Reports of viewers on bridge across little Bushkill and across Sawkill at upper mill dam confirmed. Com. vs. A. R. E. Pinchot. Assault. E. C. Wood prosecutor. Bill ignored and prosecutor for costs. Com. vs. Henry Falstich and Alva Lambert. Charge, shooting with intent to injure. L. B. Hissam prosecutor. Bill ignored and county for costs. A cold wave is traveling east and may reach here by tomorrow. A bronze memorial tablet to John D. Lankena, for many years president of the German hospital, was unveiled in Philadelphia this week. Owing to a mistake, the story, "Defenceless," on 4th page was broken last week by the insertion of other matter. It is corrected in this issue. Jingo, the big elephant which was being brought from the London zoo to this country, died at sea March 12th. He was 10 feet 6 inches high and weighed about six ton. A bill permitting owners of game preserves and non-resident hunters, who have procured a license to hunt, to carry game out of the state has passed finally, also a bill prohibiting the discharge of air guns and spring guns in cities and boroughs. Dr. H. E. Emerson has left Palm Beach with his patient, Mr. Harrison, who is in a critical condition, and they are returning North. Probably they will reach New York tomorrow, as the Dr. is expected home then. John Baldwin, who has been for many years a regular visitor here, and who will be remembered by the citizens for his pleasant and social manners, died at his home, "The Rutland," in New York Wednesday. The greatest dissatisfaction with the anti-trust record of the congress seems to lie in a democratic congress. The Washington Post gravely remarks that it is quite easy to infer from the latest talks of Mr. Bryan that the gentleman suspects that his fears are well founded. Danger of Colds and Grip The greatest danger from colds and grip is their resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for these diseases we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia, which shows conclusively that it is a certain preventive of that dangerous disease. It will cure a cold or an attack of the grip in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by Balch & Son, Matamoras, all general stores in Pike county.

OBITUARY

MRS. AMANDA KANOUSE

In narrating the story of the life of Mrs. Kanouse, the widow of Rev. Peter Kanouse, the simple truth becomes one of the gracious influences which enrich our younger lives. This lady died at the age of ninety-two years and two months, near Lynchburg, Va., at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Jones, February 24, 1903. Her internment took place at Sussex, N. Y., February 27th. Her long life running through nearly a century of our country's growth. History is worthy of more than a passing notice as it was allied with all that is best in our nation's growth. She started life in Northern New Jersey, where the external circumstances of her childhood were not propitious; where opportunities of self-culture were limited. But there is an education which is neither of the head nor hand and which fills the heart, in the morning of life and which forms the basis of character in after years. Mrs. Kanouse came under the gracious power of Christ in early life and it was the crown of her character, the secret of her hope. She was a plain, thoughtful woman, believing in God and in duty, industrious, intelligent, vivacious, brave, worthy carrying forward her work as a pastor's wife, interested in the moral and spiritual uplift of the people under her husband's care. Perhaps in Northern New Jersey no community was ever blessed with more gracious visitations of God's Spirit than the charges under Rev. Peter Kanouse. Presbyterian churches were organized between 1830 and 1840, other denominations were happily affected by religious fervor resulting in the uplifting of a whole township in moral life. Doing away with a number of distilleries and inaugurating two noted schools whose far-reaching influence is felt even to this day. Rev. Peter Kanouse died soon after the civil war and for nearly forty years this venerable lady lived alone rearing unaided a Christian family and giving one son, Rev. Charles Kanouse, to the Presbyterian pulpit. She has been a subscriber of The Christian Work and Evangelist from the beginning, an ardent admirer of Dr. Fields and thoroughly interested in the themes from his general pen, which came to her as moral and spiritual food through The Christian Work and Evangelist's table of contents. The long years of her life had no effect in cooling the warmth of her heart. She retained the freshness of youth in a remarkable degree, and though so far removed from the tropical verdure of youth, she still was in close sympathy with the joyousness, the cheer, the laughter of youth. The cold winds which make havoc with gray hairs could not reach the warm heart beneath. No one could doubt in her, the power of grace to sweeten character, to beget winning courtesies, to endure the increasing influences of years with patience, to be sustained down to the last hour by the assurance of the nobler life beyond. Amid the confident strains of the church's grand old hymn "Rock of Ages Cleft for Me" her spirit took its flight from earth's winter and entered into God's eternal summer. —Christian Work and Evangelist. A Jack Knife Speech. Anent Senator Morgan's extended speeches on the Panama canal treaty, the New York Tribune's correspondent tells a story. Some one said in Senator Hoar's committee room that Morgan could talk an hour with a jack knife as a subject. The senator dropped in soon after and was shown a queer knife. He began to talk about it and continued for an hour and a half. Senator Hoar is reported to have fallen asleep and the other senators one by one vanished from the room. The subject, however, of jack knives is an interesting one. The best of them are now made in the United States, but as Senator Morgan is a good democrat, he would probably contest this statement as they are the products of a protective tariff. J. Pierpont Morgan was in Washington the other day. He visited the president and also saw Senator Gorman and Senator Hanna. We will now hear that the trusts have ordered the removal of the Capitol to Wall street. Rumor has it that Senator Spooner of Wisconsin is now to have the backing of the moneyed interests as an anti-Roosevelt candidate. Mr. Spooner can be depended upon, if he pays any attention to the story, to set his foot down upon it rather hard. The Honorable John J. of Ohio has decided to take up his habitation in Chicago and engage in politics in the Windy City. Even the Ohio democracy does not seem to offer a sufficiently attractive field for Mr. Lantz.

