BEGAN WORK IN COAL BREAKER

From a Boyhood of Exacting Toil to a Position of Affluence and Honor: Twelve Years' Service at Harrisburg as Senator and Lieutenant Governor—His Success in Business, Politics and Military Life.

Harrisburg, March 17.—The plain facts in the life of Colonel Louis Arthur Watres, of Lackawanna county, Republican candidate for governor of Pennsylvania, tell of an active and successful career as a citizen as well as a warrior. It is the record of an American boy, who by sheer pluck, industry and integrity, has won his way upward and onward, from a childhood of exacting toil in the coal breaker, where he worked as a slate picker, to the honored position he now occupies as one of the foremost citizens of his native state.

COL. LOUIS A. WATRES.

After the struggle, by toiling hard and trying long and suffering many a wrench and blow he rose, at last, above the throng. And turned to look at those below. His boyhood friends and neighbors came, to see their warrior and his end. Until he heard them all exclaim: "Well, what luck the fellow's had!"

Pneumonia. A cold at this time if neglected is liable to cause pneumonia which is so often fatal, and even when the patient has recovered the lungs are weakened, making them peculiarly susceptible to the development of consumption. Foley's Honey and Tar will stop the cough, heal and strengthen the lungs and prevent pneumonia. Sold at Armstrong's drug store.

A DEER IN FOREST. McJigger—Oh! no. It isn't a one-horned town any more. This is a true one. McJigger—No. You remember their "Grand Dramatic Palace"? Well, they call it "the theatre" now. Philadelphia Press.

Raw or in Lung. Yield rapidly to the wonderful curative and healing qualities of Foley's Honey and Tar. It prevents pneumonia and consumption from a cold settled on lungs. Sold at Armstrong's drug store.

The Proper Person. "Now, sir," said the manager of the iron mill, "you understand I want a boss who is thoroughly accustomed to handling men?" "In that case," said the applicant, nervously, "I'm afraid it's not me that you want, but my wife." Judge.

His Early Home Life

In addition to the proud heritage of a patriotic ancestry, he was the grandson of Colonel Watres, who was killed at the battle of Gettysburg. His mother, the wife of a soldier, was a woman of noble character and high principles. She was a devoted mother and a true patriot. She was a woman of noble character and high principles. She was a devoted mother and a true patriot. She was a woman of noble character and high principles. She was a devoted mother and a true patriot.

His Own Punishment. "Prisoner, the witnesses say you got into a fight with the alderman from your ward, during which you bit his nose nearly off. That was disgraceful, barbarous and cruel." "It was, sir, honor. It burnt me tongue."—Chicago Tribune.

Cough Settled on Her Lung. "My daughter had a terrible cough which settled on her lungs," says N. Jackson of Janville, Ill. "We tried a great many remedies without relief until we gave her Foley's Honey and Tar which cured her." Refuse substitutes. Sold at Armstrong's drug store.

The Worm Turns. Publisher (testily)—I can't see anything in that manuscript of yours. Struggling Author (vindictively)—I presume not; but you know some of your readers may be quite intelligent. —N. Y. Weekly.

Law and Politics

Colonel Watres studied law with the late Hon. John Hanley, and in 1879 was admitted to the bar of Lackawanna and Luzerne. He was county solicitor of Lackawanna from 1881 to 1890, and in 1892 was elected as a Republican to the state senate by a majority of 1,338, in a district which usually gave a Democratic majority of over 2,000. He was re-elected in 1895 by an increased majority.

In 1890 Colonel Watres was elected lieutenant governor of Pennsylvania by a majority of 22,305 votes over his Democratic opponent, while the Republican candidate for governor was defeated in the same year by Governor Pattison, the Democratic nominee, who had a majority of 17,000. In 1891, while president of the state senate, Colonel Watres was elected chairman of the Republican state committee, and he succeeded through a most difficult campaign in harmonizing the conflicting elements and electing the Republican candidate, General H. M. Gregg as auditor general. Also Captain John W. Morrison as state treasurer. He was again offered the state chairmanship in 1895, but declined. For nine years he was a member of the executive committee of the Republican state committee.

A TESTIMONIAL OF REGARD. After twelve years at Harrisburg—eight years as state senator and four as president of the senate by virtue of his office as lieutenant governor—Colonel Watres resigned the position of a unanimous testimonial of regard in which every member of the senate, Republican and Democratic, participated. The testimonial was a beautiful silver service, with this inscription, which he values even more highly than silver or gold: "Presented to Hon. Louis Arthur Watres, Lieutenant Governor of Pennsylvania, 1891 to 1895, by the Senate of Pennsylvania and his associates, as a testimonial of their high regard for his unexcelled integrity, eminent ability and firmness in the discharge of his official duties, February 27, 1895."

This magnificent tribute to his courage and impartiality comes from all parts of the senate chamber as the spontaneous expression of men of diverse views, and a true testimony to his executive ability and judicial temperament. There were some stormy moments in the past when the lieutenant governor Watres presided over its deliberations, but no senator, however radical, could differ from his view, and he never failed to discriminate against or unfairly deal with by the presiding officer. Indeed it was the general verdict that in the president of the senate that lieutenant Governor Watres never wielded the gavel.

