SANDYSTON.

Edward Vanover of Hainesville, while working on repairing a building for Eugene Major, cut himself severely almost cutting his kneecap in two.

The new law concerning primaries caused some confusion but after a trial of this method for a year or two we will get used to it. The method of reporting that a certain candidate was out of the race is not borne out by the results.

The iron for the bridges on the new road has been lost somewhere and the work of filling in is much delayed but the grading is almost ready for the cracked stone and we will soon have a good road even if we don't get any more.

From all sides one hears the report that there are no apples and yet Rosencran's elder press is doing a thriving business and our toppers will have their cider.

Talk about fish laws, no more of them for me. I went fishing at Dingmans Ferry and fished for all I was worth till noon and never had a bite. Another city chap fished along side of me and had the same luck I had and we both cursed the fish laws and fish too.

Peter Pesch and Wes Vananen over along the river are said to have the best piece of corn in this town. Both men are first class farmers.

When our freeholders asked for $45,000 for building good roads all thought we were on the way for having lots of good roads in the near future, but as the freeholders did not certify to the county equalization board that such sum would be required the whole matter has fallen through and our promised good roads have vanished. The board of freeholders have acted like a lot of school boys in the matter of good roads blowing hot and cold according to whom they were talking. The era of good roads is here to stay and a few changes in the board would be beneficial and I hope the various townships will see that those changes are made next spring.

Alfred Bevans is building a second silo and will commence filling one this week and will fill the other as soon as it is completed.

The county press is pounding the D. L. & W. R. R. for its beastly way of getting the people away from Newton on the evening of the second of September. As for their pounding it is like pouring water on the back of a duck.

The Sussex telephone wire from Layton to Bevans is partially down and nearly all of the glass insulators have been broken by small boys throwing stones. Dr. Miller should make an example of some of those boys and that would stop the stone throwing.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Hersh of Layton spent a part of last week in sight seeing in and around New York. His account of the wonders of Coney and Luna Park creates a desire to see those great sights.

Corn cutting has commenced and the crop is the poorest known in years. The stalks are not over half of what they should be and as for ears they are the exception more than the rule.

So Centreville has waked up and two fights on Saturday night indicates that there are a few Corbets and Jeffries in our midst. And then it may be that the "Jersey lightning" imbued may have had something to do with the rows.

GREENTOWN.

James Gilpin is having a well drilled. The Robinson boys are doing the job.

Fletcher Haselton expects to build a barn.

Miss Georgia Basley is stopping with her sister, Mrs. P. N. Cross.

D. Bingham of Hawley was in Greentown a few days ago.

B. E. Cross will return to Middletown on the 20th.

Most of the schools of Greentown opened Sept. 7 with the following teachers:

Houcktown—Maris Houck.
Kramers—Arthur Kramer.
Rouserville—Miss Ely.
Kiptown—Ethel Headley.
Brink Hill—Ida Marsch, Charlotte Gilpin and Emma Kreiger.

The funeral of Mrs. Emma Humble was held in the East Sterling church in charge of Rev. C. W. Clawell. Interment in Gilpin's burying ground.

Miss Augusta Haselton is home from Milford.

Mrs. Lydia Dickson of Texasiana, Texas, has been visiting at A. F. Simons.

Clyde Barrus, who has been to Montana setting up his brother's estate, has returned.

A young daughter has come to bless the home of E. F. Gilpin.

MATAMORAS.

Mrs. Peter Mager is spending Carnival week at Paterson, N. J., visiting her two married daughters.

Miss Nellie D. Keyes and her sister, Gertrude, have gone on a visit to Lake Ariel, Pa.

Miss C. Lange of New York is visiting at Riverview cottage.

Lester Woolsey and wife returned home Sunday evening from their wedding trip.

Mrs. Jemima Westfall and family will leave their cottage on Third street this week and will move to the cottage next door on Canningham street.

Frank Halsted and family will soon occupy the cottage on Third street, now occupied by Mrs. Jemima Westfall.

George M. Keyes has returned to the city. He has been spending the past three months with his family in Matamoras.

Mrs. Lewis McKeeby and little daughter, Florence, accompanied by Mrs. McKeeby's sister, Miss Edna B. Westfall, left town for East Orange, Mrs. McKeeby's home. Miss Edna will spend a week of her vacation with her sister.

Frank Dows from Jersey City visited Matamoras Monday.

George Bonnell, the United States mail clerk, who was injured at the Turners wreck, was resting quite comfortable Tuesday.

Miss Emma Golph and sister, May from New York City, spent Tuesday with Mrs. Fred Wandall.

Mrs. Thompson Decker and little granddaughter, Regina Clark, visited Middletown Tuesday. They will be in attendance at the fair this week. Will be absent some days.

Mrs. N. Jaeny and little daughter Helen, on Cookson street, returned home from Callieon Tuesday afternoon.