Methodist Church Jottings.

(By Rev. C. E. Scudder.) The topic for next Sabbath morning is, "The Forgiveness of Sins." This is next to the last sermon on the Apostles' Creed. For the evening the topic is, "The Signs that Accompanied the Crucifixion." The lecture on "Courtship and Marriage" was well attended and was very entertaining. This has brought to a close the course of four entertainments given by the Epworth League. Financially, the success has not been as great as we wished, but socially and intellectually, the entertainments have been good. They have been exceedingly entertaining and have given something more than amusement. As an Epworth League we may well feel proud of the course and in the future put forth constant effort to give our young people, good, clean, wholesome entertainments. Through the kindness of Miss Oimstead ten choice books, from the library of Mr. Winsor, have been added to that of the writer. A good book is a good friend, and the giving of good books is an expression of true friendship. He who enjoys good reading need never be lonely. People who never read except to fill the mind with trash find the characters of sensational novels poor companions for the serious hours of life, while those who have read and pondered the nobler forms of life as lived by worthy men, and true women, always have companionship that elevates the soul and cheers its weary hours away. I rejoice to learn that among our young people there are those who make such good use of the public library. It will be a source of great satisfaction to Mr. Pinchot to know that his effort to improve the nobler side of life meets with appreciation. Twenty dollars has been sent to the writer, from summer friends of our church, for the parsonage improvement fund. The amount that has been pledged or paid, thus far, is $180. We will need from $75 to $100 yet to pay for all the improvements. We have great reason to rejoice that this part of the church work is progressing so nicely. This amount is independent of the work that the Ladies Aid society are doing. The furnishings that the ladies contemplate will probably cost $150 more. Local Color. "Oh, dear, I shall never learn to skate." "Well, you are not blue about it, are you?" "No. Black and blue."—N. Y. Herald. He'll Find Her Out Later. He—Yes, I've done it at last. I screwed up courage enough to ask Miss Flight to marry me. Rather brave, wasn't it? She—Brave to recklessness.—N. Y. Weekly. Dolly Knew All About It. "Mother, what are twins?" asked little Bobbie. "I know," chimed in Dolly. "Twins is two babies just the same age; three babies is triplets; four is quadruplets and five is centipedes."—Tit-Bits. The walking sick, what a crowd of them there are; Persons who are thin and weak but not sick enough to go to bed. "Chronic cases" that's what the doctors call them, which in common English means—long sickness. To stop the continued loss of flesh they need Scott's Emulsion. For the feeling of weakness they need Scott's Emulsion. It makes new flesh and gives new life to the weak system. Scott's Emulsion gets thin and weak persons out of the rut. It makes new, rich blood, strengthens the nerves and gives appetite for ordinary food. Scott's Emulsion can be taken as long as sickness lasts and do good all the time. There's new strength and flesh in every dose. We will be glad to send you a few doses free. The more you take the more you get. Write for it. SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 409 Pearl St., N. Spring Medicine