HET was chairman of the Republican committee of Lackawanna county and has always been actively identified with the local organization since the death of the late and devoted Republican. To his party zeal, and high-minded sense of public duty, locally as well as generally, he has added the fact that the senatorial district which he represented twice in succession, has been saved to the Republicans in more than one critical campaign even when he himself was not a candidate. At the present time Colonel Watres is president of the County Savings Bank and Trust Company, and president of the Title Guarantee and Trust Company, of Scranton, and is also connected with several large and successful enterprises.

AS A CITIZEN SOLDIER. Notwithstanding his various business activities Colonel Watres has been a zealous citizen soldier for a number of years. In 1877 he enlisted as a private in Company C, Thirteenth Regiment, National Guard of Pennsylvania. He became second lieutenant of that company, and subsequently first lieutenant. He was chosen captain of Company A, in 1889, and filled the position for seven years. He was appointed general inspector of rifle practice on Governor Beaver's staff in 1887, and in 1888 was elected adjutant of the Twelfth regiment. He was afterward elected colonel of the re-organized Twelfth regiment of militia, and in the same year occupied at present. The construction of the splendid Thirteenth Regiment, Army in Scranton, one of the largest in the state is due to his efforts and his interest in the National Guard of Pennsylvania in that of a patriotic citizen soldier. He is a lover of order and discipline. Although an exacting commander, in all that pertains to the duties and honor of the service, Colonel Watres is extremely popular with the citizen soldiers who appreciate his fine courtesy, and his thoroughness in all that relates to the welfare of the National Guard.

As an evidence of his standing with his party, in his home county, it deserves to be mentioned that in 1895 the four legislative districts of Lackawanna unanimously elected Colonel Watres for United States senator, although he had shown no desire for honors in that direction. While he is so well regarded at home, the friends of Colonel Watres are to be found in all parts of the state. His fairness as president of the senate and his consideration for all the members of that body won for him the general regard, and his many acts of kindness and unselfishly, but with a generosity that proceeds from a nature that "rings true" to the hearts of all who know him.

PERMANENT QUALITIES. Those who are best acquainted with Colonel Watres recognize and appreciate his sterling attributes. He is a staunch adherent of high principles, and the uncompromising advocate of honest primaries and honest elections. There is no account of his misdeeds, and while recognizing the right of others to differ with him, his convictions once formed remain unshaken. His equable disposition and his varied experience in business and public affairs, as well as his strong sense of duty in administrative matters, qualify him in an eminent degree for executive responsibility.

He knows the needs of the state through and through. He appreciates the importance of maintaining inviolable the solemn obligations of the office of governor, and he believes the people of Pennsylvania could rely on him for a loyal and logical devotion to the same high sense of duty by which his conduct has been actuated from boyhood, through all the busy years that have brought him so many honors and a well earned recompense in the broad field of human striving.

In his domestic circle Colonel Watres is most happily a devoted husband, and a father bright with promise make his environment that of an ideal American citizen.

It is to men like Colonel Watres who have worked and won and been true to every trust, who know the people and can sympathize with them in their struggles, who understand the responsibilities of public office and appreciate the order and righteousness in high places as well as low; who are actuated in their official and private conduct by the love of justice, and who believe that the laws should be passed and executed in accordance therewith, that self-government and self-respecting public can look confidently for their governors and representatives.

The man who has himself and many offices of trust and responsibility without having a whisper of scandal directed against him, is the man to be trusted. Such a man is Colonel Louis Arthur Watres, who, with honor untarnished by compromises with wrong of any kind, contented with his fellow Republicans as a candidate for governor of Pennsylvania. STRENGTH.

CHAINED FOR TEN YEARS

There is nothing like Asthmalene. It brings instant relief, even in the worst cases. It cures when all else fails.

The Rev. C. F. WELLS, of Villa Ridge, Ill., writes: "Your trial bottle of Asthmalene resulted in good fortune. I cannot tell you how thankful I feel for the good relief from it. I was a slave, chained with pain and asthma for ten years. I despaired of ever being cured. I saw your advertisement for the cure of the dreadful and tormenting disease, asthma, and thought you had awakened me, and resolved to give it a trial. To my astonishment, the trial proved like a charm. Send me a full-sized bottle!"

Dr. Taff Bros., Medicine Co., Harrisburg, Pa.
Gentlemen: I write this testimonial from a sense of duty, having tested the wonderful effect of your Asthmalene for the cure of asthma. My wife has been afflicted with spasmodic asthma for the past 18 years. Having exhausted my own skill as well as many others, I changed to see your sign upon your bottles on 18th street, New York. In one hour I obtained a bottle of Asthmalene. My wife commenced taking it about the first of November. A very soon noticed a radical improvement. After using one bottle her asthma has disappeared and she is entirely free from all asthma. I feel that I can consistently recommend the medicine to all who are afflicted with this distressing disease.

Yours respectfully,

Send your name and address to F. A. WERMAN, 739 Broadway, Baltimore, Md. We will send you a full history of my case, to be used at your discretion. About five years ago my right ear began to ring, and this kept on getting worse, until I lost my hearing in this ear entirely.

I underwent a treatment for catarrh, for three months, without any success, consulted a number of physicians, among others, the most eminent ear specialist of this city, who told me that only an operation could help me, and even that only temporarily, that the best sound would be lost, but the hearing is not lost forever.

I then saw your advertisement, accordingly in a New York paper, and ordered your treatment. After I had used it only a few days, my hearing was restored, and I feel free, and today after five weeks, my hearing in the diseased ear has been entirely restored. I thank you heartily and beg to remain
Very truly yours,
