DELEGATES FOR WATRES. A ridiculous attempt has been made has thus far been announced, and pop-ular sentiment is rapidly making its choice as between the two. It is sim-ply stating the fact to say that the candidacy of Colonel Watres is meeting with great favor everywhere among the vast majority of Republicans who feel that his nomination this year is easewilat to the success of the party, bwing to the peculiar political condi-tions which prevail in the state. Advices from Alleghoury and other interested quarters to create the impression that Colonel Watres' home county of Lackawanna would not send a united delegation in the form of an interview with Major Warren, of Lackawanna, one of the section. Major Warren said: "Lacka-wanna county will be for Colonel WHAT MR. TORRANCE SAID. Francis F. Torrance, Esq., chairman of the Allegheny City Republican com-mittee, declared in an interview pub-lished surly this week that the feeling is strong against Mr. Elikin's nomina-tion. Speaking of Colonei Watres Mr. Torrance said: "As to Mr. Watres, I have never heard anything but good of him, and one of the strongest features in his candidacy is the fact that he was elected lieutenant governor on the Republican licket when the head of the licket was badly defeated. I am a Re-Watres without a contest. Sentiment is growing stronger every day in his favor through all northeastern Pennsylvanis, and I am convinced the same is true of his candidacy throughout "Colonel Watres stands for three things that are essential in the coming campaign. These are personal in-Republican licket when the head of the ticket was badly defeated. I am a Re-publican, always have been and hope to be always, but I am constrained to say that a state ticket promulgated by deals and agreements on the part of the administration would meet at the hands of the state at large the same treatment that the Pittsburg city lick-et did on the eighteenth. The result of the twonielical algoriton is the head the personal integrity and public probity of Colonel Watres, Major Warren made this important statement: treatment that the Pittaburg city lick-et did on the eighteenth. The result of that municipal election is the hand-writing on the wall." WALTER

Former Lieutenant Governor Walter W. Lyon, of Allegheny, is a published statement, said that honest primaries would result in the election of deleful districts all over the state. The election of those Republicans, who in gates opposed to what he termed "the Stone-Elkin syndicate." He added: "I have known Louis A Watres, of their respective districts contribute so much to the general success of the "I have known Louis A. Watres, of Scranton, intimately and politically for twenty years. He has always been a stalwart Republican and thoroughly honest in all things, public and private, As state senator and lieutenant gov-ernor he was absolutely clean. If he should be elected governor he would fill the office to the fullest measure." party means much to them and incidentally to the great Ropublican or ganization itself, which gathers its strength from such work as theirs. just as the river does from the tributaries along its course. However much we may be analous for the succease of the state ticket we must not ignore party success in the several districts throughout the common-wealth, and it is because the nomina-tion of Colonel Watres would strengthen them all along the line STREPHON.