There is no other season when good medicine is so much needed as in the Spring. The blood is impure, weak and impoverished—a condition indicated by pimples and other eruptions on the face and body, by deficient vitality, loss of appetite, lack of strength, and want of animation. Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills. Make the blood pure, vigorous and rich, create appetite, give vitality, strength and animation, and cure all eruptions. Have the whole family begin to take them today. Hood's Sarsaparilla has been used in our family for some time, and always with good results. Last spring I was all run down and got a bottle of it, and as usual received great benefit. Miss Beulah Boyce, Stone, Va. Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keep the promise. DINGMAN'S FERRY. We are on the sunny side of winter, crows, robins, spring fever and the grip are becoming plentiful. Mrs. Peter Decker of Lehman died, March 5, of pneumonia, leaving a husband and three children. It is said Alonzo Cron and family will soon remove to Dunmore and David Cron will occupy the Layton farm vacated by his brother. The poverty party was successful beyond expectation and all enjoyed the refreshments and amusements. There was an exciting contest between two young ladies to determine who should have the cake donated by the president of the L. A. S. No beautiful young men could be found and the result is that the society will have a surplus to begin next seasons work. There was an interesting discussion here lately as to the manner of candidates presenting their names "subject to the rules of the party." Since the voters of Milford and Delaware at the last election cut down from old traditions and rules, we expect candidates in future, if they desire election, to obey the people and not the voice of a ring which would dictate for its own interest. There is a scrap on here between the auditors and supervisors over the purchase by the latter of an $80 bridge from the county to replace one which was built only a year ago. Probably the court will have to settle it but our auditors deserve credit for not allowing bills until they are satisfied they are proper and necessary. Viewers of bridges should see that abutments are built with good quarry stone and not with cobble stones which are cheaper at first but cost more in the end. Rafting ties is now in order and our lumbermen are happy. Isaac Smith is very sick but later reports say he is improving. David Jagger hopes soon to be entirely well again. The old folks on the farms are having hard times. The young people seek employment in the cities and on railroads and leave the parents to look out for the old place, but when they get stranded they are glad to play the prodigal and get a share of the fattened calf. John Drake has left the employ of Mrs. Ryder. Owing to fibrat trouble Rev. Greenleaf Sinds' it necessary to abandon the ministry. THE DREAMER IN THE CITY. As down the busy street I pass, Avoiding trucks and drays, In fancy I can hear sweet songs I heard in other days; I smell the apple blossoms and I take a sudden jump As some one tramps a fearful gait And yells: "Look out, you chump!" In tender fancy I once more Look in a maiden's eyes; I see the blushes on her cheeks And hear her happy sighs; I see the lute in which we stood, I breathe the fragrant air And leap a yard as some one hawls: "You fool, stop lively there!" Ah, glad old days of long ago! Once more I seem to hear The school bell ring across the fields, In mellow tones and clear; I see the path that winds away Down to the swimming pool, And some one grabs me yelling: "Can't you see the car, you fool!" The creek is flowing on out there, And these the town boys still Go waving where the land is, at The bottom of the mill, And I in fancy hear them shout, As here I face along, In luck to dream and not be killed By something with a gun. —E. E. Kiser, in Chicago Record-Herald. Grip Remedies in Great Demand. When colds and grip are prevalent the quickest and surer remedies are in great demand. Mr. Joseph D. Williams, of McDuff, Va., says that he was cured of a very deep and lasting attack of la grippe by using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy after trying several other preparations with no effect. Notes Passed Him.

Connolly knew all about prize-fighting, and had been in the ring himself. Only once. In the second round he was pounded over the ropes, and at the finish he felt pretty groggy. "Brace up, Connolly, brace up," whispered his second in his ear, "brace up, old man, an' stop some of dem blows." "Shoo 'em?" says Connolly, with a wistful look. UNITED STATES CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION WASHINGTON, D. C. March 2d, 1903. Mr. Geo. Oakley, Columbian College, Extension, N. J. Dear Sir: For a number of years past the Civil Service Commission has experienced considerable difficulty in securing enough male eligibles in shorthand and typewriting to meet the needs of the service. The supply of such eligibles resulting from the semi-annual examinations in these subjects has not been equal to the demand. Recently, several special examinations have been held in the larger cities, but without producing the desired result. The Commission would be pleased to have you make this known to your next who may be interested. Yours respectfully, JOHN R. PURDY, President.
