

AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION PROPOSED TO THE CITIZENS OF THIS COMMONWEALTH FOR THEIR APPROVAL OR REJECTION BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF PENNSYLVANIA. PUBLISHED BY ORDER OF THE SECRETARY OF THE COMMONWEALTH, IN PURSUANCE OF ARTICLE XVIII OF THE CONSTITUTION.

A JOINT RESOLUTION Proposing an amendment to section ten of article one of the Constitution, so that a discharge of a jury for failure to agree or other necessary cause shall not work an acquittal.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in General Assembly met, That the following be proposed as an amendment to the Constitution, that is to say, that section ten of article one, which reads as follows: "No person shall, for any indictable offense be proceeded against criminally by information, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces, or in the militia, when in actual service, in time of war or public danger, or by leave of the court for oppression or misdemeanor in office. No person shall, for the same offense, be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb; nor shall private property be taken or applied to public use, without authority of law and without just compensation being first made or secured," be amended so as to read as follows:

No person shall, for any indictable offense, be proceeded against criminally by information, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces, or in the militia, when in actual service, in time of war or public danger, or by leave of the court for oppression or misdemeanor in office. No person shall, for the same offense, be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb; nor shall private property be taken or applied to public use, without authority of law and without just compensation being first made or secured.

AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION PROPOSED TO THE CITIZENS OF THIS COMMONWEALTH FOR THEIR APPROVAL OR REJECTION BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF PENNSYLVANIA. PUBLISHED BY ORDER OF THE SECRETARY OF THE COMMONWEALTH, IN PURSUANCE OF ARTICLE XVIII OF THE CONSTITUTION.

A JOINT RESOLUTION Proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in General Assembly met, That the following be proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in accordance with the provisions of the eighteenth article thereof:

Amendment.

Add at the end of section seven, article three, the following words: "Unless before it shall be introduced in the General Assembly, such proposed special or local law shall have been first submitted in a committee report, at a general or special election in the locality or localities to be affected by its operation, under an order of the court of common pleas of the respective county at a hearing and application granted, and shall have been approved by a majority of the voters of such county. Provided, that no such election shall be held until the decree of court authorizing the same shall have been advertised for at least thirty (30) days in the locality or localities affected, in such manner as the court may direct. ALBUM OF FRENCH PRINTS.

Now in New York Public Library Contains Portraits of Men Who Helped America.

The reception of the French delegation that came to this country for the unveiling of the Rochambeau monument adds interest to a fine album presented to the print department of the New York Public Library not long ago by William F. Havemeyer, reports the New York Sun. It consists of 188 portraits of French personages, both civil and military, who actively or sympathetically contributed to the success of the war against England for American independence. This collection was formed by a Parisian amateur interested in Americans, and demonstrated the enthusiasm which was evoked for American liberty by different classes of French society.

The prints are carefully mounted, and each one is accompanied by a biographical note in manuscript, giving the reasons for its presence in the album. Many of the portraits are contemporary engravings, some are lithographs. Special attention should be made of the allegories on the declaration of war and the defeat of the English by the portraits of Louis XVI, Suffren, Menou and Necker printed in colors; a proof before letters of Chateaubriand's portrait of Admiral Boscawen; a first state of Vangelista's "Du Coudelec," with Reims instead of Rennes, and some very rare physiognomies portraits. The table of contents shows a remarkable list of names of Frenchmen connected with our war for independence, and while, as indicated, recent occurrences call special attention to this gift, its historical and national value and interest most obviously is permanent.

COMPOSITION OF METEORS. Show to Us of What Materials the Other Worlds Are Composed.

The meteors that flash across the sky at certain yearly periods usually burn out in the upper air, but occasionally a meteoric mass lasts long enough to reach the earth. On Oct. 15, 1918, at Felix, Ala. Meteors were seen on the occasion referred to and sundry explosions were heard, while later on a mass of meteoric substances weighing seven pounds was discovered imbedded in soft soil. This meteorite was analyzed and found to be built up of such minerals as olivine, augite, feldspar, nepheline and orthoclase. The dark color of the Felix stone is stated to be due to the presence in fair amount of the last-named substance. The interest attaching to meteorites, of course, centers around the fact that they enable us to obtain glimpses of the composition of other worlds than ours. Astronomy is well agreed on the "unity" of chemical composition which marks the earth, and even the simple fact that it is hydrogen gas which blazes in the sun and gives us our light and heat is a testimony to this fact. Meteoric iron and carbon similarly display links between these erratic bodies and our own earth.

Alex Equipped. Alex didn't like lightning. Which some folks think was great; He shook his big fist at it And murmured words of hate; But Alex wasn't in it. With the fellow who will hurt Discretion to the wind and rain, Alex was in it. -Chicago Record-Herald.

A WOMAN OF EXPEDIENTS. "Madam," said the maid, "the dyer has brought your silk dress back, and says it is impossible to dye it to match your hair, as you requested."

"Well," said the lady, "ask him what he would charge to dye my hair to match the silk. The colors clash as they now are." -Louisville Courier-Journal.

Cured Hemorrhages of the Lungs. "Several years since my lungs were so badly affected that I had many hemorrhages," writes A. M. Ake of Wood, Ind. "I took treatment with several physicians without any benefit. I then started to take Foley's Honey and Tar and my lungs are now as sound as a bell. I recommend it in advanced stages of lung trouble." Sold at Armstrong's drug store.