A. J. Quick the builder and contractor, is putting up a very neat cottage on Main street, a few doors from Hope church, which will be a very nice structure when completed.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Skinner regret exceedingly that they will leave Matamoras some time this month and will locate at Middletown. Miss Della and sister, Nella, will be very much missed in the entertainments of Epworth church and also in the church choir, of which both are members.

Miss Cora Billman, on Cookson street, returned from a visit with friends at Ruthersford, Paterson and New York city.

Homer Quick is on a short vacation. He is employed at the Germantown bakery.

There is considerable talk of probable important pension legislation at the next session of congress. The recommendation of the Grand Army of the Republic for a service pension of $12 a month for all honorably discharged soldiers of the Rebellion, who served at least three months in meeting with considerable favor in widely different sections of the country. It is urged that additional to being an act of justice and generosity on the part of the government toward the survivors of the great conflict, it would have the effect of largely eliminating the mass of special pension legislation enacted by every congress. When it is considered that entire armies endured in a single campaign or a single day what no man would undertake for an amount of simple cash consideration, it will be agreed that the nation cannot do too much toward lightening the closing days of the men who saved the nation.

Chicago people are making money during these piping times. If they are not they are trying to. The Chicago Post says that there is a margin of some $9,500,000 between what the drainage trustees propose to spend for immediate improvements in the Calumet district and what Engineer Cooley says ought to be spent.

Senator Gorman is up to his old game of trimming. He is "in favor of a conservative tariff reform." The Maryland senator is an able and witty steersman and has threaded many a sinuous and intricate channel but his attempt to guide his bark through protection and free trade beliefs in such a way as to win the confidence of the advocates of both policies is a little the most he has yet undertaken.

His Life Saved by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.
"B. L. Ryer, a well known cooper of this town, says he believes Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy saved his life last summer. He had been sick for a month with what the doctors call bilious dysentery, and could get nothing to do him any good until he tried this remedy. It gave him immediate relief," says B. T. Little, merchant, Hancock, Md. For sale by Balch & Son, Matamoras, all general stores in Pike county.

standing collar look like a white washed fence around a Lunatic Asylum, but it didn't seem to work very well, then Kittle began to cry but the proprietor wouldn't stand for that either but simply remarked that he thought a large bunch of fresh air would do us all some good so the finish found us looking like a lot of cheap guys with a couple of chophouse soubrettes up against it. However after several long tangles we reached the street and not knowing just what time it was thought we would ask a policeman he said he thought it was about time that we were digging out of our Sappho dream or he would give us a push in the Kisser that would make carmen look like a porous plaster that had worked overtime and immediately our lady friends, who by this time could not see at all, said he was no gentleman. Now, Jack old man as it was still early, about 8 a. m., we all started for the Haymarket just to watch the people who run the place make hay. So of course we bought a couple of these things they call "night hawks" and started on our dear little trip down Broadway and I can tell you its all very well to ride three in a cab when your legs are strong, but when you have that Philadelphia feeling coming over you and one of those dear little peaches setting on your lap with a beautiful running tide who is trying to tell you between her breath and Madison Square how much her father is worth, simply puts the Electrical Tower in Buffalo out of business and I can tell you my boy that a doctor is sadly needed. However, after a few swings and a little on the level we were landed at the Market. Well as soon as we had all taken our places at a round table in the balcony, Kittle of course started right in again to have the "Willies" and we all told her in one breath that she must behave like a lady or the rest of the Queens who were drinking beer would think that she was not well brought up, this of course made her jump up from the table and she started to take the hurdles two and three at a time, and, of course, at the same moment the gentleman who runs the place was after Kitty with a club as one lady said she had been insulted, and the second lost a beautiful highball which she had just paid her little 15c for and the third got a beautiful push in her smiler, then of course all hands started in to do up our charming Kitty and her fat friend, but about that time orders were received to sneak and with the aid of a large crowd we were pushed down stairs and out into the street, so Jim and myself immediately put Dime and his lady friend in a hansom and told the driver to run for his life and a few moments later got the other stuff, Charlie Goodboy and his girl who came from over the bridge in a second hansom, and told the man on the box to follow the first ope. Well old man the finish of that night found both couples taking in the fresh air at 59th St. and Central Park about 4.30 a. m. and swearing that the next time they start to do the town Jim Stevens and Your Uncle Dudley will have to saw wood and remain out in the cold. Hoping this will reach you in safety and with kind remembrance to all the boys.

Yours sincerely,
BOB.

A Remarkable Record

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has a remarkable record. It has been in use for over thirty years, during which time many million bottles have been sold and used. It has long been the standard and main reliance in the treatment of croup in thousands of homes, yet during all this time no case has ever been reported to the manufacturers in which it failed to effect a cure. When given as soon as the child becomes hoarse or even as soon as the croupy cough appears, it will prevent the attack. It is pleasant to take, many children like it. It contains no opium or other harmful substance and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. For sale by Balch & Son, Matamoras, all general stores in Pike county.
