for them.

Ada Bone and Mark Edgar spent Sunday with M. N. B. Killam and family.

Mrs. B. F. Killam returned to her home on Saturday after an absence of several weeks.

A. K. Killam and son Fred and Henri Vetterlein returned last week from a week's visit at the Pan-American.

Dr. and Mrs. Edson Green of Greengrass are the guests of B. F. Killam and family. Mrs. Green has been for several weeks confined to the house with a severe attack of muscular rheumatism and her many friends are pleased to see her among them again.

Mrs. A. K. Killam and daughter, Ruth, are spending a few weeks with relatives in New York. They will also attend the exposition at Buffalo while absent.

E. L. Guest is adding a second story and porch to his home in Tafton. It will greatly improve the place which will now be one of the nicest appearing homes in the county.

We see, too, that Tony Van Aukken has built an addition on his homestead and improved the entire building with a new coat of paint.

S. R. Hazleton with his new drill is engaged in drilling a well for W. H. Clark.

The Ladies' Aid of Hemlock Hollow met with Mrs. Wilmer Clark on Wednesday.

A new store has been opened by Mr. Wilson of Philadelphia who is to make Paupack his place of residence for the future.

Backache should never be neglected. It means kidney disorder which, if allowed to run too long, may result in Bright's disease, diabetes or other serious and often fatal complaints. Foley's Kidney Cure makes the kidneys well. Sold at Armstrong's drug store.

Stroudsburg is to have a new industry, a manufactory of hoisting machinery, stationary engines and general foundry work.

A report from Supt. J. C. Gluck, Reform School, Pottsville, W. Va., Oct. 18th, 1901. "After trying all other advertised cough medicines we have decided to use Foley's Honey and Tar exclusively in the West Virginia Reform School. I find it the most effective, and absolutely harmless." Sold at Armstrong's drug store.

Foley's Honey and Tar cures colds, prevents pneumonia.

THE CHURCH COLUMN.

(By Rev. C. E. Scudder.)

The topic for next Sabbath morning is, "Conscience and Conduct," and for the evening, "Temptation."

At our official meeting held last Wednesday night it was decided to hold a week of evangelistic services at Union, to begin one week from next Sabbath and to continue each night until Friday night.

On Sunday the 27th, it will be full moon, and that will give us a week of light evenings. We trust that the interest manifested at our Sabbath afternoon meetings may be increased and that a large number may find their way to the source of all blessing and experience personal pardon and peace.

Following the meetings at Union there will be evangelistic services at the home church. For two weeks let every effort be made to bring the attention of the whole community to the need of a holier life.

Grace is boundless, and salvation is free to all who in genuine faith and true repentance call upon the name of the Lord and seek His favor.

We are living in an age in which all Protestant churches believe in revivals notwithstanding the fact that many so called revivals are counterfeit. All believe in genuine conversion and in any movement that promotes it.

When we call the attention of the people of Milford to a revival we do not ask for a superficial excitement that shall vanish like the dew before the sun, nor do we ask for any set way of finding the peace and pardon promised in the Holy Bible, but we do ask that a deeper, more prayerful interest be taken in holy living for the Christian, and complete salvation for the unsaved.

This will constitute a genuine revival. A goodly number of the old people were present last Sabbath morning to enjoy the services given in their behalf.

We trust that many services of the kind may find them all present. We are reminded, however, that a goodly number to whom invitations were sent last year are now in the land from which no traveler returneth. We are reminded also that many others are growing old. Life is short, "The Kings business requireth haste."

"Work while the day lasts for the night cometh in which no man can work."

The storm made the Sabbath unpleasant for both old and young, yet a goodly number were present at both services. The young people did very well in rendering the music of the program and some of the speaking was very good.

We always think with gratitude of those faithful teachers and workers who are not in evidence at the children's services but who, in unseen places, have been working to make these services profitable.

J. Odgers of Frostburg, Md., writes: "I had a very bad attack of kidney complaint and tried Foley's Kidney Cure which gave me immediate relief, and I was perfectly cured after taking two bottles." Be sure you take Foley's. Sold at Armstrong's drug store.

Mrs. T. Bridleman of Parshallville, Mich., was troubled with salt rheum for thirteen years and had tried a number of doctors without relief. After two applications of Banner Salve, her hands became better and in a short time she was entirely cured. Beware of substitutes. Sold at Armstrong's drug store.

The tobacco dealers in Milford have agreed to sell no more cigarettes, but it is in Milford, Delaware.

S. A. Ingalls, Crown Point, N. Y., writes: "My wife suffered from kidney trouble for years. She was induced to try Foley's Kidney Cure and in less than a week after she began using it she was greatly improved and three bottles cured her." Sold at Armstrong's drug store.

Morris county, New Jersey, court has made a rule that any person expectorating on the court room floor will be assisted outside by a constable and a repetition of the offense will subject the offender to a fine.

OBITUARY.

REV. THOMAS NICHOLS.

Although not wholly unexpected, the sad tidings of the death of Mr. Nichols, which occurred at the home of his son in Germantown at 6.30 o'clock Wednesday morning, Oct. 16, came as a shock to this community, in which he was so greatly beloved both as a pastor and a man.

He was born in Yonkers, N. Y., Feb. 5, 1838, and in early manhood determined on a business career, but convictions changed his purpose and after graduating at Princeton college in 1866, he entered Union theological seminary in 1869 and graduated at Andover in 1871.

He was called to the Presbyterian church at Chester, N. Y., ordained and installed there March 11, 1863, and remained until 1871. He then became pastor of the Reformed church at Queens, Long Island, which he retained until 1876, and then went to the First Presbyterian church of New Brunswick, N. J., which people he served until 1879.

When he went to the Presbyterian church of West Pittston, Pa., and from 1880 to 1889 was its pastor. In 1890 he came to Milford and from that time until failing health impelled him to resign, which he did Sept. 10, was faithful in his ministrations to this people.

Mr. Nichols was a scholarly man, of excellent judgment, sound in reasoning, acute in debate, clear in his perceptions, and through all breathed the spirit of the Master whom he devotedly served. Wise in counsel, his advice was eagerly sought by his brethren in the ministry, especially by those in the Hudson Presbytery, and he was looked upon by them as preeminently a leader.

His sermons were logical, clear and convincing. As a magazine writer he was profound and his articles evinced mature thought and ripe scholarship. As a friend he was faithful and loving, and as a pastor he endeavored both in precept and by a conscientious example to magnify the doctrines which shone in his daily walk and conversation.

His pleasant manner, beaming face and warm greetings endeared him to all with whom he came in contact. By his people he was beloved, and by the community in general uniformly respected. A good man is taken, his life work ended; he has gone to receive that highest of commendations, "Well done, good and faithful servant."

April 29, 1863, he married Miss Anna Boyd of Washington, D. C., who survives him. He is also survived by two sons, Rev. T. MacBride Nichols, pastor of a Presbyterian church at Germantown, Pa., Bayard, of Chicago, Ill., and two daughters, Mrs. Janette Carpenter of Grand Rapids, Mich., and Susan B.; also by one sister, Miss Susan B. Nichols, of Owego, N. Y. The remains will be taken to Owego, N. Y., for interment and the funeral will be held tomorrow, Saturday, at 3 p. m.

Rev. T. MacBride Nichols of Parshallville, Mich., was troubled with salt rheum for thirteen years and had tried a number of doctors without relief.
