SANDYSTON.

The Sunday school picnic in Victor E. Bevans' grove on Thursday was a lame affair. No speaking and very little singing so that when a shower came up everybody "scoted" for home. The attendance was large but the prominent speakers did not materialize.

Charles Benschley upon going after his cows on Thursday found one with her neck broken, probably the result of fighting.

The subject of good roads is the principal topic discussed in this locality. The probability is that the road from Calvers Gap to Tuttle's Corner will be changed thus giving us a very easy grade across the mountain. Smith's Hill, near Newton, could be easily avoided by changing the road a little and that is the heaviest grade between Newton and Layton. At Deckertown, I understand, they intend macadamizing the road leading out of that borough going directly over the biggest hill in that section when it could be avoided by skirting its base and have no grade.

Help is getting scarce on the farm each year and so machinery must be brought into use. The new machine is a corn cutter and all are anxious to see how the thing will do its work. It is the property of Charles Benschley.

The elder making time is here and J. B. Rosenkrantz's press is kept pretty busy. The lover of cider is right in it this fall.

Miss Maud Rosner of Stroudsburg is spending a fortnight visiting friends and relatives in this town.

Seth Shay, a conductor on a trolley line in Newark, is on his annual vacation among relatives in Sandyston and Montague.

Our schools reopened for the fall term Sept. 21. The teachers are as follows: Sadie Drake, Fullers; Alonzo Depue, Shaytown; Myra Drake, Hainesville; Sam Hazelton, Layton; Ella Hursh, Flatbrook Valley; Dot Shay, Tuttle's Corner; Miss Munson, Bevans. Miss Grace Rosenkrantz will teach the Mt. Benevolence school in Stillwater and Emma Hursh the Centre school in Walpaek.

It is strange that the party objecting to having the new road from Tuttle's Corner to Calvers Gap because it crosses his land and leaves him slightly off of the main road should do so, and yet this same party kept the toll gate for years and has had the working of our roads for years and both paid.

At the last meeting of our board of education it was decided to ask the voters of this town for $200 for the purpose of moving the Fisher school house to the centre of the two river school districts. The people will have a chance to vote on the question on Saturday, Sept. 6th at the Centreville school house. Polls open from 9 till 12 m.

Frank Major of Chatham, N. J., is visiting relatives in this place for a few days. Frank is looking first class and says his job at Chatham beats anything Sandyston can offer.

Ralph Van Sickle will leave in a few days to enter the normal school at Trenton and Eston Van Sickle will go to the Newton business college.

The people in the vicinity of Bevans will be glad to know that the new iron bridge across the Flatbrook near Alfred Bevans will soon be ready for travel. The loss of that bridge compelled them to drive around by Layton.

Mr. and Mrs. Becket of Newark spent the past week with E. T. Owen returning to their city home on Monday.

The pancake crop promises to be very good from present appearances, and they are just the thing on a cold morning.

"I first used Ayer's Sarsaparilla in the fall of 1848. Since then I have taken it every spring as a blood-purifying and nerve-strengthening medicine."
S. T. Jones, Wichita, Kans.
