THE
NEW YORK WORLD
Thrice-a-Week Edition

Read Wherever the English Language is Spoken

The Thrice-a-Week World was a brilliant success in the beginning and has been steadily growing ever since. Time is the test of all things, and has set its seal of approval on the Thrice-a-Week World, which is widely circulated in every state and territory of the Union, and wherever there are people who can read our mother tongue.

This paper for the coming winter and the year 1903, will make its news service, if possible, more extensive than ever. All events of importance, no matter where they happen, are reported accurately and promptly.

The subscriber for only one dollar a year gets three papers every week and most great dailies can furnish at five or six times the price.

The Thrice-a-Week World is absolutely fair in its political views. Partisan bias is never allowed to affect its news columns, and democratic and republican alike can obtain in its pages truthful accounts of all the great political campaigns.

In addition to all the news the Thrice-a-Week World furnishes the best serial fiction, elaborate market reports and other features of interest.

The Thrice-a-Week World's regular subscription price is only $1 per year and this pays for 126 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and the Pike County Press together one year for $2.

The regular subscription price of the two papers is $2.50.

BURNING COLORADO FORESTS.
Wires in Unquestioned Regions Supposed to Have Caused by Extinguishing Meteors.

Scientists are having their attention called to the coincidence in the prevalence of so many forest fires in the Rocky mountains and the scientific fact that a great number of meteors have been tearing up the earth in this quarter of the globe, says the Denver News.

It has been suggested that these meteors dropping in various mountain districts, in heavy pine forests, have exploded and thus started the big forest fires that are doing so much damage. This is a new theory in the scientific world, but it is not without the range of possibilities and seems the only explanation of the mysterious origin of these fires. These fires have originated apparently without human agency and there has not been any theory of lightning origin.

Denver scientists are now making a study of this theory and in a few days will doubtless express their opinions. It certainly seems a satisfactory explanation of how fires originate in sections far from the roads of travel and the habitation of men. Word was lately received in Denver of a fire raging near Grand Lake, Col., and which threatened much property. The fire was supposed to have originated from the bursting of a meteor on a hay ranch near Grand Lake. Another disastrous fire, with mysterious origin, was raging near Georgetown, Col.

GRASSHOPPER SHOWS.

Waterfalls in Utah in Which the Entrance Fee is Paid in Captured Insects.

Farmer folks in Utah have adopted a modern and grown-up version of the "pin shows" of childhood to assist in ridding the crops of the locust pest which threatens them. The yield last year was almost ruined by the insects, so this season a series of entertainments has been arranged, to which an admission fee of half a bushel of grasshoppers was charged, says a San Francisco exchange.

The first evening's receipts amounted to 75 bushels. The greatest number on the programme was the last, when read: "The Funeral Pyre." It consists of mock ceremonies attending the burning of the grasshopper receipts. Several hundred bushels of these destructive insects have already through this clever means gone up in smoke, to the attendant delight of both old and young who assisted at the cremation.

The children in San Pete county, where the idea originated, go out on grasshopper hunts with as much excitement in view for the day as if the quarry were rabbits or coons—and the trophies of the chase are welcomed by parents much more. At the present rate of progress it is hoped that the war of extermination may arrest the ravages of the enemy.

SOME OF THE FALL FANCIES.

House gowns show rich color contrasts and a great deal of trimming. Aprons are modish, and pretty house aprons are made of blue, red or gray chambray with blue and brettles of embroidery.

Burnt orange is a color that is being revived for winter wear, and one begins to see touches of it in most of the new millinery.

Most effective for draperies is raw silk, which comes a yard wide in soft pinks, lovely blues, warm reds and beautifully toned greens.

Velvet-striped and velvet-bordered ribbons are a feature of the autumn trade. Pink and blue ribbons are shown striped with velvet in baby-gown effect and a white dotted black velvet border is along one edge of a blue satin ribbon.

The newest tea gowns are in empire fashion, with accordion-plated skirts beautifully trimmed with lace medallions and insertions. They are finished with handsome collars of lace or embroidery, lace trills edging the collars. Sleeves are elbow length, finished with several lace ruffles. Light colors prevail for tea-gowns and white is much favored.

The fancy for fruit as a decoration has extended to embroideries on dinner and reception gowns. An illustrative gown of black point d'esprit made over white satin was trimmed with embroidery in the form of cherries and their leaves, and had cherry red belt and shoulder straps. Another of pearl gray satin and tulle was embroidered with green grapes. Black grapes were put on a delicate cream lace gown.

FACTS CONCERNING YOURSELF

Each ear has four bones.
The body has about 500 muscles.
The human skull contains 30 bones.
The lower limbs contain 30 bones each.

Every hair has two oil-glands at its base.
The sense of touch is dullest on the back.
The globe of the eye is moved by six muscles.
The cerebral matter is about seven-eighths water.

The wrist contains eight bones, the palm five; the fingers have 14.
The normal weight of the liver is between three and four pounds.
The roots of the hair penetrate the skin about one-twelfth of an inch.
Hair is very strong. A single hair will bear a weight of 1,150 grains.

The enamel of the teeth contains over 95 per cent. calcareous matter.
Straight hairs are nearly cylindrical; curly hairs are elliptical or flat.
The only involuntary muscle composed of red or striped fibers is the heart.

