What is said respecting assessors applies with equal force to constables. The law prescribes certain duties and the constables constable takes an oath to perform them to the best of his knowledge and ability. If he neglects or refuses, when he has knowledge of a violation, to make return of the fact he renders himself liable to punishment. It may be safely asserted that the people are becoming dissatisfied with the non performance of their duties by sworn officials and are more inclined to hold them accountable. We have no malice and no desire to see any one injured, but it is the plain duty of every good citizen to see that the law is enforced and that every one offending its majesty shall be punished. Those who obey the law have rights and every law abiding citizen is entitled to protection. Those who disobey it are not. Constables are clothed with powers a citizen does not have and they have no excuse for assuming the duties of their office and then wilfully neglecting to perform them.

Attention was called in last week's Press to the fact that assessors fail to make their assessments a direct assessment as the law directs and as they take an oath to do. The matter is receiving considerable attention in the county, both by officials and property owners, and no doubt an effort will be made to correct the evil. The law provides a remedy and if those who are elected and sworn to perform a certain duty refuse, or neglect, they may be not only compelled to obey their oaths but likewise punished if they fail to obey the law.

Governor Pennington made a speech at Wilkesbarre this week in which he defended his administration, praised the legislature and said the time was not far distant when editors will give thanks for the enactment of the press statute. There can be only one possible way in which this may happen and that because it has afforded them such an excellent opportunity to smother themselves writing squibs about the Governor. If there is any virtue in the maxim "laugh and grow fat" the number may have added points to the avowed policy of some editors whose gardens failed.

In a recent drive through part of the county it was noted that sign boards were generally up. They are of great assistance to travelers and the contrast was marked in passing through part of Sullivan county, New York, where there seems to be considerable indifference with respect to cross road signs.

The Proper Treatment for a Sprained Ankle

As a rule a man will feel well satisfied if he can hobble around on crutches two or three weeks after spraining his ankle, and it is usually two or three months before he is fully recovered. This is an unnecessary loss of time, for in many cases in which Chamberlain's Pain Balm has been promptly and freely applied, a complete cure has been effected in less than one week's time, and in some cases within three days. For sale by Balch & Son, Mainmoras, all general stores in Pike county.

An Ancient Foe

To health and happiness is Scrofula—as ugly as ever since time immemorial. It causes bumps in the neck, disfigures the skin, inflames the mucous membrane, wastes the muscles, weakens the bones, reduces the power of resistance to disease and the capacity for recovery, and develops into consumption.

"A bump appeared on the left side of my neck. It caused great pain, was hard, and became a running sore. I went into a general dealer, I was persuaded to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, and when I had taken six bottles my neck was healed, and I have never had any trouble of the kind since." Mrs. K. T. Stevens, Troy, Ohio.

Dr. Kennedy's New Medicine, Cal-cura Solvent, Drove the Disease out of Mr. Larson's System.

A proprietary medicine that is not with out honor in the city where it is made, must be a good thing. No chance for deception there, where everybody knows all about the man who makes it.
