BE KIND YOURSELF.

Would you have the world be kind? Then be kind yourself! Hide not gifts of heart or mind. On the future's shelf— Give what you can spare, and more, From to-day's most precious store. Would you meet with truth? Then truth You must prefer first. Life hath need of grace and ruth. But, through best and truest, Truth's gift passes, clear and straight And is always worth its weight! Would you honor gain? Be swift To give honor due. The deserving to uplift, Crown the crowned anew With laurels they have won In whatever work well done. Would you be beloved? Then love! And be sure of this: Whatever life's gifts may prove, All that was, or is, or shall be, True Love's matchless love!—Madeline Bridges, in Youth's Companion.

Spent More Than $1000

W. W. Baker of Plainview, Neb., writes: 'My wife suffered from lung trouble for fifteen years. She tried a number of doctors and spent over $1000 without relief. She became very low and lost all hope. A friend recommended Foley's Honey and Tar and, thanks to this great remedy, it saved her life. She enjoys better health than she has known in ten years.' He Reasoned Wrong. 'It's all knowing how to reason,' said the Pittsburg man as he sighed in a sorrowful way. 'I owned a house and lot in a town in our state and was getting a good rent for it, when a congregation built a church right on the line. I reasoned it out that the place was spoiled, and when I was offered three-fifths of its former value I made haste to close the deal. I patted myself on the back over that bit of good luck.'

'And wasn't it good luck?' was asked. 'Not a bit of it. I'm a clean thousand dollars out of pocket for reasoning kind end to. The chap who bought my place had twin babies, a piano, a fiddle and a barking dog, and the congregation hadn't occupied that church over four Sundays when it raised a purse and bought him out for twice the value of the place.'—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

What He Did Say. Did that man to whom you were just talking any your affairs were mismanaged?' asked Mr. Meskton's wife, severely. 'Now, Henrietta, that was simply a little aside. It wasn't intended for your ears at all—'

'I insist.'

'Oh, well, if you insist, he didn't say my affairs were mismanaged. He said they were Mrs. managed—'

A Dozen Times a Night

Mr. Owen Dunn, of Benton Ferry, W. Va., writes: 'I have had kidney and bladder trouble for years, and it became so bad that I was obliged to get up at least a dozen times a night. I never received any permanent benefit from any medicine until I tried Foley's Kidney Cure. After using two bottles, I am cured.'