The weight of the average-sized man is 140 pounds; of a woman, 125 pounds.
The brain is supposed to contain over 200,000,000 cells, in which thought works out problems.
One hundred and thirty-seven million cells are in the lungs, which would cover a surface 30 times greater than the human body.

GOSSIP OF ACTORS.

Eight new theaters will be opened in New York city within the next 18 months.

J. H. Stoddard, who looks back to a career of 20 years on the stage, is the Nestor of the profession in America, antedating Joseph Jefferson by several years. He has no intention of abandoning the profession.

Lord Rosslyn, who is appearing as an actor nightly in a New York theater—and they say he really can act—has adopted the name of James Rosslyn for stage purposes. He objects to being "royalized," and requests his friends to address him as "Jim" or "old man" or in any other way that will help him to forget for the time his title.

Maud Hobson, an English actress who is being touted as "the most beautiful woman in the world," has arrived in New York. On the same steamer came an English actor, Herbert Sleath, who is called the richest actor in the world. He sticks to the stage because he likes it. Sleath is a crack polo player, a clever jockey and has many rich friends in this country.

FRILLS OF FASHION.
Triple capes are a decided feature of the new coats.
Lace waists are to be as fashionable as ever this season.
This black material spangled with steel polka-dots makes exceedingly showy evening costumes.
The newest neck ruffles fasten at the bust, thereby overcoming the unbecoming busby appearance around the neck.

Narrow braids used for trimming are in best style when put on with attaching on the edges, so that they stand up.
Light-tinted broadcloth collars of goodly size and cuffs, machine-stitched all over, are a feature of the newest tailor-mades.
Capes continue to play an important part in street and visiting costumes, and are the noticeable feature of several of the frocks shown. The little cape bolero is a model in blue, with scarf and lining of bright red and white toulard and tiny gold buttons for trimmings. Everywhere one sees the cape and to devise new forms for this detail is one of the chief efforts of the fashionable dressmaker and tailor.

The damaging forest fires in Washington and Oregon the past summer is conservatively estimated at nearly $13,000,000. This is figuring at $1 per 1,000, the bare cost of stumpage, and does not take into consideration the more than $100,000,000 of value when the timber would have been finally manufactured, a large part of which goes to labor. Where the government had forest rangers protecting government reservations, there was particularly no damage. The deplorable loss is not of the individual only, but is the loss to the nation of the increase the destroyed property would have eventually added to the wealth of the country. We protect houses from destruction, why not this, one of the greatest natural resources enjoyed by the nation.

He Could Hardly Get Up
P. H. Duffy of Ashley, Ill., writes: "This is to certify that I have taken two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure and it has helped me more than any other medicine. I tried many advertised remedies, but none of them gave me any relief. My druggist recommended Foley's Kidney Cure and it has cured me. Before commencing its use I was in such a shape that I could hardly get up when once down." Sold at Armstrong's drug store.

It has not been noticed that the editorial sheet of the Commoner has yet exhaustively criticized the form in which Ex-President Cleveland lands a front or brings down a Mallard from on the wing. Is it possible that the Commoner is losing interest in the fight?

A Policeman's Testimony
J. N. Patterson, night policeman of Nashville, Ia., writes: "Last winter I had a bad cold on my lungs and tried at least a half dozen advertised cough remedies and had treatment from two physicians without getting any benefit. A friend recommended Foley's Honey and Tar and two thirds of a bottle cured me. It is the greatest cough and lung medicine in the world." Sold at Armstrong's drug store.

Since Mr. Bryan's adoption of the personal pronoun "I" in his editorials, the editorial page of the Commoner has caused a severe drain on the "I" box in the composition room, reminding one of Cleveland's messages.

Anxious Moments
Some of the most anxious hours of a mother's life are those when the little ones of the household have the croup. There is no other medicine so effective in this terrible malady as Foley's Honey and Tar. It is a household favorite for throat and lung troubles, and as it contains no opiates or other poisons it can be safely given. Sold at Armstrong's drug store.

It is announced by one of Senator Hanna's closest friends that the Senator will retire from active politics at the close of his present term as senator. Under no condition will he allow the use of his name in connection with the Presidency.

W. A. Herron of Finch, Ark., writes: "I wish to report that Foley's Kidney Cure has cured a terrible case of kidney and bladder trouble that two doctors had given up." Sold at Armstrong's drug store.

On December 9, Justice Harlan will round out a quarter of a century of service on the Supreme Bench of the United States. An elaborate banquet is being prepared in honor of the famous jurist.

There is no cough medicine so popular as Foley's Honey and Tar. It contains no opiates or poisons and never fails to cure. Sold at Armstrong's drug store.

Boast bear paws, possum and sweet potatoes, served in tin dishes on pine boards, was the presidential menu in Mississippi.

Foley's Honey and Tar always stops the cough and heals the lungs. Refuse substitutes. Sold at Armstrong's drug store.

It has been announced that the Boer generals have abandoned their proposed loan of the United States.

Foley's Honey and Tar for coughs—reliable, tried and tested, safe and sure. Sold at Armstrong's drug store.
